CONVENTION CALL.

To the Republican Electors of Pennsylvania:
After consultation and correspondence with the members of the Republican State Committee, and by their direction, I hereby give notice that the Republican Electors of Pennsylvania, by their duly chosen representatives, will meet in State Convention at Harrisburg, Wednesday, August 19, 1891, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the offices of State Treasurer and Auditor General, for the nomination of eighteen candidates for Delegates-at-Large to the Constitutional Convention provided for in the Act of Assembly approved June 10, 1881, and for the transaction of such other business as may be presented.
Notice is especially directed to the fact that, in accordance with the provisions of the last mentioned act, each Senatorial district is entitled to a representation of three delegates in said Constitutional Convention, two of whom only can be members of the majority party in said district. The electors of each district are therefore requested to make proper nominations for delegates to said convention, the rules governing the nomination of candidates for State Senator to be applicable.
In this connection the Chairman desires to call the attention of Republican voters to the recommendation of the State Convention of 1882, that they allow the greatest freedom in the general participation in the primaries consistent with the preservation of the party organization.
W. H. ANDREWS, Chairman.

A LEAF FROM HISTORY.

The Harrisburg Call, in referring to Chairman Andrews, asks the pertinent question, "Why turn him down," and thus proceeds to recite a few historical facts for the information of the Mugwumpian newspapers which, at the present time, are dreadfully anxious to secure control of the Republican organization of the state, presumably to further their own selfish ends. The Call says:

"Not many years ago, or to be more definite, the very year when Field Marshal Cooper was chairman of the Republican state central committee, and in full and indisputable command of the Republican forces operating in Pennsylvania, the Democracy carried the state, elected Governor Pattison by over 40,000 majority, Chauncey Black, lieutenant governor, J. Simpson Africa, secretary of internal affairs. There was some talk, after that memorable Waterloo, of court-martialing the field marshal, it is true; but the dissatisfaction melted away, and the Napoleon of those gloomy days to Republicanism in the Keystone state was glorified by being chosen for another term. And the judgment that gave him another trial was not untrue. He reorganized his defeated army, and carried the state two years afterwards by a high-water-mark majority that has been singularly deceptive ever since. When reaching for more terms, the aspirations of Field Marshal Cooper were nipped in the bud, but not without his consent, for he made way for W. H. Andrews conditionally. When Andrews became chairman he had the confidence of the entire Republican party in the state. He led the hosts by securing a high-water-mark majority for Treasurer Boyer in the off year, in the next general engagement he lost the head of the state ticket by Delamater's defeat, but pulled two-thirds of the ticket through by wholesome majorities. Had it not been for this assuring circumstance Pennsylvania would now be in absolute control of the Democracy. Surely Andrews was not routed horse, foot and dragon, as his battle-scarred predecessor had been. A glance at the historical ledger, in which results are coldly handled according to their numerical value, wholly outside and beyond any sentiment in the case, should furnish sufficient evidence to justify the Republican party and its representative in moving cautiously in recognizing a demand from certain quarters for turning Chairman Andrews down. There is no call from authentic quarters to dismiss Andrews from his thankless trust. Not a word has fallen from Field Marshal Andrews' lips to warrant the belief that he would care to enjoy the questionable emoluments of his responsibility longer. But there is abundant proof in existence, if particulars will only be consulted, figures, that he is a hard hitting Republican, deserving of that fair play, which is practiced by all parties having a strict regard for the unwritten etiquette that exists in a praise-worthy manner toward leaders who have never proved false to their charge."

Mr. Andrews is not a candidate for re-election, but in view of criticisms referred to by the Call it is fair, at least, to institute comparisons between the records of the present chairman and his predecessor. The Call pen appears to be a particularly sharp one, and is in the hand of one who knows how to wield it.

TO-MORROW'S CABINET MEETING TO DISCUSS IT.

TREASURY OFFICIALS ARE BUSY.

A Decrease of $13,000,000 in Cost of Revenues So Far This Year. Experimenting With Ballons to Cause Rain.

