CONVENTION CALL.

To the Republican Electors of Pennsylvania:
After consultation and correspondence with the members of the Republican State Committee, and by their direction, I hereby give notice that the Republican electors of Pennsylvania, by their duly chosen representatives, will meet in State Convention at Harrisburg, Wednesday, August 19, 1891, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the offices of State Treasurer and Auditor General, for the nomination of delegates to the National Convention at Large to the Constitutional Convention provided for in the Act of Assembly approved June 19, 1891, and for the transaction of such other business as may be presented.
Notice is especially directed to the fact that, in accordance with the provisions of the last mentioned act, each Senatorial District is entitled to a representation of three delegates to said Constitutional Convention, two of whom only can be members of the majority party in said district. The electors of each district are therefore requested to make proper nominations for delegates to said convention, the rules governing the nomination of candidates for State Senator to be applicable.
In this connection the Chairman desires to call the attention of Republican voters to the recommendation of the State Convention of 1892, that "they allow the greatest freedom in the general participation in the primaries consistent with the preservation of the party organization."
WM. H. ANDREWS, Chairman.

TIN PLATE.

The increase of manufactures in St. Louis, is so great and evident that nobody should question the announcement that the manufacture of tinned plate on a large scale will soon be added to the list. There is every reason for believing that St. Louis will lead all other American cities in this line of manufactures as far as she now leads in the chemicals, boots and shoes, tobacco, beer and several other leading articles of commerce.—St. Louis Dispatch.

"The manufacture of tinned plate on a large scale will soon be added to the list," and this in spite of the fact that the McKinley tariff affords no protection to American industries. We fear the Dispatch man will have to apologize to his free trade contemporaries for committing so grievous an error. No, gentlemen, free traders, you had better get out from under, for the protection train is rolling along at a splendid speed and American industries are springing up in every section of the land, giving employment and bringing remuneration and contentment to thousands of our working people.—Lebanon Courier.

Some of our Democratic exchanges are in a peck of trouble lest the Welsh tin makers will come here to make the tin that we have so often declared we could not make. Let them come.

BOROUGH COUNCIL

A REGULAR MEETING HELD LAST EVENING.

THE STONE CRUSHER ACCEPTED.

The Apparatus to be Put on a Permanent Foundation—Borough Solicitor Pomeroy's Important Decision.

The second regular meeting of the Borough Council for the month of July was held last evening, all the members being present.

The most important business transacted related to the stone crusher. The Committee on Roads and Highways, consisting of Messrs. Potts, Schaffly and Holman, reported that they had tested the crusher and found it perfectly satisfactory. Some of the Councilmen did not consider the capacity of the crusher equal to the guarantee, but a motion that the crusher, boiler and engine be accepted and the bill, amounting to $851.27, be paid, was finally carried.

The committee on Roads and Highways was then instructed to put the machinery on a permanent stone foundation, build chutes, put up screens and put a building over the engine and boiler.

J. B. Davis, of the First ward, said he had been notified by the Chief Burgess to put a pavement in front of his property on East Centre street. He expressed a willingness to lay the pavement, provided the property owners on East Lloyd street would be compelled to lay pavements. The matter was disposed of by a motion that the Chief Burgess enforce the ordinance and compel all parties to lay pavements.

George B. Leitzel appeared and said that he, a taxpayer, had been ordered to stop dumping off in the creek south of town, but a man from Centralia was allowed to do so.

In connection with the same matter the following petition was presented:

"To the Officers and Members of the Borough Council of Shenandoah, Pa.

GENTLEMEN:—We again appeal to you to stop throwing dead cats, dogs, goats and privy refuse into the creek at the Centennial and Turkey Run collieries. When the creek is low it is unbearable. During the night we are compelled to inhale it. We, the undersigned, are suffering from the effects of it. Trusting you will have this nuisance stopped we remain,
Yours Respectfully,
DANIEL J. WILLIAMS,
WILLIAM EVANS,
E. L. SMITH,
WILLIAM GRESLEY,
DAVID HOPKINS,
WILLIAM SWINT,
JAMES FOX,
EDWARD FARRELL,
ABRAHAM BUTTS,
CHARLES FOLTZ,
HARVEY BYLER,
JACOB KRUEGER."

