PATTISON TAKES HOLD.

He Calls for a Further Investigation of the Keystone Bank.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 4.—Gov. Pattison has written a letter to Secretary of the Treasury Foster concerning the State's interest in the affairs of the Keystone Bank.

He declares that the published reports of Mayor Stuart's investigation of John Hardley's default show that a large portion of the missing money belonging to the Commonwealth, amounting apparently to $15,000,000, went into the Keystone Bank.

Hence he asks that the receiver of the bank be authorized to allow a committee of five citizens to be appointed by the governor to have access to the books, papers and accounts of the bank in order, if possible, to determine what became of the money belonging to the State.

DEATH BEFORE DISGRACE.

Manager Cassell Rusted $4,000 Fraudulently and Committed Suicide.

BOSTON, Aug. 4.—It is asserted here and admitted, it is said, by one of the firm of Wilson, Cassells & Co., that W. E. Cassells, who committed suicide in the Peabody House, Portland, Me., was a forger. So far as is known the amount of his forgeries is between $3,000 and $4,000.

Cassells was considered one of the brightest salesmen of safes in the country. His connection with the Hall Safe and Lock Company, of which the firm has the Boston agency, dates back some twenty years. He was the business manager. His partners account for the suicide on the ground that he was unable to face the discovery of his forgeries.

A CURIOUS CASE.

An Outraged Husband Beaten by a Paramour.

"Squire J. J. Monaghan yesterday heard the evidence in a Polish case, wherein an outraged husband was in the position of a victim of an insult heaped upon injury.

Several days ago the husband had reason to suspect that the relations existing between his wife and a Polish male neighbor were not proper and he warned the latter to discontinue his visits to the household. The husband states, "I told does fellows to come out to my house and I would sue him if he did not keep away from mine wife."

From evidence, it appears that the neighbor disregarded the warning and continued to pay attention to the wife. Yesterday the husband decided upon a piece of strategy. He left his house, telling his wife he would not return until night. He then secretly re-entered the domicile and hid himself under the bed in his wife's sleeping apartment. After waiting for some time the husband heard footsteps indicating the approach of two parties to the bedroom. The door opened and the male neighbor and wife entered.

The blood curdled through the husband's veins like molten metal as he saw the neighbor cross his wife and heard him call her pet names. Each caress and each expression of fondness directed upon the husband as drops of water set upon a sheet of red-hot iron. The unsuspecting couple unconsciously increased the agony of the spouse, who pulled his hair, pinched himself and inflicted other self-punishment in his efforts to assuage the crisis. Finally he hotly restrained and sprang up from his hiding place, seizing the husband and carrying the guilty couple with him to the street.

One would think that at this stage of the case the husband struck a dramatic strain and warned the paramour to prepare himself for a duel to the death. But he did not. He hadn't time. As soon as the neighbor and wife recovered from their surprise they pointed upon the indignant husband "with both feet." They kicked him, punched him, jabbed him in the ribs with bed slats, tried to cut out his hair with by wrapping his head up in leather pillows, and capped the climax by tying him in a knot and throwing him down the stairs.

As soon as the husband could disentangle himself and get upon his feet, he dragged himself to Squire Monaghan's office and the guilty couple are now under bail for trial on a charge of adultery and assault and battery.

Railway Mishaps.

At 5 o'clock this morning two freight cars at the rear of an accommodation train bound for Ashland jumped from the rails of the Lehigh Valley railroad at the switch between Emeric and Bowers streets. The cars bounced along for about one hundred yards, dislodging the ties and digging deep cuts at the side of the rails and causing a delay of about an hour. A brake was torn from one of the freight cars. The damage to the road was soon repaired and the train proceeded on its journey.

As a train of empty coal cars were being run to the Indian Ridge colliery branch of the P. & E. railroad this morning several cars left the track. There was no wreck, but considerable delay was caused.

BOROUGH BUDGET.

CLEANINGS BY THE LOCAL CORPS OF REPORTERS.

THE SQUIRES ARE AGAIN BUSY.

A Boy Arrested for Stating an Excursion Train—An Interesting Case in the First Ward Court.