By National Press Association.
WASHINGTON, June 25.—Great interest is felt in official circles here over the Cabinet meeting called for to-morrow to consider the financial condition of the Treasury.
It is on the eve of a new fiscal year and the Treasury officials are busy preparing data upon which the President and Cabinet may come to some conclusion as to mapping out a line of policy to be pursued during the fiscal year.

From books of the Treasury it is ascertained that the total receipts for the 11 months of the present fiscal year have been $209,808,007, and for the 24 days of the present month $23,467,000, making actual receipts so far $233,275,007. With the six remaining days to hear from the total receipts will foot up, in round numbers, $400,000,000.

The total appropriations for the fiscal year commencing July 1 are $407,260,851. Unless the revenues for the next fiscal year increase considerably over the revenues of the present fiscal year all these appropriations could not be paid.

The present indications are that the custom revenues will be from $30,000,000 to $25,000,000 less than the present fiscal year, the receipts for the first five months of the present calendar year showing a decrease of $15,000,000.

RAIN TO ORDER.

Balloons Inflated With Hydrogen Gas Exploded at High Altitudes.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Some interesting experiments were made near this city during the day in the way of carrying out the provisions of the Agricultural Appropriation bill to ascertain the possibility of producing rain in the arid regions.

Professor Dyhrenfurth, an special agent of the Agricultural Department, exploded at a high altitude several balloons inflated with hydrogen gas. The explosions were of great force, the first balloon being exploded at a height of 800 feet.

The balloons were held by wires and when they reached a certain height a battery was applied, which fired fuses in the neck of the balloon and exploded the gas. It is the first time that hydrogen gas has ever been manufactured in any quantity.

The object of the experiments today was to determine the availability of the apparatus, both for manufacturing gas and exploding it. The machinery is still crude and imperfect, but its success is assured. Whether the purpose for which it was designed—that of causing rain—remains to be demonstrated.

WATCHING THE APACHES.

Troops in New Mexico Expect an Indian Uprising.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Dispatches just received at the War Department say that roving bands of Apaches have been seen in several localities along the New Mexico-Arizona border and on the Black Range in Southwestern New Mexico. A general uprising is feared.

Troops are out in different directions, and are constantly kept advised of their movements. Captain A. B. Keyes and Lieutenant L. J. Fleming, of Company D, Tenth Cavalry, are in command of the forces in the field, but as yet they have been unable to locate the Apaches' stronghold.

A dispatch from Santa Fe says that numerous signs have been seen this week, and the Black Hawk militiamen, who are keeping a sharp lookout, saw signals first Wednesday night which they supposed to be in the Cuchillo Mountains, near Edward's camp. A small detachment of soldiers, went to Edward's camp but failed to find any Indians. A Mexican just in from Monticello reports that twenty-five Indians have been seen in the San Mateo Mountains.

A Pardon Asked for Harper.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Another application has been made to the President for the pardon of ex-President Harper, the wrecker of the Cliftonville Fidelity Bank. The last one is in the shape of a letter from his wife, including a petition signed by nearly every prominent man in Ohio. But in view of the late affairs in Philadelphia it is hardly likely any bank presidents now in prison will be pardoned.

Twenty Years at Hard Labor.

New Brunswick, June 25.—Frank Cook and John Walker, the men who assaulted and robbed and attempted to kill John Foms, of this city, last winter, and finally tied him up in a room in the country residence of Mrs. Kilpatrick on Hamilton street, just over the line in Somerset County, were disposed of by Judge Barlow at Sonerville. He sentenced each of them to 20 years at hard labor in the State prison.

ENGLAND MUST SIGN.

Germany and Italy Want a Russian Agreement in Case of War.

Berlin, June 25.—The visit of the Kaiser to England will be made the occasion for a definite understanding as to the relations between Great Britain and the Triple Alliance.

The Kaiser has had several personal interviews with Sir Edward Malet, and is said to be anxious to bind England to an agreement that would have the force, if not the form, of a treaty obligation.

Italy is also unsatisfied with the qualified promises of support by the British fleet in the event of a naval demonstration by France against Italy.

