"Jack" Tinley in the Hospital.
In the days of the old Central Pennsylvania league, when Ashland, Shamokin, Mt. Carmel, Mahanoy City and Shenandoah were in it as far as ball players were concerned, no man was better known among the lovers of this sport than was John Tinley, of Ashland. He was a warm friend of Stevius of the St. Louis team, who at that time twirled the ball for Ashland. Tinley caught him and his playing won for him many admirers. When the league became a thing of the past Tinley decided to give up ball playing and return to his occupation, which was that of a miner. About a year ago he went to Shamokin and secured a position at the Cameron colliery. Tuesday afternoon a man was hurt at the latter place by a fall of coal. He was none other than John Tinley. His back is paralyzed and Thursday morning he was taken to the Ashland hospital.
