CONVENTION CALL.

To the Republican Electors of Pennsylvania: After consultation and correspondence with the members of the Republican State Committee, and by their direction, I hereby give notice that the Republicans of Pennsylvania, by their duly chosen representatives, will meet in State Convention at Harrisburg, Wednesday, August 19, 1891, at 10 o'clock A. M. for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the offices of State Treasurer and Auditor General, for the nomination of eighteen candidates for Delegates-at-Large to the Constitutional Convention provided for in the Act of Assembly approved June 19, 1891, and for the transaction of such other business as may be presented.

Notice is especially directed to the fact that, in accordance with the provisions of the last mentioned act, each Senatorial district is entitled to a representation of three delegates in said Constitutional Convention, two of whom only can be members of the majority party in said district. The electors of each district are therefore requested to make proper nominations for delegates to said convention, the rules governing the nomination of candidates for State Senator to be applicable.

In this convention the Chairman desires to call the attention of Republican voters to the recommendation of the State Convention of 1882, that "they allow the greatest freedom in the general participation in the primaries consistent with the preservation of the party organization."

WM. H. ANDREWS, Chairman.

EUROPEANS are beginning to have a more truthful conception of the American people than they have hitherto had. When touring in the old country was confined to a comparatively few, and they of the aristocratic class mainly, many of whom were deeply imbued with anglo-mania, American character was not fairly represented. To-day there are ten European tourists to one of ten years ago, and the majority of them of the less pretentious, but more independent and patriotic order; the kind of people not given to toadyism, and who have a proper conception of the greatness of their own country, and have spirit enough to give expression to their belief.

THE failure of the European grain crops and the consequent demand for American cereals, and naturally the large advance in prices, have for some days past absorbed the attention of financiers as well as that of the farmers, the latter being jubilant, while the former are in a fever of excitement, not knowing exactly what to do. In the meantime the great western crops, now already harvested, are being gathered in and made ready for market. The proposition of the leaders of the Alliance party that the farmers should hold back their farm products, and thereby be assured of better prices, has not, as far as is learned, been received with much favor. The fact is, the farmers are not as a general thing prepared to adopt the suggestion. Their financial condition is not such as warrants them in withholding. They need the money too badly for that, and no doubt the bulk of them will take advantage of the present profitable prices, sell and realize.

NO LOYAL white man during the war placed his life in the hands of his colored brother but felt secure and was secure under his guidance; and thousands are living who will testify to this fact. Thousands of G. A. R. men will cheerfully bear testimony that the colored man could be relied upon as a faithful guide; and many soldiers never would have reached their homes and loved ones but for the services rendered by these people; and yet at this late day comrades are to be found who would draw the color line with these loyal, faithful men, who stood shoulder to shoulder with them through the dark days of the rebellion. There is no fraternity in this spirit and no clarity in this action, and but little signs of loyalty in a movement to thus ruthlessly deprive them of their rights.

THREE parachute accidents—two of them with fatal results—within three days furnish very conclusive proof that that kind of business is being overdone, and that while it may be a safe thing to do by some people, it is a performance that requires the exercise of coolness, caution and a better knowledge of aeronautics than appears to have been possessed by most of the men and women who have risked and forfeited their lives in endeavors to create public sensations and to make money.

THOSE who are wise will go slow in dipping into grain speculations. The temptations to take "flyers" are very strong, but, like parachute exhibitions of late, there is no assurance of a safe landing.

TOWN TALKER.

ITEMS GLEANED IN THE EDITOR'S SANCTUARY.

THE TATTLES OF THE TATTLER.

Gossip That is Dished Up to the Newspaper Man in His Sanctum Mingled With Scraps Caught by Himself.

