SOONER THE BETTER.

Superintendent R. C. Jackson, of the New York division of the railway mail service, writes that the department has under consideration the subject of a new mail route between Pottsville and Ashland, besides many other advantageous changes. If the changes are made—and they can come none too soon—they will revolutionize the service between Pottsville and Williamsport with great benefit to the department and the public.

The McKinley tariff does pay a bonus to every American workingman in that it excludes, or heavily taxes, foreign products that come in competition with home products. If these were introduced free his wages would be materially reduced, and in some branches there would be no employment at all. Some people never think of these things.

The plant on the hill near the trotting park is a genuine crusher—for the tax payers.

"Hurt Hun No Good."

Two Hungarians of town were injured by a fall of coal in the Turkey Run mine Thursday afternoon. One of them was taken to his home in this town. The other was unable to speak English and could not give his name or address. No one recognized him and after searching some time for his boarding house the ambulance driver took him to the Miners' Hospital. It is remarkable that a man who cannot understand the English language and who cannot make himself understood, and who has no friends to give him a couch upon which to rest when mangled can make himself understood and can summon sufficient influence to secure work in the mines.

Oysters are in season and the best in the market are at Coslett's. 8-22-11

Arrested at Hazlet.

Hugh Kidley, of Shenandoah, was found drunk on the railroad near the upper depot last night by Chief Polgrain. The engineer on the passenger train stopped and backed up to where the man laid, thinking he had been struck. He was laying on a side track and his head was within a foot of the rail. He was sent to the lockup for five days in default of $5.50 fine.—Hazleton Sentinel.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. C. H. Hagenbuch, Druggist.

POLITICAL.

Mr. Blaine isn't the man to allow himself to be scared into an untimely grave. The chief qualification of the Democratic nominee for Governor of New York, Roswell P. Flower, is his "big barrel."

It is rather queer that the Prohibitionists as a body haven't come to the support of General Dyrrenforth.

When the vote of Shenandoah is counted in November somebody will feel awfully sick.

The Prohibitionists say they will have a lively campaign.

Don't fail to pay your taxes in time.

Shenandoah's chance for City Treasurer on the Republican ticket in Philadelphia—George D. McCreary—has been nominated and will be elected.

Between Fasset and Flower, for the Governorship of New York, the odds are in favor of the young Senator.

The Chronicle has its hands full between reading Democrats out of the party and advocating the election of Democratic candidates.

From all appearances it seems that Wadlinger isn't in it this year.

Tony Farrell.

Thursday night, Sept. 24, Tony Farrell will appear for the first time in Shenandoah in his latest success, "My Colleen" by James A. Herne, author of "Hearts of Oak," etc. The piece is unquestionably the best play this bright author has as yet written.

It is a story of an Irish devil-may-care of a lad's devotion to his family, replete with humor and full of action. The climaxes are strong and novel, whilst the scenic effects will excel anything thus far presented in an Irish drama. During the performance Tony Farrell will sing a number of his songs which have won for him such renown and introduce, with Miss Jennie Leland, a charming soprano, his delightful piper song to the strains of the Irish pipes.

Strike at Morea.

Thursday morning the miners and laborers employed in Morea colliery stopped work owing to a misunderstanding between the men and company in reference to the mine supplies. It is said an agreement was placed before the men for their signatures in the matter, but to which they refused to attach their names. As a consequence all employed at the colliery are idle.

New Barber Shop.

E. G. J. Wadlinger will, on Monday next, open a barber shop in the basement formerly occupied by William Rasser, under the Robbins' building, at the corner of Main and Oak at sets. The place will be thoroughly renovated and refitted with entire new fixtures. A department for hot and cold water baths for gentlemen will also be arranged. 9-19-11

Fall Opening.

Miss Ella M. McGinness announces the opening of a large first-class stock of fall and winter millinery for ladies, misses and children at her store, No. 25 East Centre street. The stock is one of the largest and best ever brought to this town, having been personally selected in the cities by Miss McGinness. The prices are remarkably low.

Gold paint, enamel paints, and artist paints and brushes—we have the largest stock—our prices are away down. 9-19-11

MORGAN'S BAZAR.

The Ivorite Elsteddfod.

A meeting of the Christmas elsteddfod committee will be held this evening, at 8:30 o'clock, at No. 34 East Centre street. By order of the president. 9-19-11

CRIME OF LONG AGO

ELIAS YOUNG ON TRIAL FOR MURDER DONE IN 1864.

A YOUNG LIEUTENANT KILLED.

He Belonged to a Company of Regulars Sent to Pennsylvania—The Fishing Creek Confederacy Refused to go to the War.

Pittston, Pa., Sept. 19.—Elias Young of this county is on trial at Wilkesbarre, charged with the murder of Lieut. Stewart Robinson, which occurred twenty-seven years ago.

The circumstances attending the killing are as follows: The "Fishing Creek Confederacy," as it was called, was composed of persons who opposed the prosecution of the war, and when in 1864 a draft was ordered it met with opposition in this section. The draft was openly ignored, and the efforts of the United States officers to enforce it were set at defiance. Armed bodies of men ranged themselves against the authorities and swore to die in their tracks rather than go to the front.

A regiment of regulars was sent to that locality with orders to compel the drafted men to join the army. Lieutenant Robinson came with the regiment and it was while obeying orders that he met his death.

