THE SURE ROAD TO OPULENCE LIES KNEE-DEEP THROUGH PRINTER'S INK

STUBBORN DALZELL.

The Wilkes-Barre Record, which was with the opposition against Quay, says: Mr. Dalzell disappoints a great many of his friends in refusing to accept Mr. Robinson's proposition, for both to retire from the League president contest in the interest of party harmony.

Chairman Waters is sufficiently disinterested to give an unbiased opinion in the matter, and when he states very pointedly that the interests of the party would be served by Dalzell's acceptance of Robinson's proposition, the Allegheny Congressman ought to acquiesce like a good patriot. Chairman Waters appreciates the fact that to win this fall it is necessary to settle every discord within the party ranks. The contest for president of the League of Republican Clubs has already caused considerable trouble, and if the fight at the convention should grow unusually hot, as is promised, it would cause sores that might not be healed before the November election.

Mr. Dalzell is too big a man anyhow to be the centre of a factional contest, for a petty office that, if even captured, would not bring him any particular prestige. If the office was really worth fighting for, there might be some excuse for his refusal to forego the pleasure of occupying it? And, moreover, there is no certainty that he will be elected to it even if he should make a desperate struggle for it. His refusal to compromise with Robinson does not add to his strength by any manner of means, and apart from this element of weakness he lacks the necessary number of votes to assure his election.

SIGNS OF PROSPERITY.

The Philadelphia Times referring to the business done by the railroads this year says: One of the most significant signs of early business prosperity is given in the statements of the earnings of the Pennsylvania and Reading Railways. These two great corporations may be accepted as unerring barometers of the conditions of commerce, industry and trade throughout the land. The Pennsylvania is the greatest of all our great arteries of commerce for transporting the wealth of the country into our leading marts of trade, and the Reading is an equally true index of the condition of our great mining and industrial enterprises.

The comparative statements of both these lines for July, 1890 and 1891, are especially gratifying. The Pennsylvania shows an increase of net earnings amounting to $429,000 on the lines east of Pittsburg, and for seven months of the year, including six months of general prostration of trade, the increase in net earnings on the same lines was $550,000. The lines west of Pittsburg also show an increase in net earnings of $131,000 for the month of July, and an increase of net earnings for the seven months of $341,000.

The Reading shows an increase of nearly $100,000 in gross receipts for the month of July, with a slight decrease of expenses. Its increase in gross receipts for the seven months of the year amount to $410,000 and the decrease in expenses is $87,000, showing a gain of nearly $500,000. The Reading Coal and Iron Company shows an increase of $34,000 in gross receipts for the month, and an increase in gross receipts for the seven months of the year of $960,000. In both lines the chief increase has been during the last month, showing that there is a general quickening of industry and trade throughout the whole country.

All this is proof of general prosperity of a growth in trade that is solid and and promises to be enduring. Unless all signs fail the coming fall and winter will witness unusually heavy business.

THE BIG PARADE.

AT ST. CLAIR ON LABOR DAY,
SEPTEMBER 7.

SHENANDOAH GETS RIGHT OF LINE

How the P. O. S. of A. and Jr. O. U. A. M., North of the Mountain, Will Appear—Large Turnout Expected.

The joint committee of the Jr. O. U. A. M. and P. O. S. of A., of town, have completed the train arrangements for the trip to St. Clair Sept. 7. The special will leave the Pennsylvania depot at 8:30 a. m., and return in the evening at 5:00, 7:20, 9:40. The fare will be only 35c for the round trip. The company are ranging to carry at least 1000 passengers.

Camp 103, of Centralia, and camp 38, of Montana, have chartered a car on the L. V. road for the occasion. It will be beautifully decorated. The Centralia Cornet Band will accompany them.

Camp 72, of Delano, will turn out 42 men, wearing blue felt helmets, blue cloth military sack coat and pants, and carrying rifles.

Commandery 14, S. of A., of town, will be accompanied by the Patriotic Drum Corps, of this town, eleven pieces. The commandery expects to have at least thirty-five men in line.

Camp 235, P. O. S. of A., of Lost Creek, will wear new blue cloth caps, white shirts and red belts, and carry canes, furnished by R. H. Morgan, of town. They will be accompanied by the Liberty Cornet Band, of Lost Creek.

A special train on the L. V. road will carry the Mt. Carmel camp, of P. O. S. of A., and the council of Jr. O. U. A. M., Commandery 21, S. of A., of Mahanoy City, will turn out forty-five men, and will be accompanied by music.