To bring new industries into town would result in making property more salable; empty houses by the score would be filled by desirable tenants; tradesmen and merchants would be overrun with patronage; there would be work for everybody at good wages; in short there would be a harvest for all. Shenandoah is in a good location and also should be one of the busiest places in the state, and could be so if her citizens would go to work in earnest to advance her interests by encouraging manufacturing enterprises. It is not necessary to thresh old straw, for the fact should be apparent to all that a crop cannot be harvested without planting and sowing. Neither can Shenandoah harvest dollars without investing in manufacturing enterprises. It is true many men may feel that they have not the means to spare to invest in manufacturing enterprises, but let all remember that if Shenandoah was booming, business would be better, property would be salable, and that there would be ten dollars in circulation where there is not one now. Therefore a man can afford to pinch himself hard for a moment for the purpose of benefitting himself later on. In short, a person owning largely of real estate at the present time could richly afford to borrow the money, if necessary, to aid in planting new manufacturing enterprises in this town, for the inevitable result of such a policy would be to cause activity in the real estate market. You may turn it, and twist it, pull it and pound it as you will, and yet the fact will subornly confront you—you cannot get rich sitting still, nor save a town from going to seed by howling about its dullness. Shenandoah has three hundred and fifty or more widows. Two-thirds of them are dependent upon the small earnings of the children in the mines and stores and would be willing to work if they had an opportunity. It does not require a mathematician to figure on the amount of benefit that could be derived from an industry that would employ widows, girls and boys. There is any amount of labor here. We have the best railway facilities. We have plenty water and building sites. In fact we have everything except enterprise. Give two hundred of our widows employment and the merchants will have less unpaid accounts on their books.

POLITICAL PARAGRAPHS.

Remarks on the Present and Future Campaigns.

After Monday next the political campaign in this county will commence in earnest.

"Jim Smith's" political letter in the News on Sunday was very tame. The writer has evidently run out of all subject matter.

It would be interesting to know just what the Shenandoah Democratic candidates will get out of the deal.

Too much information oozes out of the county Republican party into the columns of Democratic papers. In the language of a well known character of town, "If I was a 'orse I'd be a 'orse, and not a two-faced think that thee best!"

Will the Shenandoah Democrats be satisfied with a jury commissioner? That is about all the party managers below the mountain are willing to concede.

Leininger says he will be renominated. "Jim" Smith (not the Democratic newspaper correspondent) will probably be the Democratic nominee for jury commissioner.

The Republican party is not safe when it has a Democratic bureau of information in its ranks.

Next year's crop of candidates will be a big one, judging from the large one this year for the few offices to go around.

There are no less than twenty prospective candidates for the Legislature in this district.

"Ben" Smith, the present deputy sheriff and Republican candidate for sheriff, is making a very quiet and successful canvass. He has a most extensive acquaintance and it will take one of the strongest and most popular Democrats to stand in the field with him.

To the Pottsville correspondent of the Sunday News: Get down, Smith.

TIED TO A TRACK

CENTRALIA TRAGEDY CREATES GREAT EXCITEMENT.

OFFICERS HUNTING FOR BURNS

He is Suspected of Placing Dougherty Under a Train—The Dead Man's Head Was Cut From His Body.

By National Press Association.

CENTRALIA, Pa., Aug. 15.—As the Empire freight of the Lehigh Valley Road came down the grade from Mount Carmel at 1 o'clock yesterday morning the engineer saw a man lying on the track in the main street of this village and another man standing near him. He signalled, but they paid no attention, and in another moment the man on the track was crushed to death. His head was severed from the body and rolled down upon the street.

The other man made off, but was intercepted. He proved to be Michael Burns, a mine foreman and a trusted employe of the Riley Coal Company. He said that the dead man was Anthony Dougherty, a pioneer resident of Centralia, and that he was going to notify Dougherty's family of his death. He was released and did not notify the family. Since then he has disappeared.

Burns' disappearance, contradictory statements made by him to his neighbors after the death of Dougherty, and the finding on the track where Dougherty was killed of pieces of rope with which Dougherty may have been bound have raised the suspicion that Burns may have deliberately placed Dougherty on the track to kill him. A coroner's jury has failed to agree, and an investigation is being made. Burns has been tracked to Shamokin, but there all trace of him has been lost.

KEYSTONE REPUBLICANS.

The State Convention Meets at Harrisburg To-morrow.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 18.—The Republican State convention, to assemble here to-morrow, has only to nominate candidates for two State offices—Treasurer and Adjutant-General—and yet it is attracting attention, and is given an importance greater in some respects than if its work were to be the nomination of a gubernatorial ticket and the selection of delegates-at-large to attend the National convention.

Senator Quay reached here last evening with State Chairman Andrews, ex-Collector Martin and others, Charles Emory Smith, Minister to St. Petersburg, came up from Philadelphia on the same train. The latter said that it would be unwise for the convention at this time to express any presidential preferences, and advised that he thought the platform would strongly endorse the administration of President Harrison. Of course, some approving reference would be made to reciprocity as well.

There will be a pretty lively contest for the two offices to be filled. Gen. Gregg will probably be named for Auditor-General, though Giles D. Price, of Erie, is giving him a close race. Whoever one fails to get that place will stand the best chance for the State Treasuryship, though John W. Morrissey, of Allegheny, and ex-Speaker Thompson, of Warren, are now the only avowed candidates for that place.

