CHEATING IN HORSE BLANKETS

Nearly every pattern of Horse Blanket is imitated in color and style. In most cases the imitation looks just as good as the genuine, but it hasn't the warp threads, and so lacks strength, and while it sells for only a little less than the genuine it isn't worth one-half as much. The fact that Horse Blankets are copied is strong evidence that they are THE STANDARD, and every buyer should see that the trade mark is sewed on the inside of the Blanket.

TWO BIG WILL CASES

Closing Scenes in the Famous Davis Contest.

COL. INGERSOLL TALKING TO-DAY

Timothy Hopkins Preparing to Contest His Foster-Mother's Will.

The Document to be Offered for Probate Next Tuesday—Able Lawyers from San Francisco to Appear at Salem, Mass.—A Fierce Legal Battle for an Estate—A Thirty Million Dollars Promised.

BUTTE, Mont., Sep. 4.—The closing scenes in the famous Davis will case are now being enacted. All the testimony is in, and arguments have begun. Judge Dixon, for the proponents, was the first to address the court. He was followed by Attorney Morris for the defendants. After Col. Sanders had finished his argument, Col. Ingersoll, this afternoon, commenced his long address for the contestants.

THE GREAT WILL FIGHT.

Timothy Hopkins and His San Francisco Counsel Now in New York.

New York, Sep. 4.—Timothy Hopkins, the gardener's son who was adopted by the widow of Mark Hopkins, the California millionaire, and disinherited by her in favor of her second husband, Edward F. Searles, is at the Hotel Brunswick, together with two of his counsel from San Francisco.

Their mission to New York is in connection with the proposed contest of the will of Hopkins' foster-mother. Mr. Hopkins was seen by a reporter, but declined to say anything about his suit to break the will. He, however, admitted that some action would be begun, and that the first move would be made when the will was offered for probate at Salem, Mass., next Tuesday.

Hopkins, 37 years old, tall, square-shouldered and handsome. He has a kindly, hazel eye and a deep, melodious voice. Certainly, the son of Pat Nolan who emigrated to California from the obscure Maine village of Hallowell and became Mark Hopkins' gardener, has profited by the good fortune that befell him in the Golden State, for he is polished and apparently a man of refinement.

He was born March 2, 1850. He went to live with Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins in 1862, his father having died and his mother married again. Mark Hopkins died, leaving $20,000,000 to his widow, and July 9, 1876, she formally adopted young Nolan in San Francisco. Then she met Edward F. Searles, a decorative artist of much taste, but poor, who was in search of health in California, and on Nov. 8, 1887, they were married at Trinity Chapel, this city, by Rev. Dr. Platt.

Tim Hopkins is said to have spoken very harshly of this step of his benefactor, and to have thus aroused the wrath of a woman who had given him $100,000 at one time and a magnificent mansion in California at another, and when she died at Methuen, Mass., on July 30, she left a will in which he was ignored. There are about 100 other relatives of Mark Hopkins and the late Mrs. Searles who will combine in support of the contest.

Among them are Nathaniel T. Hebbard, a cousin of Mrs. Hopkins-Searles, who says of the unbalanced mind of Mrs. Searles and as showing how completely she was dominated by E. T. Searles, that she always loved William Hebbard, another cousin who lived in Brooklyn, and that she once told him to select a nice apartment house that would bring him enough in rents to keep him and she would buy it for him. He did so, and when he went to her house to tell her she flew into a wild passion and denied ever having said any such thing to him, after which William was ordered away from the house by Searles.

William Hebbard, it is said, died of a broken heart in consequence. One of Mr. Hopkins' lawyers said this morning, when seen at the hotel, that strong effort would be made to break the will, and that the case would be fought to the end.

More of Russia's Cruelty.

BERLIN, Sep. 4.—The Jews now being driven from their homes in Moscow and compelled to sign a paper to the effect that they are quitting the town of their own free will. This is done in order that the Russian authorities may be armed with an answer to the charges of brutality which it appears, have made an impression even in Russia. The prevalent destination owing to the bad harvest has made the lot of the Russian Jews more wretched than before. The starving peasantry are seeking to wreak vengeance on the Jews for their own misery.

Prohibitionist Nominations.

Booth, Genesee; State Treasurer, F. Crawford, Mt. Vernon; Attorney-General, S. E. Grosser, Buffalo; Comptroller, W. E. Smith, Poughkeepsie; State Engineer, H. B. Forbes, Canton.

THE BACKER FAILURE.

A Startling Discrepancy Between the Assets and Liabilities.

New York, Sep. 4.—The affairs of Abraham Backer, the bankrupt insurance broker of 25 Broadway, are in such a muddled condition that it is impossible for an outsider to obtain any reliable picture of the schedules of assets and liabilities. The Court has granted Backer thirty days upon his filing a bond of $20,000, by his affidavit Mr. Einstein says that the actual value of the assets which have come into his possession is about $20,000, principally in the bonds and shares of Southern railroad corporations, though Backer's real estate, glassatory cotton mill property and bank accounts are also included in this estimate.