For some time past complaints have been made by excursionists on the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad that when trains bound for the West Point station the cars are crowded by boys and their passengers have been injured by stones, sticks and mud. In one instance a passenger had one of his fingers split open by a stone. It is supposed that the boys had a hole in the side of the train and threw stones and mud at the passengers.

Last night Constable & Iron Policeman, Harry Wood, of the West Point station, saw the excursion train leaving the English Depot Sunday afternoon. He saw a boy throw a stone at the train and saw the boy throw stones with all his force at the cars.

Slater caught hold of one of the boys, but the other escaped in the darkness. The prisoner was assigned to the Squire William. He said his name was James H. Slater and that he was twelve years of age. He admitted his guilt and did not seem to care what would be the Justice's decision upon him. He was placed in the lockup for the night and will return today. The authorities are desirous to see what the result of the boy's case will be.

Throwing stones at a train that is going at fast speed is very dangerous and the authorities are determined to stop the practice.

Pennsylvania's Great Crops.

Secretary Edge, of the State Board of Agriculture, has issued a bulletin showing the condition and progress of the season's crops. He says that will be the largest crop ever seen here, and may be safely estimated at 22,000,000 bushels. It is too soon, he says, to make any safe prediction regarding oats, but from the data in hand, he thinks it will be an average year. Hay will be a fair average crop. Potatoes will prove an excellent crop should they escape many late showers. Secretary Edge estimates 11,000,000 bushels. No report of fruit has been received. The crop of grapes will be one of the largest for a number of years, and the crop of small fruits will prove phenomenal.

OPPOSED TO SHERMAN.

The Alliance Leaders Will Try to Prevent the Senator's Re-election.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—In an interview with the Hon. Jerry Simpson he says all the Alliance leaders will stamp Ohio for the purpose of retiring Senator Sherman. "The boys are after his scalp," said Mr. Simpson, "and they are as certain of getting it as they were in the case of Ingalls or Hampton. We are not caring very much about the gubernatorial contest; let that go as it will, with either McKinley or Campbell victor. What we are after is the Senatorship. Sherman is marked for retirement, and out he goes. I don't care whether his name will go before the legislature."

"What's the matter with Sherman?" "Why, his financial policy of course. He clings to the old ideas in finance and will learn nothing new. He does not recognize that conditions have changed, and that what was a good system half a century ago is not adapted to the needs of the present."

"Have you any idea who his successor will be?" "No, that has not been given much thought. The keynote of the struggle will be to defeat Sherman. Any man who has been mentioned in connection with the place will be preferable to the present incumbent."

A MILLION DOLLARS LOST.

One of Chicago's Big Dry Goods Stores Gobbled by Fire.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—Fire, involving a loss of at least $1,000,000, broke out at 7:30 a. m. in the large retail dry goods and notions store of Siegel, Cooper & Co., a seven story building covering a quarter of a block at the corner of State and Adams streets.

The fire originated in the engine room in the basement, but in what manner is not known.

When the fire was discovered there were only twenty-five people in the building, mostly floor walkers and male employees. Had the fire broken out a half hour later all the employees of the store, numbering a thousand men, women and children, would have been on duty and a serious panic would probably have occurred.

The flames communicated to "The Leader," another department store on the opposite side of the street and did damage there to the extent of $100,000. J. H. Walker & Co.'s dry goods store adjoining was damaged $30,000, and the Emeric furniture Company sustained a loss of $75,000. Various other small losses aggregate $50,000.

If you suffer with Consumption, Coughs, or Lung Trouble, and you take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, you will find relief. Trial bottles free at Kimball's drug store.

A Wife Beater Roughly Handled by Indignant Neighbors.

Stomped by a Deputy Sheriff.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 4.—A meeting of the directors of the Pennsylvania, Lehigh & Eastern Railroad was to have been held here during the morning for the purpose of electing a president and six directors of that road. A deputy sheriff, however, appeared just before the meeting was to assemble and served an injunction on behalf of Jacob Newburger, of New York, and the meeting was abandoned. Mr. Newburger, who owns a majority of the stock of the road, claims that the meeting was an attempt to secure fraudulent action, and that he was not able to vote his stock, as it was tied up in the New York courts, the case now pending on appeal. Defendants claim that the stock held by Newburger is illegal, having been secured by fraud.