During the consideration of Mr. Leitzel's complaint, in conjunction with the petition, Borough Solicitor Pomeroy stated that the creek referred to was not a public highway and that the parties suffering from the nuisance would have to look for relief by prosecuting the parties who dump the refuse. The dumping is done on private property and the wrong is done to private parties. The borough cannot act in the matter.

S. G. M. Hollenpeter, Esq., appeared to present a claim of damages by Michael Pribula, a Polish stonekeeper of the First ward, who claims that $150 worth of his stock was ruined by reason of an imperfect drain in front of his property. The matter was referred to the Law Committee.

Mr. Holman said the people of Turkey Run are again appealing for street lights. No action was taken.

The Chief Burgess and Lamp and Watch Committee were instructed to notify the electric light company to remove the pole from the pavement on East Centre street, between the Lehigh Valley Railroad and Bowers street.

On motion of Mr. James, the Cambridge Coal Company was granted permission to build a trestle from the breaker of the colliery over the public road.

Lakeside Elateddof Notes.

The Grant Corns Band last night commenced practice on "Solitude," by Marcandante, the piece selected for the band prize contest.

The Lakeside Elateddof committee has been requested to make arrangements for special trains for the accommodation of Centralia, Ashland, Mahanoy City, Tamaqua and Pottsville people. Representatives from each of the places say they can easily guarantee 200 people. Minersville says she will guarantee at least 50 for the Pottsville special.

Mr. Edward Rees, of Centralia, president of the Lakeside Elateddof Committee, will leave to-morrow for Atlantic City and other places to enjoy a vacation until August 1. During his absence he will tender personal invitations to several prominent gentlemen to attend the great elateddof.

If the weather is favorable, the competitions at the elateddof will take place in the trotting park in front of the grand stand. Canvas will be arranged to protect the choruses and other competitors from the rays of the sun, but will be so arranged that the effect of the singing will be in no way diminished. Several tents will be erected about the racing grounds. The large dancing pavilion will be put in order so that it can be used for the competitors in case the weather should prove unfavorable.

The returns to the elateddof committee now show that three choirs, four bands, six male troupes and several individuals will be on the grounds to compete. There will also be a number of competitors on the trials.

'Tis a Wise Dog.

A lady residing on White street owns a dog which gives daily proof of his comprehension of what is said to him. A lady called on his mistress the other day. During her call the dog came in rather slyly, lay down on the parlor carpet and went to sleep. The conversation ran on, and the visitor said finally:

"What a handsome dog you have!"

The dog opened his eyes.

"Yes," said his mistress, "he is a very good dog and takes excellent care of the children."

The dog opened the other eye and waved his tail complacently to and fro on the carpet.

"When the baby goes out he always goes with her, and I feel perfectly sure that no harm can come to her," his mistress went on.

The dog's tail thumped up and down violently upon the carpet.

"And he is so gentle to them all, do you know, there is a woman living in my neighborhood who comes into my store every night and borrows my newspaper."

"I just want to read it while you are busy," says she, and off she goes to her house with it. About the time I am getting ready to close up she returns the paper. Have you read it?" I ask.

"Yes," says she, "there's nothing in it." Every night, as regular as clock work, she borrows the paper, keeps it two or three hours, and then returns it, saying "there's nothing in it." There is something in it. I pay for the paper every night and I think she should either chip in or become a subscriber."

"But that lady is not the only newspaper leech. A neighbor of mine who is in business buys ten different newspapers every day. His place is continually filled with dead-end readers and he is lucky when he succeeds in keeping one to take home to his family. Funny, isn't it? I believe in the old adage, 'Live and let live' and I think a paper worth reading is worthy the reader's money."

