Chloroform Killed Gladstone

Chiereform Killed Glassene. Loxnox, July 8.—The death of W. H. Gladstone, son of the Grand Old Man, was caused by the chloroform that was administered, and was not the result of the operation. On Thursday last he was put under -chloroform, but as it was found to be dangerous to attempt to re-move the tumor, the operation was abandoned. He, however, never recov-ered consciouxness, but being too weak to withstand the action of the chloro-form he died of heart failure.