An interesting phase of the proceedings will be over the selection of the chairman of the State Committee. Wm. H. Andrews cannot be re-elected, so the probabilities are that Senator Quay will seek to put the selection in the hands of the candidates, which will mean the choosing of one not unfriendly to him. A fight may develop over this, as the recent practice has been for the convention to make the selection.

Caused by Cigarette Smoking.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 18.—William Shackford, aged 16 years, went to the Thousand Islands yesterday morning on an excursion. On his way to his home in the city he went into convulsions and was held by several men to keep him quiet. He frothed at the mouth, and it is said that he tried to snap at and bite those attending him. The case was called hydrophobia at first, but now the two physicians attending him say that they are certain it is not. The boy is said to have been bitten by a dog some time ago, but the doctors say the trouble is not due to such a source. Young Shackford has been of a very nervous temperament and has smoked a good many cigarettes.

Base Ball Budget.

The Shenandoah base ball club defeated the Frackville team at the latter place Sunday afternoon by the following score:

Shenandoah.....1 1 0 0 2 3 0 1-1
Frackville.....2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-2

Among the features of the game was Morris' pitching. He struck Frackville out twice when the bases were full. Toole's playing at short was also fine.

Ringhiser Won.

George Ringhiser, Joseph Garvey, Martin Fahy and George Frost, of town, and a Polish young fellow of Mahanoy City contested in a half mile race at the trotting park on Saturday for a sweepstake of $5 each, $15 to first man and $10 to the second. Ringhiser won and Garvey was second.

Glee Club Meeting.

All members of the Shenandoah Glee Club will meet next Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the English Baptist church.

PHILIP T. EVANS, Leader.

AN INTERRUPTED DRIVE.

Troubles of a Party of Young Men.

Harry Romple, Harry Hess, John Galvin and Simon, the sawing machine agent, all of the Commercial hotel, started out yesterday to enjoy a drive to Lakeside. The horses they took with them were not accustomed to working double, but all went well enough until the party started to return, when the difficulties experienced by having one horse balking so that the other animal was obliged to pull the load was eclipsed by both horses refusing to pull.

The young men got out of the vehicle and pushed it about a quarter of a mile. Still the horses refused to work and they were finally unhitched and driven to town without the vehicle. After the horses arrived here the liveryman sent a team back to bring the carriage and young men back to town. This is the reason why half a dozen young men came into town this morning singing, "We're not left yet, you bet!"

A TILL TAPPER CAUGHT.

Held for a Robbery at the Farmers' Hotel.

John Madden, the young man who engaged in the fight with Anthony Flynn last night is booked for a legal engagement with the commonwealth.

On the 30th of last July Madden robbed in the bill of the Farmers' hotel and secured $18. Since that time he has kept very shy, but last night the fight he engaged in brought him into prominence and Constables Tush and Phillips gathered him in. He was committed in default of $500 bail.

He Was Jailed.

Marlin Lawler, who claims Shenandoah for his residence, was arrested on Saturday evening at the Pennsylvania depot for drunken nuisance and indecent exposure. When taken to the station house and searched a lot of valuable jewelry was found in his pockets. This was afterward identified as the property of an up-town hotel man. Lawler was sent to jail because he could not furnish $300 bail. His hearing was before Justice H. H. Hill yesterday morning.—Chronicle.

Progress.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

Pounded Each Other.

John Madden and Anthony Flynn, two young men of town, fought half a dozen rounds at the north end of Emmick street. They fought desperately for about half an hour and when they stopped one of them was pretty badly punished.

James Elected.

The members of the county Republican standing committee met at Pottsville this morning and elected ex-District Attorney James O. Ashland, chairman to succeed Hon. D. D. Phillips, of Gordon.

Married.

Miss Sue Lindenmuth and Thomas Lawson, both of town, were married Saturday night at the residence of H. B. Hawley, on East Coal street. A number of their friends were entertained at a wedding feast after the ceremony.

Lakeside Picnic.

The HERALD acknowledges receipt of an invitation to attend the first picnic of the Young Men's Democratic Club of Mahanoy City, to be held at Lakeside on the 23rd inst.

Postponed.

The picnic of the Evangelical Sunday school and congregation, to Delano, which was to be held on Thursday, has been postponed until the next day, Friday. All are earnestly invited to attend. 8-18-91