It is not doubted in circles usually well informed that Lord Salisbury has substantially promised to side with the Triple Alliance in the event of a united attack upon the members of the Alliance by Russia or France. But the German and Italian governments are not at all satisfied as to how long Lord Salisbury will be in position to carry out his informal engagements which might be repudiated by a succeeding administration. Hence the desire for a binding arrangement.

FOUND A DYNAMITE BOMB.

It Exploded While Being Handled by an Anarchist's Child.

New Brunswick, Mass., June 25.—On Memorial Day Anarchists in this city held a jollification at a farm of a Bohemian named Mastalia, who lives at the extreme north end of the city, on which occasion John Most, now serving a sentence in New York State, was present.

Yesterday when the family of Mastalia proceeded to clean the rooms which had been occupied by the visitors, an 8-year-old son found in the match safe an article which afterward proved to be a dynamite bomb. It was shown to his 15-year-old sister by the lad, and while she was examining its structure it exploded, tearing the flesh of the girl's left hand so badly that it will be necessary to amputate the ends of all the four fingers and the thumb.

The boy was knocked senseless, and another daughter who was standing close by had the flesh of one hand badly lacerated.

ISSUES AT SEA.

LONDON, June 25.—A man named Meyer, said to have been a resident of Chicago, a passenger on the steamer Majestic, of the White Star Line, just arrived at Queenstown, became insane on Thursday last and died at sea. The body will be taken to Liverpool.

A Thief Taken Home.

New York, June 25.—J. Arthur Safford, known on the stage as "Jack Arthur," charged with the theft of $1,000 from Humphrey & Smythe, stationers of Columbus, Ohio, was turned over to Detective Bergen of Columbus.

BOROUGH COUNCIL.

A VERY INTERESTING MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT.

STREET COMMITTEE CRITICISED.

Property Owners Demand the Removal of the Sewer Lines.

A Committee on Law Appointed.

A meeting of the Borough Council was held last night in lieu of one that failed to take place on account of a failure to secure a quorum. The members present were Messrs. Gable, Bookin, Warm, Coakley, Borelino, Dwyer, Holman and James.

James Gable, who presided, stated that a property on Oak Street had been damaged by the sewer line created to put down in the watered-off portions of the Keshonka street, through borough M. Coakley's office. He repeatedly called attention to the fact that the sewer line was not in the ground and it was ignored. He proposed to bring suit against the borough within ten days, unless he receives a satisfaction in some other manner.

After a discussion of the matter Council referred it to the Law Committee and secretary, they to communicate with the sewer officials and have them take some action satisfactory to Mr. Gable and other property owners along the sewer lines.

Chairman Gable called for a report from the Roads and Highways Committee and the following dialogue ensued:

Mr. Holman: There is considerable work done on the streets. There have been about fifty jobs started, but none of them are completed.

Mr. Lamb: I think there ought to be a better report from the street committee.

Mr. Borelino: "Poplar street is left in far worse condition than it was when the work was started."

The Councilmen were gradually "piling on" Mr. Holman, who was the only member of the street committee present, at last, Potts and Scheffly being absent.

Mr. Lamb asked, "What about that crossing at White and Oak streets?"

Mr. Holman: "I can't make any report on that. I know nothing about it. I was taken there by Mr. Scheffly when it was pretty near finished and I told him I did not think the crossing would work. I didn't think it was much of a job."

Mr. Lamb then took the floor and tore up the crossing in great shape. "The members of the committee, themselves, acknowledge that the money was spent for nothing. We want to know what you are going to do about it."

Mr. Holman said he was the third member of the committee, and intimated that he was not being consulted by the other members.

Chairman Gable said he saw the crossing referred to, and "I think it is an outrage. The man who puts that in ought to pay for it."

Mr. Coakley said that stones for the crossing at Cherry and Chestnut streets laid on the street for two months and then the committee changed the location of the crossing from the east to the west side.

Mr. Holman: "I have nothing to say. They have the majority of the committee."

The Chief of Police was then instructed to bring the Supervisor to Council. This was done and Mr. Llewellyn said he was acting under instructions from the street committee.

Messrs. James and Dwyer objected to the Supervisor getting grades from any committee other than the committee on surveys and both said they would refuse to give any bills for grades given upon authority of any other source.