PERSONAL.

Miss Hannah Reese visited Centralia yesterday.

Claude Oerther, of Minersville, is visiting at M. H. Master's.

Miss Katie Bodey, of Williamsport, is visiting friends in town.

W. B. Bittling, representing the Nesquehanna Paper Co., Philadelphia, was in town yesterday.

Miss Edith Williams, of Oramer Hill, N. J., formerly of Shenandoah, is visiting friend in town.

Edward Johnson, of Lebanon, spent yesterday and a part of to-day in town with his former associates.

Wm. F. Schepke, representing the Dockweller Crayon Company, of Pottsville, is doing business in town.

Mrs. Godwin, of Purdy, N. Y., and Mrs. Gray, of Danbury, who were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Miles S. Rice in town the past two weeks, left for their homes this morning.

O'Boyle's Costly Caper.

On Tuesday night Neil O'Boyle, of Park Place, was a passenger on the Lehigh Valley train of which Frank Koch was conductor.

O'Boyle was under the influence of drink and when the conductor tried to get him off the train at Park Place he showed fight. The glass in the car door was smashed and Koch's uniform was more or less damaged before the crew of the train succeeded in getting the unruly passenger in tow. Yesterday C. & I. Policemen Geiger arrested O'Boyle upon a warrant and it cost the accused $11.45 to obtain his release.

P. O. S. of A. Notes.

Washington Camp, No. 200, P. O. S. of A., last evening acted upon the suggestion of the Herald and adopted as a uniform headgear a blue helmet for parade purposes.

Shenandoah's three camps have a membership of over four hundred," says the Miners' Journal. Not quite correct. Eight hundred would be nearer the mark.

A Grand Success.

The ice cream festival given in the English Baptist church last evening under the auspices of the Young People's Union of the church was a splendid success. The attendance was very large and all were well pleased with the affair.

The Secret of Success.

C. H. Hagenbuch, the druggist, believes that the secret of success is perseverance. There fore he persists in keeping the first line of perfumeries, toilet articles, cosmetics, drugs and chemicals on the market. He especially invites all persons who have palpitation, short breath, weak or hungry spells, pain in side or shoulder, oppression, nightmare, dry cough, smothering, dropsy or heart disease to try Dr. Miles' unequalled New Heart Cure, because it is too late. It has the largest sale of any similar remedy. Fine book of testimonials free. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is unsurpassed for a nervousness, headache, dizziness, and it contains no opiates.

TOWN TALKER.

ITEMS GLEANED IN THE EDITOR'S SANCTUM.

THE TATTLES OF THE TATTLER.

Gossip That is Dished Up to the Newspaper Man in His Sanctum Mingled With Scraps Caught by Himself.

"Yes," said one of our townsmen the other day, as he strutted into our sanctum. "We have some very queer people in this town. Now, mister newspaper man, do you know, there is a woman living in my neighborhood who comes into my store every night and borrows my newspaper."

"I just want to read it while you are busy," says she, and off she goes to her house with it. About the time I am getting ready to close up she returns the paper. Have you read it?" I ask.

"Yes," says she, "there's nothing in it." Every night, as regular as clock work, she borrows the paper, keeps it two or three hours, and then returns it, saying "there's nothing in it." There is something in it. I pay for the paper every night and I think she should either chip in or become a subscriber."

"But that lady is not the only newspaper leech. A neighbor of mine who is in business buys ten different newspapers every day. His place is continually filled with dead-end readers and he is lucky when he succeeds in keeping one to take home to his family. Funny, isn't it? I believe in the old adage, 'Live and let live' and I think a paper worth reading is worthy the reader's money."