Council 111, Jr. O. U. A. M., of Mahanoy City, will have 30 uniformed men in line and will be accompanied by their uniformed drum corps of 10 pieces. Their uniform will consist of a white fannel coat with red collar, blue helmet, and cane, manufactured for them by R. H. Morgan, of town.

The Grant Band will give a concert in the afternoon, by special request of the St. Clair committee of arrangements.

The camp of town will be led by "our only" Grant Band of 30 pieces.

The three camps will turn out at least 400 members.

Camp 294, P. O. S. of A., of Gilberton, will turn out strong and be accompanied by a drum corps.

Camp 66, of Frackville, will have a band with them in line.

The Lehigh Valley road will sell round trip tickets on that day from Shenandoah and Mahanoy City at the low price of 35 cents.

Kingtown will send a large delegation from their camp of the P. O. S. of A. and council of Jr. Mechanics.

Camp 125, of Girardville, will turn out 100 men, wearing blue caps, white shirts and red belts. They are a well-drilled body, and will exercise some fine movements. They will be accompanied with a band.

Council 307, Jr. O. U. A. M., of town, have secured a drum corps from Jackson's to lead them in the parade. This council will turn out 28 uniformed members in white sack coats with red collars, navy blue yachting cap and carry canes. They have been taking great interest in the past two weeks in their drills, and under the captaincy of Thomas Sanger they will present a good appearance. R. H. Morgan furnishes the uniforms.

S. L. Brown has been selected as marshal of the Shenandoah division, which will have the right of line, with the Grant Band.

The P. M. church trustees have offered the use of their second floor to the Shenandoah camp and commandery, and the offer has been accepted, and it will be headquarters for the Shenandoah boys.

The people need not be afraid of going hungry in that town on September 7th, as lunch stands will be as prolific as flies in summer. St. Clair people have always been equal to the occasion.

The arches are now under way and there will be several handsome ones on the main street.

YEISLEY AGAIN.

He Has Been at Reading and Norristown.

The Pennsylvania Telegram, published at Reading takes Rev. Martin L. Fritch, once of Reading, to task for certain dealings with the people of Norristown in connection with one Yeisley and wife. It seems that Rev. Fritch, who was deposed from the ministry at Reading some time ago, has represented himself to the people of Norristown as a canvasser for a journal called The Ladies' Friend, the money collected to be used for the education of Yeisley for the ministry. The Telegram charges Fritch and Yeisley with duping the people and says, concerning the latter, "from all accounts Yeisley was an all-around bad egg. Before he boarded here he boarded with a lady named Underkoffler, who had to sue for what rent was due her. While here he paid another bill which had been running several years. It is thought that Yeisley is not at Pittsburg as he left word when he left here that he was going there to spend his vacation. His wife is doubtless with him. Right here it may be well to state that Mrs. Yeisley is or seems to be, the business head of the Yeisley household. Her name was Sadie Oberdorfer before it was Sadie Yeisley, and she came from Millinburg, Pa. Yeisley, in addition to his other accomplishments, claimed to be a mind reader and lace reader. Altogether he and Fritch appear to be a profane pair and deserve showing up."

Yeisley is not a stranger to the people of Shenandoah. It will be remembered that he came here about two years ago and purchased the old Enterprise plant on the installment plan. He changed the name of the paper to the Shenandoah Standard, but after trying for about eight weeks to revolutionize local journalism he dusted out with his wife and child, leaving several mourning compositions and merchants.

Yeisley, in working upon the business men during his brief stay here, laid great stress upon the statement that he had studied for the ministry and his godly, steady appearance, together with his statement, aided him in securing considerable printing at prices for which the stock could not be purchased.

But the Shenandoah people didn't know half as much about Yeisley as they did after the HERALD republished an article published in the Shenandoah Dispatch shortly after his disappearance from this place. The Dispatch referred to the man as "the irrepressible and scheming J. W. Yeisley, he of installment fame and Traveler's Journal notoriety; who left the sunny banks of the Susquehanna because he was shown up in his proper colors; he who endeavored to defraud innocent purchasers out of hard earned money by misrepresentations while he was canvassing Shenandoah for business," etc.

Yes, we know of Yeisley and if the Pennsylvania Telegram wishes to publish another chapter of his career it can secure material by writing to the newspaper man of Shenandoah and Sunbury. A copy of the Shenandoah Dispatch of November 18, 1889, furnishes interesting reading.

MADDEN ARRESTED AGAIN.

This Time Arrested for Robbing an Old Man.

John Madden, who is under bail for trial on a charge of robbing the till in the Farmers' hotel barroom, was yesterday taken to the county jail with Matt Fahy for robbing an old man named Bernard Monaghan.