Shortly after the shooting, which occurred on the night of July 31, 1864, Young went West, where he remained until a short time ago. As soon as his return became known, Sheriff Robinson, brother of the young Lieutenant, proceeded to collect evidence that might lead to his conviction.

Young and two others were arrested, but the latter were released for want of sufficient evidence. Subsequently, upon the dying confession of a man who was a witness of the killing, County Detective Phillips obtained sufficient evidence to warrant him in taking Young into custody. The most important evidence adduced at the trial now in progress was given by Dr. John F. Chapin, of Michigan, who came East to testify, he being the physician who attended Robinson when shot, and Charles Dobson, who was also with Robinson when the shooting took place.

It was to the effect that Young had said the day after the shooting that he had used Smith's gun on the previous night. The defense endeavored to prove on cross examination that Smith's uncle was also charged with killing Robinson and that the prosecution was a scheme to shift the responsibility upon Young's shoulders. The witnesses, however, stuck to their stories, their evidence being unshaken.

DARING ESCAPE.

A Criminal Picks the Lock of His Handcuffs with a Toothpick.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 19.—A toothpick was the instrument which aided Lincoln Person, a noted desperado, to escape from his custodian, Sheriff Michael, of Williamsport. A flying leap from a train on the Pennsylvania Railroad, moving at the rate of forty miles an hour, made the dash for liberty a successful venture.

The Sheriff had with him besides the daring convict a number of other prisoners, who were being brought to the Eastern penitentiary in this city to serve their sentences. The sentenced criminal in question successfully picked the lock of his handcuff with the toothpick, freeing himself from a fellow prisoner.

He then made an unexpected break for the door of the passenger coach which the sheriff, deputies and prisoners occupied, and leaped from the rapidly moving train before a hand was raised to prevent him.

Person is a man who has "done time" in many penitentiaries. He was under the charge of Deputy Sheriff Zeller who had two prisoners to look after. Sheriff Michael received his first intimation of the escape when he looked out of a window and saw the form of a man flying through the air and then roll over and over down the embankment. It looked like a prisoner Person, and hastily looking around the sheriff soon saw that that worthy was missing.

Some of the deputies endeavored to intercept the daring man before he had reached the platform, but were badly handicapped in their efforts on account of being fettered to their prisoners.

They had the train stopped and the locality searched, but there was no trace of the fugitive. After sounding the alarm the trip to Philadelphia was resumed.

Sheriff Michael believes that Person will again be caught at his old haunts in Williamsport.

Big Carriage Factory Burned.

BELLAIRE, Md., Sep. 19.—Bellaire sustained a heavy loss last night by the burning down of the Bullet Carriage Factory. The building was three stories high, and was built with all the latest improvements. The machinery and contents were valued at $95,000, and are a total loss. The fire is supposed to have originated in the paint shop, as the top of the building burned first. The factory had on hand 700 orders, and was turning out wagons of all descriptions very fast.

Will Try to Outfast Sweet.

CORTLAND, N. Y., Sept. 19.—George Stratton, cook at the Messenger House here, has signed a contract to outfast Sweet in a public fast exhibition in New York, commencing next month. He will try to make it fifty days. He has fasted forty days in Buffalo. Stratton is a light eater. He drinks two gallons of water daily. If he is successful in his attempt he will beat the fifty-days' record at the World's Fair.

Go for 'em, Boys!

A Shenandoah gentleman who passed through this city this morning, says that the Shenandoahites are willing to back up their claim with any amount of money that the Grant Band of that city is a better band than our own Third Brigade Band. "What 'yer gien us?" If this is to be a game of bluff let the matter be decided by a band contest. There are any number of Pottsville capitalists willing to contribute toward a fund for that purpose. We suggest that a trial contest between the two bands take place at an appointed time and place on Monumental Day, and that the winning stakes be donated the monumental and by the successful competitor. Put up or shut up.—Pottsville Republican. It will be observed that Pottsville wants the money, whether Shenandoah wins the prize, or not. But perhaps the Grant Band board of control won't dicker on that point. The Third Brigade kept mum when the Lakeside contest was on the wing, but say stakes are placed and given to the monument and the Lakeside competitive piece is chosen, is it a go?

G. A. R. members who intend going to Pottsville Oct. 1st, if they haven't got the regulation cap, should have their orders as early as possible at Morgan's Bargain and Cap Factory. 9-19-11

A Common Freak.

When P. T. Barnum was in the museum business in New York one of his most jovial friends was Gaylord Clark, a famous litterateur in the days of our fathers. They were a well matched pair of practical jokers. One day when Mr. Clark dropped in at the museum, as was his custom, Mr. Barnum, apparently much excited, hurried his friend into the private office and said: "Gaylord, I was about to send for you. I want your advice. I have a chance to purchase the most wonderful of all zoological freaks. It's at first a perfect fish, then it changes to a four legged land animal, then it climbs trees and!"

"Bah, you're joking," interjected Mr. Clark.

"On my honor, I am not," impressively replied the showman; "but the expense."

"Oh, hang the expense," interrupted Mr. Clark, brimful of enthusiasm over the business project of his friend; "if you can get any such freak as that your fortune's made. But what's the thing called?"

"Well," replied Mr. Barnum, with just the faintest suggestion of a wrinkle in his left eye, "it belongs to the batrachian family of animals, and in the vernacular is called the—the tadpole!"—Pittsburg Dispatch
