THE LABOR CONGRESS.

An American Socialist Presides and Delivers an Address.

Brussurs, Aug. 19.—Lucien Saniel, a German-American Socialist, presided all day at the International Labor Congress and delivered an address. He said that American workingmen insisted that the raising of a surplus by a high tariff should cease, and that the country was too much over-ridden by monopoly supported by the surplus rais-ing system. Saniel was very salvanced in his views.

Other Americans at the Congress say that at one period Saniel was a high tar-iff man and edited a newspaper in that interest, but that he has since become converted.

Herr Debei delivered a long discourse on the wisdom of an alliance between small tradesmen and workingmen in their common interest. That the inter-ests of the two classes were identical, ents of the two classes were identical, and that both were equally downtrodden by menopoly, which they should join in attempting to shellsh. Herr Bebel was greatly applanded throughout. A number of other delegates, more or less prominent, spoke in the course of the day.
