COURT MARTIAL FINDINGS.

The President Takes Action in the Case of Three Eering Officers.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 22.—The President has approved the sentence of dismissal from the army, imposed on Lieutenant Miner, of the Ninth Infantry, for conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman.

In the case of First Lieutenant F. D. Sharp, Twenty-fourth Infantry, found guilty of drunkenness by the Court-martial and sentenced to dismissal, the President has committed his sentence to suspension from rank and command on half pay for one year, on his promise to abstain in the future from the use of intoxicants.

In the case of Ensign W. S. Clarke, U. S. N., sentenced to dismissal by court-martial for intoxication and absence after expiration of leave, the President has, on the recommendation of Secretary Tracy, mitigated the sentence to suspension from rank and duty on four-fourth pay for two years, and to retain the present number in his grade during that time.

National Conference of Unitarians.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sep. 22.—The National Conference of Unitarians began here yesterday afternoon with a large attendance, representing nearly every State east of the Mississippi. A meeting of the council and officers was held at 4 p. m., and the Conference was formally opened at 7:30 p. m. by a public service, the sermon being delivered by Rev. R. A. Armstrong, M. A., of Liverpool, Eng. The sessions will continue three days, during which a variety of papers on religious and scientific topics will be read and discussed.

Beat Her Rival With a Revolver.

WATERBURY, N. Y., Sep. 22.—Fred N. Burritt, cashier in the bank of Burritt & Henderson, has been paying more attention to Miss Emma Silsby of Seneca Falls, a visitor here for some time past, than was agreeable to his wife. Matters came to a climax when Mrs. Burritt entered the room of Miss Silsby at her hotel, and at the muzzle of a revolver demanded the letters her husband had written her. After getting them she beat the girl over the head with the weapon until the clerk, attracted by her screams interfered.

The Warren-McCarthy Fight.

NEW ORLEANS, Sep. 22.—Despite the many obstacles which have been thrown in the way of the managers of the Warren-McCarthy glove contest to take place here the Olympic Athletic Club tonight, it is now an assured fact that the featherweights will do battle. Though Warren is regarded with more favor by the talent, McCarthy has many friends who are banking his chances to the tune of $250 to $300, the odds being against him.

On this ship both were treated with great kindness. Eva was given the cook's galley. After 10 days of life on this schooner the captain one day told them by signs to get ready to land.

The sailors got up a purse of $30 for them and gave them several articles of clothing. Early last Sunday morning the vessel came in near shore, lowered a boat and landed the two unfortunate on Florida coast in a strange locality and with only one small fisherman's hut in sight.

They got information as best they could and started on foot for Jacksonville, and after walking for several miles they were met by a team and hired the driver to bring them there, where they arrived footsore and weary in the afternoon.

Seeking a boarding house, they secured rooms and rested after their terrible experience. Thornton's brother, William, is thoroughly investigating the matter, and has sent a message to the man in Jacksonville asking him certain questions. If these are answered, all doubts concerning the strange story will be removed.

THOUGHT DEAD—FOUND ALIVE

Carried Out to Sea, They Cling to a Log and Are Picked Up.

Kindly Treated by Their Rescuers, Who Could Not Talk English—Transferred to Another Vessel—Finally Landed on the Coast of Florida—Nearly Crazy With Their Terrible Experiences.

New York, Sept. 22.—Samuel W. Thornton and Eva Jewell, the young people who disappeared while in bathing at Coney Island on the night of Aug. 27, and whose clothes were found in a bathing pavilion, are said to be alive and well in Jacksonville, Florida.

A special despatch from Jacksonville says that Thornton was interviewed in the office of the "Times-Union" last night, and gave an account of his adventures. According to his story Thornton and Miss Jewell went in bathing at 2 p. m. on the day mentioned.

After half an hour in the surf, and while out some distance from the shore, a huge wave came in and the undertow washed them away.

Stranded and frightened nearly to death, he had presence of mind enough to plunge forward and seize Eva's dress and keep her up, all the while shouting for help. None seemed to hear them and they floated out fast.

A big log soon floated by. He seized it, and by its aid was enabled to keep their heads above water. The tide rapidly carried them out to sea. Eva soon grew faint, and Thornton became nearly exhausted by his struggles. Just after sundown a schooner came near. Thornton shrieked for aid and they were taken on board.

Soon Eva was under the motherly care of the captain's wife, while Thornton was rubbed and brought to by the sailors. To his surprise and consternation no one on board could speak English.

Eva was invaluable when rescued, and for several days afterward she was nearly crazy, repeating in her delirium the terrible experiences she had had.

When Thornton fully recovered his senses the next forenoon they were out of sight of land and going southward, bound for some port in South America. To his appeals to be set on shore the Captain shook his head, but promised to signal the first vessel that came along.

They were on that vessel 13 days before they were transferred to another schooner. Then they were no better off for the craft was Spanish, bound for Yucatan, through Florida Straits.

On this ship both were treated with great kindness. Eva was given the cook's galley. After 10 days of life on this schooner the captain one day told them by signs to get ready to land.

The sailors got up a purse of $30 for them and gave them several articles of clothing. Early last Sunday morning the vessel came in near shore, lowered a boat and landed the two unfortunate on Florida coast in a strange locality and with only one small fisherman's hut in sight.

They got information as best they could and started on foot for Jacksonville, and after walking for several miles they were met by a team and hired the driver to bring them there, where they arrived footsore and weary in the afternoon.

FIVE BROWNED.

A Party of Poles Meet Death in the Hudson at Poughkeepsie.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Sep. 22.—Five persons—three men, one woman and a little girl—were drowned in the Hudson River, opposite Low Point, 12 miles south of this city, yesterday afternoon.

They were all Poles and were strangers in the locality, so their identity is not known. They hired a boat at Hampton to row across the river at Low Point.

When about 100 yards from the east shore the boat was seen to overturn, and all sank immediately except one man who clung to the capsized boat, but he let go and sank before help reached him.

Only one body, that of a man, has thus far been recovered.

The Pitsinnons Trial.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sep. 22.—The trial of Mrs. Lucy Pitsinnons in the celebrated murder case, in which she, with her husband, Frank C. Pitsinnons (who escaped from jail here last Monday) killed Detective Gilkison, March 24, last, began in the Criminal Court here yesterday. The case will likely be given to the jury to-night. The police officials have as yet no trace of her escaped husband.

Switchmen's Aid Association.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 22.—The Sixth Annual Convention of the Switchmen's Mutual Aid Association convened in Industrial Hall yesterday morning. There were about 250 delegates present. The sessions of the convention will be secret. The constitution will be the subject of considerable revision, and an effort will be made to take in the twitch tenders and yard masters, and make the Association broader in its views.

County Democracy Protests.

New York, Sep. 22.—The County Democracy delegates and alternates to the Democratic State Convention met last night in Cooper Institute, and unanimously adopted a protest against the treatment they had received at Saratoga. From first to last not one word was said as to whether or not the organization would support the Democratic ticket.
