Horrible Case of Brutality at Mount Carmel, Pa.

A YOUNG WOMAN PERSECUTED.

Looked Up in a Cellar Until She Became a Raving Manian.

The Only Clothing she Had on Made of he Old Salt Bag-Her Body Burned With a Red Hot Poker by Hor Stepmother and Brothers-They Wanted the Girl's Fortune of Fifty Thousand Dollars.

MOUNT CARMEL, Pa., Aug. 5.—Mrs. Ross Sheabinekle was arrested here during the day, and this developed a most horrible

There has been living with her, Amelia, a stepdaughter, a young woman of 25. Amelia's father died when alse was 3 years old, leaving her a large strip of land worth many thousand dol-

Since then Mrs. Sheshinskie and hor two brothers have been working to se ours the property. They mude the girl go out and pick up coal and beat her every night.

She made several fruitless attempts to escape. For many months she had not been seen till yesterday when the citi-zens of the town started out to search for her.

In a foul cellar in the Polish part of the town they found the girl. She was looked in the house a raving maniar, begging everyone not to kill her.

The only clothing she had on was made of an old salt bag, and on her neck were found several large red score, made by her stepmether, who hurned the girl in many places with a red hot poker.

Evidence has been scoured to prove that the woman and her brothers have tried to poison the girl, whose property is now said to be worth $50,000. Mrs. Sheshinski was held in $3,000 balt.

THE TEXTILE WORKERS.

Important Action Taken by the Fall River Convention.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 5.—The National Textile Workers' Association convention here voted to grant transfer cards to traveling union man; to refer the matter of establishing a monthly journal to the national council, and to save regular quarterly reports of expenditures.

A declaration of principles was adopted, declaring for the leasening of the hours of labor so that the immense army of unemployed men can find work; urging the adoption of means to protect employes from accidents in factories, and demanding the non-employment of chil-dren under 15 in factories.

The association alms to organize the textile workers of America into one grand and powerful body, and to settle all grievances by arbitration, strikes being the last resort.

Deputy Sheriffs Guarding the Property of the Vesuvins Iron Works.

SHARPSBURG, Pa., Aug. 5.—The strike of the 400 members of the Amalgamated Association at the Vesuvius Iron Works, at first insignificant, is fast developing into a contest equal in importance to any in the history of the organization.

About 40 non-union workmen are working in the plate mill to-day. So far the strikers have not shown any hostile feeling.

Every precaution is being organized by the firm to prevent the workmen from communicating with the strikers. Deputy sheriffs are guarding the mill property. The statements concerning the quantity and quality of work done are conflicting. are conflicting.

Died at the Brenkfast Table.

Passaio, N. J., Aug. 5 .- While in the act of taking his seat at the breakfast table with the other guests at Mrs. Guthrie's fashionable boarding house, Wm. P. Anderson remarked that the damp weather had made him feel dull. He had hardly pronounced the last syllable of the sentence when he staggered off his chair, gasped and died. He was 60 and cor-putent. He belonged in Boston, and came here a few months ago to manage the Passale Print Works, an establishment employing over 600 hands.

Swallowed a Silver Dollar.

FINDLAY, O., Aug. 5.—A silver dollar lodged in bis stomach is causing John Dolland, a young farmer, much uneasiness. Yesterday he was flipping a dol-lar in the air and catching it in his mouth, when it suddenly slipped down his throat. How to be relieved of the coin is now the question Dolland and his physician are trying to solve.