As it was announced at the time of Backer's failure that his liabilities were between three and four millions of dollars, and this was afterwards confirmed by the declarations of his assignee, the startling discrepancy between assets and liabilities which now appear to exist has given the anxious creditors of the bankrupt note-broker a prodigious shock. Mr. Einstein, the assignee, says he can give no further particulars as to the situation until he has completed the schedules. The assets of Backer which he estimates at $20,000, have a nominal value of nearly $1,000,000. He attributes this deficiency to the shrinkage in value of the railroad securities, and upon the business of the Glasco cotton mill. Mr. Backer paid $200,000 for it, and to-day it is worth only $48,000 and is encumbered by a mortgage of $45,000.

Cruseen has escaped.

MINERS FARE BADLY

A Hostile Motion Adopted by the Tennessee House

THE SENATE TO VOTE TO-DAY

Citizens of Nashville Assemble to Hear the Debate.

There Was a Strong Movement to Abolish the Convict Lease System—Fears that Rioting May be Resumed at Briceville. Workingmen Anxiously Awaiting the Senate's and Governor's Action.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sep. 4.—The House adopted a resolution ordering an investigation of reports reflecting upon State Labor Commissioner Ford and his assistant, Representative Alleman, the preamble to the resolution reciting that, in a measure, they were responsible for the recent trouble at the Briceville mine; that they abused the miners by public speeches, and that they have been agitators encouraging lawlessness.

There was an exciting time when the House took up Mr. Johnson's resolution, saying that in the opinion of the General Assembly under the Constitution the Legislature has no power to abrogate the contract existing between the State and lessees of convict labor. Mr. Davis favored the abrogation of the present contract and the abolition of the lease system. The State should pay the lessees a million dollars damages if necessary, and raise the revenue assessment to meet it. This was the first attempt in the history of the United States and possibly in the world to beat down free labor with convict labor, and it should be stopped as soon as possible. The Johnson resolution was adopted by a vote of 31 to 17.

The calling of the roll was watched with great interest by the members of the House and citizens assembled to hear the debate. The resolution will be sent to the Senate this afternoon.

There is a general feeling here that if the Senate passes the House resolution that rioting will be resumed at Briceville, unless the Governor should step in with a veto.

The miners' representatives here display great anxiety over the result.

SAM IS A LEPER.

No Further Doubt About the Harrison, N. C., Chinaman's Case.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Sep. 4.—A few weeks ago Sam Sing, a Chinese laundryman in Harrison, was reported to be a victim of leprosy, and after a thorough examination by the medical inspectors of the county board of health he was pronounced a leper and taken to the pest house at Snake Hill.

Sam's brother then took charge of his business and effects, and, contending that Sam was not afflicted with leprosy, demanded his release.

When this was refused suit for $30,000 damages was begun against the health board for keeping Sam locked up.

Sam's friends finally decided to have him examined by a Chinese doctor, a man said to be the greatest expert on leprosy in this country. The examination was made yesterday, and to-day the Chinese doctor sent in his report, which declares that Sam is a leper without doubt.

Sam's friends have accepted the decision as final, withdrawn their suit and sent a letter of apology to the health board.

The authorities will negotiate with the New York health board to have the leper taken to North Brother Island, where two other Chinese lepers are now quarantined.

Fatal Shooting at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sep. 4.—A shooting affair here has resulted in the probably fatal wounding of one man and the slight wounding of another, John Guenther, 19 years of age, has been giving bicycle lessons to Miss Anna Miller. While thus engaged a crowd gathered on the corner and passed comments on the young couple. Finally Mike Bohalzik and Frank Smith attacked Guenther and the latter drew his revolver and fired. One ball entered Bohalzik's thigh and two others entered Smith's body, one in the hip and the other in the abdomen. After the shooting Guenther mounted his wheel and fled, but was captured. Smith will likely die.

Fears of an Attempt at Lynching.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Sep. 4.—Hudson Green, the negro who entered the house of Bank Teller Phillips yesterday, assaulted Mrs. Phillips and with a knife severed the finger of Mrs. Dowes, a merchant, who came to Mrs. Phillips' assistance, is closely guarded in the jail here, as it is feared an attempt will be made to lynch him. The suit on Mr. Dowes' taken to court yesterday, but clearly proves that the negro tried to kill him. Mrs. Phillips is completely prostrated by fright and it is feared the shock to her nerves will be permanent.

Lieut.-Gov. Jones' Reply.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sep. 4.—Lieut.-Gov. Jones has sent the following to the Buffalo News, in answer to a query from that paper as to whether he had authorized anyone to announce that he would accept an independent nomination: "I have not, neither shall I authorize anyone to speak for me. Neither have I written any letter on the subject, either public or private."

Won't Dissolve Parliament.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sep. 4.—There appears to be no foundation whatever for the report that the government contemplates dissolving Parliament. It is denied in official circles.

That Wolff's ACME Blacking IS CHEAPER than any other dressing at any price, be it 5 cents, 10 cents, or 25 cents, you can convince yourself by wearing one shoe dressed with Acme Blacking and the other shoe dressed with whatever happens to be your favorite dressing. While Acme Blacking will endure a month through snow or rain, and can, if the shoe is soiled, be washed clean, the other dressing will not last a single day in wet weather.