Mr. Gable said it seemed to him that one or two members of Council were trying to run the Council and which borough.

The same order was the next point of attack. Mr. Llewellyn said that the crossing was ordered by the street committee by telegraph and that he unlocked the chamber and took it on the hill near the Indian Ridge colony by order of that committee.

On motion it was decided that if the three members of the Roads and Highways Committee become satisfied with the conditions of sale of the crusher a time be appointed to test the apparatus; but if any member of the committee is dissatisfied with the terms he shall notify the Supervisor, who shall abide by the minority report and await further action.

Mr. Llewellyn wanted to know to whom he should look for instructions. "To the street committee," was the reply in chorus. "And the committee must look to Council. We are not censuring you, Mr. Llewellyn."

Mr. Llewellyn was then asked what he knew about the proposed cutting down of Main street, between Centre and Lloyd. Mr. Llewellyn said he had heard something of it, in which Council replied that it would have a voice in the matter and expected to be consulted by the street committee.

It was reported that the arbitration of the case of Mrs. Haley, of Brwawille, against the borough, had resulted in an award of $9,000 for the plaintiff. Mrs. Haley claimed $10,000 damages for injuries sustained by falling upon a pavement. The borough will appeal.

On motion, it was decided that the superintendent filling up and otherwise improve the road beds of Oak and Centre streets. A lot of work is completed. Council will at once take steps to have the property owners out in pavements and curbs.

Mr. Warm proposed that West street, from Oak to Centre street, be paved at once.

It was also recommended that the borough lower the amount in bond of Peter Hilly's to comply on Oak street.

The Chief Burgess was instructed to remove the same, thereby that encroaches upon the Union street pavement.

A complaint from Jonathan Rogers concerning a nuisance on a neighbor's property was presented, as not being an ordinance of the borough. It was privately intimated that Mr. Rogers has a remedy against his neighbor.

William Jones of North Wales street, was later charging a willingness to comply with the Chief Burgess' notice to remove and curb a soon to Council gives him the grade. The notice was referred to the sewer committee and Chief Burgess. A committee from "Squire J. J. Borelino" reported that Mrs. Margaret Benson occupies an apartment building in front of the Walsh property, on East Chestnut street, and injured her face so badly that it is feared the sight of the sight will be destroyed. Mrs. Benson claims $1,000 damages. She is a resident of Glenside.

Messrs. Lamb, Warm and James were appointed a committee on Law. It will be their duty to investigate all claims for damages done by the borough and take such steps as may be necessary to protect the borough's interests.

HIMMENEAL.

A Brilliant Wedding at the Shaffer Residence.

At seven o'clock this afternoon Miss A. Adeline Shaffer, daughter of Henry and Sarah Shaffer, of Harrisburg, Pa., was united in matrimony to William James Grogan, of Brwawille, Pa., at the residence of the bride's parents, on North Main street.

Only the closest relatives and most intimate friends of the contracting parties were present, and the attendance was large.

The ceremony was performed in the parlor of the residence, which was beautifully decorated with flowers and shrubs. Rev. William Powick, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, officiated. James Lee S. Bell, of Wyalusingborough, furnished the music, and the bridesmaid and Mr. Harry Ferguson, of town, the groomsmen.

After the ceremony the guests partook of a delicious wedding feast. The table was laden with all the delicacies of the season and was decorated with confetti of most elaborate designs, made by Mr. Henry Preston, the groomsmen, who recently leased the parlor of the Shenandoah Hotel Company. The bride cake was a beautiful and unique piece of work.

The gifts to the happy couple were numerous and costly, including silverware of great value, china and glassware, academic, expensive engravings, plaques, and other articles. Among the gifts were a fine automobile and one parlor suit, all of the best make and of exquisite design.

At eight o'clock the bride and groom departed on their bridal tour, which will cover several days and include visits to Philadelphia and New York.

The grade on Oak street and accommodation building, was one of the last items of public school business until the close of the term. Mr. Broughall, the county superintendent, a large grocery and a fine automobile on North Main street, in the care of Mr. William Broughall, district superintendent for the P. & R. C. & I. Co.