"But, say, did you hear of that case at Weatherly? You didn't? It's a touching one. A young girl of that place named Ella Baer fell in love with a fellow named William Doney. In an evil hour the kiss of betrayal was given and Ella's happiness ended. Three weeks ago Doney was sent to the March Chunk jail for ninety days. For days Ella brooded over her calamity and her mind gave way. Finally she became a raving maniac and had to be taken to an asylum. Inch by inch her health was shattered; her reason doctored, and then death stepped in. Piffol, isn't it? It's a down right shame, too. Just think that the girl paid for her weakness of a moment with her life and within two months the man who was responsible for her condition will step out of the March Chunk jail a free man and at liberty to prey again the thoughtless and weak. The odds are too great in the case of a life against ninety days in prison, don't you think so?"

"To change the subject, the other day I received a letter from a friend of mine who is in Indianapolis. He says that in the middle of last January a laborer working on a railroad near the place where he lives was telling a story when he was accidentally struck on the head with a hammer by a companion and his skull was fractured. Last week a physician trepanned the skull and the man continued the story right where he left off six months ago. Funny, wasn't it?"

"I was walking—Eh? What's that? You don't wish any more? Well, then, I'll go. I'll call some other time. Good day."

Popular Excursion.

One of the most popular and cheapest summer excursions is the annual Heller excursion over the famous and picturesque Lehigh Valley railroad, to Niagara Falls, which takes place this year on Saturday, July 25th. The fare is only $8.50. Tickets are limited to 10 days and good to return on any regular train. Stop off privileges are allowed at Buffalo and Elmira (returning) affording passengers an opportunity to take in Watkins Glen. This is certainly one of the best offerings for a summer outing, and as the fare is very reasonable, within the reach of all.

MR. CLARKSON BACK AGAIN.

THE PEOPLE OF EUROPE DO NOT LIKE OUR TARIFF BILL.

New York, July 17.—Gen. J. S. Clarkson was a passenger on the City of Paris, which arrived from Liverpool yesterday. A number of enthusiastic members of the Republican National League, of which Gen. Clarkson is president, met him at Quarantine.

Gen. Clarkson told a reporter that he had visited London and Paris, had a good rest, and was feeling well. He said that he would not discuss American politics until he had been here a few days and learned what had been going on in his absence.

"Will you at once take a hand in politics?" he was asked.

"I'm feeling in good condition to do it if there seems to be need of my services," he said.

"Did you learn what England and France think of the McKinley tariff law?"

"I found a great deal of discussion on that subject abroad, and heard many expressions of opinion on the new law. They do not like the McKinley Tariff bill, but there is not so much objection made to that as to the Customs Administrative law, of which Mr. McKinley was also the author. There is a great deal of opposition to that."

Before Gen. Clarkson could finish his sentence some one had grasped his hand and began talking about something else.

"A great many Americans are in England and France this summer," he said later. "On the Fourth of July we had a great celebration in Paris. Ex-Speaker Tom Reed was there, as happy as a school boy. He appears to be enjoying himself immensely. He is doing all the attractions."

There is a good crowd of Americans in the city, and nobody calls him 'Czar' or abuses him in the newspapers. I think he's enjoying a real vacation."

"What sort of a campaign do you propose to make with the Republican clubs?"

"We will make as strong a showing as we can. I am not supposed to know the details of what has been done while I have been away, but in a general way, it is safe to say that the work of organizing new clubs and strengthening old ones will be continued with all the energy that can be put into it."

At this point some one else who had not shaken hands with Mr. Clarkson came, and the interesting statements that might have been made were never spoken.

REPUBLICAN CLUB LEAGUE.

Meeting in Philadelphia—A Date Fixed—Interesting Resolution.

Philadelphia, July 17.—The Executive Committee of the Republican League of clubs of Pennsylvania, yesterday decided upon September 23d as the date for the convention at Scranton, which place had been previously named.

The Executive Committee adopted a resolution "That the official list of clubs whose organization is not at this date entered and recorded at this gathering shall not be permitted to vote at the annual convention at Scranton September 23, and that the President and Corresponding Secretary shall issue a circular letter to all clubs regularly registered on the rolls and secretary's list in accordance with this resolution." This resolution was passed by a vote of 24 to 7.
