THAT FALL (?) OF QUAY.

The delegates seemed to understand that they were to do as they saw fit, and they have done it. While the ticket is in every way satisfactory to Quay, the result has been brought about without friction or dictation. The senator went west at midnight. Before going he expressed his pleasure at the harmony that prevails. * * * It is a fact that the convention was made up almost exclusively of the friends of the senator.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Senator Quay will leave for his home on a midnight train, a happy man. To-day's Republican state convention has done everything to please him, and is entirely satisfied with its work.—Public Ledger.

One of the good effects of the suggestion to send a solid delegation to the national convention next year from this state to help nominate Mr. Blaine for the presidency is the reconciliation of Senator Quay and Christopher L. Magee.—Wilkes-Barre Record.

Yes, to Patterson and Lambert, of the Journal and Press, respectively, are the Republicans of this state indebted. They did it, and Quay is satisfied.

TOWN TALKER.

TROUGHTS ON THIS AND THAT THREADED TOGETHER.

TREMES TERSELY TABULATED.
The Tattle of the Tattlers Timely Taken and Told Typographically in a Tasteful and Templing Tone.

The local theatrical season for 1891-92 will soon open. It is hoped it will prove more satisfactory than the last one. The bookings last season did not give a comic opera. In its respect our little neighbor, Girardville, give promise of surprising us this coming season, as she has a comic opera booked for every month of the season.

It is hoped the borough authorities and the property owners and their tenants will see that their properties are put in good condition before the winter season sets in. Many pavements still remain in bad condition and the streets are still well strewn with tin cans and other refuse. It would pay a borough council to enforce cleanliness in the latter respect by making an example of a few of the parties who persist in violating the borough ordinances.

Whenever you have knowledge of local happenings, have friends or relatives visiting you, or they are about to have a town, notify "Town Talker," THE HERALD office, and he will "put you on the list."

It may surprise the HERALD readers to hear that there is not a preserving jar to be had off any dealer in town to-day, so great has been the demand for them. Cheap fruit and sugar has encouraged housewives to can and preserve to considerable extent and there are a few caddies that are not prepared for the winter siege.

The ministers of the gospel are about to take a hand in stopping Sabbath desecration. A meeting of all ministers and friends of law and order in town has been called for next Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, and will be held in the Primitive Methodist church.

A man of town added a new branch to his business recently and when asked if he did not think judicious advertising would be of advantage to him he snappishly answered, "No, I don't want no advertisement." The man is now seeking a purchaser for the new branch. It is the same old story. He who does not advertise is like the man who trusts to luck for business.

NASH MASHED!

GEORGE WADLINGER MAKES THE NOMINATION.

MUCH EXCITEMENT AT POTTSVILLE
The Pottsville German Had His Fences Too Well Constructed for the Doughty Little Legal Pleader.

Special to the Herald.
POTTSVILLE, Aug. 24, 3 p. m.—George J. Wadlinger, Esq., the brilliant and popular young German lawyer of this place, has been nominated for Judge by the Democratic county convention.

Great excitement prevails here and while the Germans, on the one hand, are wild with enthusiasm, the defeated parties are loud in their cries of denunciation.
Threats of vengeance are undignified and at times it looks as if the convention will break up in a gigantic row.
Already capital is being made of the fact that Wadlinger stumped the county for Brumm against Reilly for Congress.

Democratic Primaries.
So far as the voting was concerned the interest taken in the Democratic primaries in town on Saturday did not reach a high mark. The discussions indulged in were of such a character as to warrant the belief that the vote would be a very large one, but, as one of the candidates remarked, there were too many people who had friends in both factions and did not wish to vote against any of them, hence there was a large stay-at-home delegation.

While the scenes about some of the polls were of an animated character there were no open disagreeable features. The polling place at which the most bitter feeling was shown was that in the Second ward. Some Democrats complained of Scheidty's monopolizing tactics. They did not think it right for him to make two lines at the cherry. He was not content with striving for a delegate ship to the senatorial convention, but also wanted to get on the standing committee. In the latter fight he was knocked out.

A prominent Democrat said to the reporter, "You can say that Democrat Scheidty, who is a Citizen in local politics, had his hunting looked after by local Republican Llewellyn, who is a Democrat in county politics."
During the early part of the afternoon John Stanton expressed the opinion that he would take the ten delegates of the town, but the returns showed that he had secured but four, with the chances of losing them to-day. Mr. Stanton held to this hope, however: "If Wadlinger is nominated I will be nominated for Sheriff. If Nash is named my goose will be cooked."
Wadlinger's friends claimed five of the Pottsville wards last night.