Monaghan and another old man named William Conners "back" in a shanty in the First ward. Madden, Fahy and another young man entered the shanty and, finding Monaghan alone, assaulted and robbed him, securing a little over $2 in cash. The police are on the lookout for the third party.

Wait for Bargains.

J. Coffee has gone to Philadelphia and New York to purchase a stock of goods for both his South Main street stores. He will be absent ten days and will bring back with him the largest and finest stock of boots, shoes, clothing and gent's furnishing goods ever brought to this town. Parties in search of bargains in this line of goods should watch for his return as he will sell his purchases at the most reasonable prices imaginable. The stock will be first class in every particular. Watch for Coffee's return.

Obituary.

The seven-month-old son of John T. Stanton, of the First ward, died yesterday. The funeral will take place at 2:30 to-morrow afternoon.

Mrs. Thomas Scania, of East Oak street, died yesterday after an illness of over a year.

Last Picnic.

Columbia park will be abandoned next September, as the site will thereafter be used as a dumping ground for the Kehler Run colliery. The last event to be held in the park is a picnic of the Columbia Glee Club, to be held on Saturday, September 12th. 8:20-1w

School Board.

A regular meeting of the School Board will be held to-morrow evening, in the superintendent's office.

A MISS AND HIT.

A LIVELY CHASE AFTER A STOLEN HORSE.

AN EARLY MORNING CAPTURE!

A Law and Order Meeting Held Last Night—Legal Advice to be Taken Before Commencing Work.

On Saturday evening Chief of Police Amour received the following telegraphic dispatch from O. J. Kuttler, of Weatherly: "Stolen, Bay mare and harness; weight about 1000 pounds. Also red painted cars, blanket and whip. Thief is a slim man about 32 years old, brown mustache, grey suit on, smooth hat; name, Charles Johnson, or Thompson. Arrest him and wire."

Shortly after the receipt of the above Chief Amour was informed that two strange men had tried to sell a horse and wagon at the Commercial Hotel and had gone to Ashland. Amour sent two men, one of them Fred H. Hopkins, to Ashland. They found the strangers there with the horse and wagon. One of them was identified as being a cattle dealer named Weller, of Middleburg, who travels through this region occasionally, and he vouched for his companion, who, he said, was "Dr. H. S. Darwin, of Baltimore, Md." The horse and wagon did not tally with the description given in the Weatherly dispatch, and Hopkins and his companion returned to town.

At four o'clock this morning Louis Bolich, an Ashland fireman, arrived in town, accompanied by J. C. Bower, of Daboktown, Lycoming county. They were in search of a roan mare and a buggy. The mare was stolen from Bower's stable a week ago. After searching several stables in town Chief of Police Amour accompanied the two men to William Penn and found the mare and buggy in possession of William Taggart, of that place, who said he purchased the mare and buggy from two men answering the description of Weller, the cattle dealer, and "Dr. H. S. Darwin, of Baltimore, Md." Taggart said he paid $125 to the men.

Mr. Bower took the mare, and Bolich claimed the buggy. He said he traded the buggy for the wagon that Bower claims was stolen with the mare.

Taggart to-day had a warrant issued by "Squire Williams for the arrest of "Dr. Darwin" and Weller. It is said that "Darwin" bought a ticket at Ashland yesterday for Philadelphia. He wanted a ticket for Baltimore, but the agent could not sell him one.

LAW AND ORDER.

The Movement to Prevent Desecration of the Sabbath.

In pursuance of the arrangements made at the meeting held in the Primitive Methodist church on Sunday by several clergymen of town, a meeting was held in the Protestant Episcopal church, on East O-k street, last night. At the Sunday meeting it was agreed that the pastors present would ask their respective congregations to appoint three members to attend last night's meeting and devise some means by which the desecration of the Sabbath may be prevented.

Rev. H. G. James, pastor of the English Baptist church, was made chairman of the meeting last night and James G. Hutton secretary.

The following record of attendance was made: English Baptist church—Rev. H. G. James and George Pillingier. Welsh Baptist church—Edward Capper and John R. Jones. Welsh Congregational church—John J. Phillips and Charles Jones. Methodist Episcopal—Rev. Powick, Charles Hooks, M. Vernoy and Dr. Callen. Presbyterian—J. G. Hutton, R. A. Glover and William Glover. Primitive Methodist—Stephen Trogumbo and Fred. Acornley. Evangelical—W. J. Seltzer, George Wegner and J. H. Kester. Protestant Episcopal—Rev. Floyd E. West, Charles Haskins and Richard Horrell.

