THE News will have to eat crow.
It will all come out now, with Nash in the soup.
CHARLEY KING was too many for the Nashites.
It will all come out now. The ring rules the roost.
It wasn't a bad day for the Dutch after all.

THE Dutch have taken Holland again.
THEY are not spelling harmony with a big H in the Democratic party of this county now.
POOR-BAH SCHEIFLY, although side-tracked on Saturday, can rejoice with the victors.

TALK about rings! Why the Democratic party has no room to talk. The ring won yesterday.

"WHAT are we here for, anyway?" That's what the Shenandoah Democrats said yesterday.

AND no wonder the News will feel bad.

THIS is a good year for kickers. They are all getting there.

NOW LET the band play. The Democratic circus is ready for the season.

DEMOCRATIC (ring) nominations for 1892: Congress, Charles F. King; Judge, James B. Reilly.

CHAIRMAN JAMES should inaugurate a hustling campaign. The boys are united and ready for a good fight to win.

GENERAL CLARKSON says the next Presidential struggle will be so much a campaign of education that it can be won by one agency alone, the party press. If the circulation of the Republican papers should increase 25 per cent. and weekly and bi-monthly discussions he held in every neighborhood, the people would themselves win the victory for the party by next spring. Here is a pointer for our campaign organizers.

GENERAL MAHONE has issued a circular to Virginia Republicans advising that no nominations for the Legislature he made this fall, a fair election under the existing election laws being impossible. What a commentary is this upon free Republican institutions as they exist in the South under the domination of Democracy. Only one party is allowed the freedom of the ballot in the South, and yet this is the same party that is so loud for ballot reform in Pennsylvania and the North where no one is deprived of his right to vote and where all parties have an equal privilege. Our Democratic friends would have enough to engage their attention by attempting ballot reform where it is needed in the states of the solid Democratic South.

A GERMAN TICKET

GREAT SURPRISE AT THE COUNTY SEAT YESTERDAY.

WOLL THROWS NASH OVERBOARD.

A Regular German Kite With an Irish Tail—All South of the Mountain Men on the Ticket. Discord Reigns.

There is wailing and a gnashing of teeth in the Democratic ranks of Schuylkill county to-day.

The German voters have tricked their Irish colleagues and have made up a ticket with three of the four candidates Germans, and all residents of that part of the county south of the Broad mountain.

The ticket is:
For Judge, George J. Wadlinger, of Pottsville.
For Sheriff, Joseph Woll, of Pottsville.
For Poor Director, Robert Ebling, of West Brunswick.
For Jury Commissioner, Jere O'Donnell, of St. Clair.

The Democrats of Schuylkill county assembled in convention at Pottsville yesterday morning at 10:55 o'clock.

P. M. Dunn, Esq., of Minersville, was elected permanent chairman by acclamation and thirteen vice presidents were named.

After the appointment of the committee on resolutions an effort was made to proceed in the regular order of business, but a request that the chair entertain nominations for Judge was a signal for a general uproar. At least a dozen men tried to secure recognition from the chairman, who finally entertained a motion to adjourn. The motion prevailed and the Nash delegates received their first shock.

At 12:45 the convention was again called to order and at 1 o'clock the committee on resolutions reported. The resolutions were of the usual order, condemning all Republican officeholders and everything Republican, and lauding all Democrats and their acts.

Chairman Dunn evidently anticipated trouble, for immediately after the reading of the resolutions he gave warning that he would brook no interference with the work of the convention and threatened ejection for all who failed to heed his warning.

Nominations were then made for Judge. Ashland went solidly for Nash and matters went swimmingly for that candidate until Mahanoy City was reached, when the delegates from that place yelled "Wadlinger" in one—two—three order. Minersville also went for Nash, but Pottsville and Shepardsville split. The latter place gave Nash but four of her ten votes. He had claimed all of them.

Wadlinger was nominated on the following vote:

Wadlinger.....5,185
Nash.....4,345
The nominees for Sheriff were Frank P. Langton, Ashland; John T. Quinn, Mahanoy City; Joseph Woll, Pottsville; Fred Krapp, Ashland; John Stanton, Shenandoah. Krapp's name was subsequently withdrawn in favor of Langton.

Woll was nominated on the first ballot. The vote was:

Woll.....5,382
Langton.....1,947
Quinn.....1,675
Stanton.....1,201

The result was an incentive for complaints that "Pottsville and the Dutch are getting all" and Joseph Nichter was placed in the race for Poor Director to make the ticket as much Pottsville's as possible. There were seven candidates. Ebling led on the first ballot with 3,959 votes. Leininger was sixth with but 324 votes. Bergen was second in the race with 1,554 votes and Nichter third with 1,400. Gintley and Kinney stood no show, having but 184 and 536 votes, respectively. The Germans were the people.

On the second ballot Ebling was nominated, he securing 3,721 votes. Nichter was second with 1,681.