A prominent Democrat said this morning, just prior to his departure for Philadelphia: "This talk about Nash having a clear field is not without reason and I must admit that it looks as if the banner that will be hoisted to-day will bear the names of Nash and Woll. But I am prepared for a surprise. Nash is being fought by some of the men who ought to be the first to stand by him. There is something more behind the light than man can see. Here it is: If Nash can be knocked out this time there may be some show for Hon. James B. Reilly to become the Democratic candidate next year to succeed Judge Pershing and, as Reilly and ex-Senator King are working together against Nash now, it is reasonable to suppose that King hopes to succeed Reilly in Congress."

The "Demmy" Exodus.
All the big Democratic workers of town went to the county seat this morning.
Demmy Doyle got to the depot just in time to catch the 9:08 train. As he got aboard he breathlessly answered a question, "No, I'm not a delegate. I'm a seat-delegate. I hear something is wrong with Nash and I'm going down to fix it up." What would have become of the convention if Demmy had missed the train.
Squire Jack went down to adjust legal differences and see that Jere. Toomey received a square deal for the Jury Commission.
Jim Smith went down on an early train. He said, "My nomination for Jury Commissioner is almost a certainty. I am the only man who fits in between all factions."
Tim O'Brien went down with Jimmy Shields to see that the latter did not get too much Rochester into the delegates.
Mike Thompson took the 9:08 train and the smile upon his broad countenance indicated that he had the West Mahanoy township delegation in his vest pocket for Nash.

POLITICAL POT-FOURRE.

Pathy, Fungus, Piecing Points Pointedly Pergraphed.
The soldiers are all for Gregg and Morrison.

Captain James will lead the party to victory if a party united and harmonious can amount to that end, and he thinks it will.
There will be no talking in the tents this year.
Ha money in the Republican party is rounded out so evenly that no effect is member of the party has any excuse to withhold his support from it.
Let the Republic show their enemy, the Democrats, what there is in them.
Well, is General Gregg a fool or the boss? No Democrat dare make that a claim.

Now let the Republicans of Pennsylvania give a strong pull and a pull all together. A decisive result this year will pave the way for 1892 in July one year hence.
Don't worry, the Republican ticket is all right. Time to complain is over the election.
Do your duty like Republicans and all will be well.

Everything is serene in the Republican ranks. Can the Democrats say as much for themselves?
Gregg and Morrison are "in it" this year. The Liberman leaves the Green Leaf to rid himself of English tyranny, and comes to America that he may enjoy freedom and a vote to his patriotic feelings. The mystery is why he ever fraternized with the Democratic party, which is the sworn and paid ally of England. When will the Lib-American see that in the Republican party lies his weapon to avenge his wrong? To vote the Democratic ticket means to aid England in her attempt to reduce the wages of the laboring man all over the world, and to reduce him to the level of her own poverty-stricken, half-starved and under-paid working men and women.
The Republicans are united and now stronger than ever.

Governor Patton's veto of the Educational bill will lose his party many thousands of votes.
The reciprocity treaty recently made with Spain, according to English evidence is worth at least $8,000,000 per annum to the United States at the expense of England alone. And yet some loose trade organs are declaring that reciprocity is not working to the advantage of the United States.

For y-dve million dollars saved to the people of the United States by the repeal of the McKinley law for the five nine months. Free sugar accounts for about one-half of the reduction, and the benefit of this is felt on every table in the land. The other half is accounted for by the fact that lace, hats, cutlery, woolen cloth, dress goods, etc., to the amount of many millions, are no longer bought from European manufacturers, but are purchased from Americans.

The action of the Harrisburg Convention in changing the basis of Republican representation in coming State Conventions will have the effect of increasing the number of delegates. The Evening Bulletin, of Philadelphia, has made a calculation, and has found that instead of 204 delegates the next convention will have 238. Allegheny county goes up from sixteen to twenty-two delegates, and Philadelphia from thirty-nine to fifty-seven. The presidential vote of '88 is taken as the basis of the calculation, and will hold until '92, the convention of that year depending upon the vote cast in a legislative district a delegate is allowed to the convention, and an additional one for 1,000 votes and over. As next year's vote will fix the status of the conventions for four years, a greater stimulus to get out a large vote will be the result. It is singular that a better basis of representation was not fixed long ago, and now that the new rule has been adopted, those who are in the habit of attending conventions will wonder why the reform has been delayed so long. Minor county ties will be rewarded for doing better.