Messrs. Hooks, Vernoy, Seltzer, Wagner and Kester said they were not delegated by their churches to attend the meeting and when J. H. Kurtz was asked to speak he said: "I have nothing to say, because I don't like the organization of this meeting. There are members here who haven't got their churches at the back of them and I think we had better do nothing than to make a mere sham."

James G. Hutton endorsed Mr. Kurtz's sentiments.

J. H. Kester thought the meeting was premature. He said he was ready to do all he could, but he wanted his church at his back. Before he could act officially the matter would have to be brought before the board of trustees of his church. Messrs. Hooks, Vernoy and Callen were in the same boat.

Mr. Pillingier wanted to adjourn; Mr. Capper wanted a committee appointed to see Rev. H. F. O'Reilly, of the Annunciation church; Mr. Hutton thought some thing ought to be done in relation to the conduct of young folks on the streets Sunday nights; Mr. Horrell wanted a communication sent to the P. O. S. of A. camps for their co-operation, and Dr.

Callen thought the movement should be confined to the churches.

Then the jurisdiction of the base ball ground in the trotting park was discussed. Meanwhile Dr. Callen left the meeting. Some thought the ground was in the borough limits, while others thought it was in East Mahanoy township. Rev. Powick said he could not see that it made any difference whether the ground was in the town or the township. Dr. Callen returned and said he had just seen Surveyor S. A. Boddall, who assured him that the ground was within the borough limits.

Rev. James thought a lawyer should be consulted to see just what can be done to prevent Sabbath desecration. Mr. Pillingier did not think it was necessary to go to the expense of hiring a lawyer, whereupon Mr. Kurtz said, "we are all here as citizens and taxpayers and we have a borough collector and he is our servant. If we go to him for legal advice I don't see why he should not give it to us as citizens."

Mr. Kurtz also spoke of logs of beer being carried up the mountain on Saturday nights and young men coming down on Sunday, drunk. The playing of quoits, baseball, etc., on Sundays in the streets and alleys was also complained of and special complaint was made against the base ball ground at the east end of town.

It was finally decided that Messrs. J. H. Kurtz, George Pillingier and R. A. Glover were appointed a committee to consult with Borough Solicitor Pomroy and others to see just what can be done and the meeting adjourned to meet in the Welsh Baptist church on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

RE-UNION OF VOLUNTEERS.

A Very Enjoyable Time at Port Clinton.

A re-union of members of companies A and G, 48th Pennsylvania Volunteers, was held at Port Clinton on Saturday afternoon. H. L. Walker and William J. Hickey, of March Creek; Jonas Siefert, wife and daughter, of Philadelphia; John Wheatley and James Eweland and son, of Tompkins; James Steiner and the three daughters of C. L. Boyer, of Bethlehem, and many others were present. It was a most enjoyable affair. William D., oldest son of Samuel C. Boyer, of Port Clinton made the address at welcome and was highly praised for the scholarly manner in which he acquitted himself of the task. Addresses were also made by Rev. A. A. De Long and the chaplain of one of the regiments, Mr. Beckley, of Schuylkill Haven. Capt. A. C. Hickey, formerly of Port Clinton, but now of Philadelphia, was also present and read the list of the departed and living members of the companies.

POLITICAL POT-POURRI.

Pithy, Pungent, Pleading Points Pointedly Paraphrased.

The Chronicle, of Pottsville, and the N. News, of town, do not agree in their opinions as to the outcome of the Democratic county convention.

There's lots of harmony in the Democratic ranks, but it must be cut with a knife.

The farmers will vote for Judge Green to a man. He has been tried and not been found wanting.

It is now in order for the Democratic nominees to write letters of condolence to the defeated.

The Democratic state convention will simply confirm Harry's nominees. That's what the delegates were elected for.

PERSONAL.

Alf. Morgan has become the father of a bouncing baby boy.

Louis Friedman, of Mahanoy City, spent last evening in town.

Thomas Grossin, of Hasleton, was in town on Saturday.

Alex. Scheinert, piano tuner and repairer, is at the Commercial Hotel, where he will be pleased to receive orders for tuning and repairing pianos. He is a practical man and his work speaks for itself.

Law Haffer spent Saturday evening at Pottsville.

M. D. Masteller, of Shuman's, Columbia county, is circulating among to wa friends.

Knoch Lockert, of Pottsville, is in town.

Charles Madara and wife, of Coal Run, were the guests of D. A. Doyle yesterday.