The Germans appeared to be satisfied with what they had secured and were indifferent in regard to the Jury Commissioner, for which six men were named.

On the first ballot O'Donnell secured 3,400 votes. Jere Toomey, of Shenandoah, was second with 1,547 and James Smith, of Shenandoah, third with 1,487.

On the second ballot O'Donnell was nominated, receiving 4,340 votes. Smith had bounded into second place with 1,176 votes and Toomey was third with 648.

DEMOCRATIC SCENARIOS.
Democrats of Schuylkill the eyes of the people are on you to-day.—Chronicle. Where are they now?

Those in a position to know maintain that Shenandoah delegation had been seen after the close of the morning session.—Journal. So Shenandoah got the boodle and the other towns the offices.

Our Republican contemporaries have a hard time locating the Chronicle on the judgeship. One asserts that we favored Wadlinger and the other that we were for Nash. The fact is that we are for the man that is nominated and he will be the man that will be elected too.—Chronicle There must have been a dense fog in the county for several days past.

DEUTSCHE DEMOCRATEN!

Endlich Haben Wir Einen Sieg Gewonnen.

Endlich haben die Deutschen in Schuylkill county einen Sieg in der Democraticischen Partei gewonnen.

Ein Jahr neber das andere haben wir fest mit der Democraticischen Partei gestanden und besonders wenn es uns notwendig brauchten, aber jedesmal wurde unser Verdienst mit Niederlage bezahlt. Nun sind wir Deutsche in Schuylkill county an der Spitze.

Wir kaempfen fuer unsere rechts und wire haben gewonnen.
Lass dieses eine lection sein fuer den Eirischen.

DEUTSCHE STIMMER.

POLITICAL POT-POURRI

Pithy, Pungent, Pleasing Points Pointedly Paraphrased.

Smith, Smith. Seems that we've heard that name before.

No Irish need apply. Take a squint over the Democratic ticket nominated yesterday and the reason is plain enough.

"Jim Smith" of the News, wasn't so sure on Sunday. He knows a great deal more now.

The above illustrates Jim Smith's position on the night of the primaries—"I'm the only man named for Jury Commissioner who will just fit in, no matter how the rest of the ticket may stand."

The above illustrates his position after the convention yesterday.

What's longer longer now, my dear? I am no longer wanted here. They've taken us in with a terrible soap and Johnny Nash is in the soup.

Will ye all be there, when I murder Paddy Flynn?
Will ye all be there, when the fun will begin, etc., etc.

The campaign will now commence in earnest.
Somebody says Ex-Sheriff Matz's fine hand was noticed in the Democratic convention yesterday.

Where was Deacur Nice when the light (Nash) went out?
Nichter, as usual, wasn't in it this year. It will all come out now.

Johnny Nash, he had the cash, but Wadlinger got the votes. And when he got there, he had plenty to spare, but Stanton was not "up to snuff."

CRUISE—I believe it, for my mother told me so, etc.

Poor Policy.

One would imagine that the Ringtown Agricultural Society is in a financial condition warranting the expenditure of a reasonable amount of money in printers' ink to call attention to its fair, which is to be held this week; but it does not seem to be the case. It has had its printing done by amateurs, and if the fair does not materialize to better advantage than its advance work it will be poor indeed.

FOR THE SCHOOLS.

Second Hand Books at Half Price.
Have just purchased a large invoice of second hand school books, almost new, which I will sell at half price. A specialty in high school books.

Also, 5,000 tablets, formerly sold at 15 cents, now 5 cents.
Come early before all gone.

BOTH MEN DEAD.

AN EXPLOSION OF GAS WITH FATAL RESULTS.

TWO POLISH MINERS DIE IN AGONY

Sensational Charges Made Against the Fire Boss of the Colliery. The Coroner to Make an Inquiry.

The Polish miners who were burned by an explosion of gas in Pecker No. 4 colliery on Saturday are dead. Their bodies are now at the homes of the widows on Raspberry alley in this town.

The men were Joseph Piper, aged 26 years, and Anthony Miskell, aged 40 years. The men were brothers-in-law. Miskell leaves a widow and three small children. Piper is survived by a widow and one child.

If the story told by the friends of the deceased is true the case is a startling one. Deputy Coroner Brennan has summoned a jury, but has decided to devote a week to investigating the grave charge and will not hold the inquest until next Tuesday evening.

The friends of the deceased say that they will show at the inquest that on Saturday morning, as Miskell and Piper were on their way along the gangway to their breast they met the fire boss, who told them that he had not examined their place, but they could go into it.

Of course the statements of the deceased's friends must be accepted with some allowance and judgment should be held until the Coroner completes his investigation.

PERSONAL.

H. W. Krause, who formerly ran the restaurant at Lakeside (East Mahanoy Junction) is spending a few days in town.

John Wadlinger, of Mahanoy City, was in town last evening.

W. J. Jacobs and family are spending the week at Atlantic City.

Squire Shoemaker and wife left this morning for Atlantic City, where they will spend the balance of the week.

J. J. Coyle, Esq., of Mahanoy City, was a visitor to town this morning.

William Rosewalt and A. Womer went to New Jersey yesterday, on a business trip.

John Barnhardt spent yesterday afternoon at Girardville.

E. W. Wilde, the music teacher of town, has a band in Raven Run and one in Wigan's under his instruction.

Miss Catherine James, who spent the past few weeks in New York state with friends, is home again.

Miss Mame Snyder, of Philadelphia, left for her home yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Broughall were visitors at Reading yesterday.

Lost Creek Vanquished.

The Lost Creek base ball aggregation with their pet team came to town last Saturday determined to wrestle a victory from our strong O. P. C. club, but, as the saying goes, they were not in it. Our boys were in good trim and easily subdued the enthusiastic spirit of the visitors. The game commenced with Lost Creek's famous Griffin in the box. His world-renowned curves failed to work miracles and the ball was banged to all parts of the field. Scanlan, the O. P. C. pitcher, proved an enigma to the visitors, who secured but one hit from his delivery. In the third inning, when the score stood 10 to 2 in favor of the O. P. C. club, the umpire declared a runner out and the Lost Creek players kicked vigorously. They refused to continue the game and left the field. It was evident that they saw a heavy defeat staring them in the face and they took advantage of the decision as a loop-hole for escape from ultimate annihilation. The O. P. C. club is ready for their again.

ASHLAND, Aug. 25.—At the Democratic Senate local convention held here this morning James J. Francy, of Shenandoah, and J. O. Ulrich, of Tamaqua, were elected delegates to the constitutional convention.

NEW INDUSTRY.

Enterprise of a Sagacious Austrian—Important to Women.

Philadelphia has within its borders an industry entirely new in this country. Its coming from far off Austria was caused by the McKinley bill, and its promoter, Joseph Volland, of Vienna, once an officer in the Emperor's army, is confident that his enterprise will be cordially treated.

No longer will fashionable dames, poorly dressed and high art decorators have to look to foreign lands for gold, silver and bead embroidered dresses and bonnets, the finest vestments and fancy work of film and gauze. The reason is that Mr. Volland, who for years enjoyed the favor of Austria's royal family, Spain's Queen and the dignitaries of the continent, has associated himself with John Wadlinger, well-known in Central Pennsylvania as an independent coal operator, in the manufacture of art and machine embroidery.

To make their finery the most delicate machinery had to be imported. A part has already arrived and is now in operation at the firm's establishment, 3023 and 3025 Orkney street. Sixteen more embroidery and lace machines are now on the way. The work turned out will be embroidery in gold and silver bullion, beads, pearls, chenilles, silk cord and braid, and tabliers, garnitures, gold and silver tulle trims, curtains, bridal veils, vestments, Brussels lace curtains, all kinds of delicate church goods, flags, aprons, veiling and the like.

The machinery used cannot be duplicated in this country and the accessories of manufacture, excepting silk, are all imported. Mr. Volland did a thriving trade in his country in the manufacture of vestments for Roman Catholic clergymen in the United States, but their original cost, with the sixty per cent. duty put upon them by the new tariff, made it a profitable investment to remove the seat of manufacture here, where they can be turned out at 15 to 25 per cent. less.

A little over eight months ago the enterprising Austrian came over. The business has been well capitalized and the manufacture of samples for the trade is now under way. The delay in getting goods in the market has been caused by the necessity of instructing hands in the work. It is of that delicate sort that none but women's delf fingers can handle, and it gives promise of a new field of profitable labor for them. Already sixty learners have been advertised for, several of the original hands being now sufficiently expert to instruct.

For the wealthy society belle, to whom dollars are as cents to ordinary mortals, the new enterprise opens up a world of delightful society vision. Think of a skirt laden with gold and silver and sparkling gems. These in exclusive designs, such as no rival can secure. The reason for this is that Mr. Volland is his own designer and his experienced pencil draws out the richest patterns. They can be made to order and destroyed after use. Where the benefits of the Ohio statesman's sagacity will end it is difficult to determine.

Club Organized.

A Democratic club was organized at Yatesville last evening, 60 members being enrolled. The officers elected were: President, James J. Donlin; Vice President, John J. Shay; Secretary, P. J. Whalen; Treasurer, M. J. Burke. The club meets every Thursday evening. The voters of the patch are wild over the result of yesterday's nomination.

THE GREAT FRENCH PHILOSOPHER Said, "The man who discovers a cure for the superfluous pains of gout and rheumatism is greater than any metaphysician." The Braxiatu Indians have done more in the Cactus Blood Cure, since it lays the axe at the root of all diseases, by simply purifying the blood, neutralizing the poisons of scurvy and specific disease. No minerals, no failures, no rivals.

The days are decreasing very fast, and soon they will only be as long as the nights.
