WOODRUFF, ex-treasurer of Arkansas, a Democrat, is short $250,000, and treasury is empty. The old saying that while a Republican steals half a hog, a Democrat steals a whole one, is exemplified in this case. This increases the Democratic stealings to $2,604,000, as far as heard from.

The Ohio campaign can be denominated "red hot." All the advices seem to point at present to the election of Mr. McKinley. The farmers' party does not seem to have been as formidable as it was predicted it would be. The truth is that the farmer has been too busy gathering his crops to think of taking an active part in politics. The silver issue has handicapped Governor Campbell, and the Republicans are pushing it home on the enemy's grounds with a pertinacity that is remarkable. That issue prevents the Democrats from getting money in New York and they are therefore embarrassed to that extent.

In New York the campaign is directed against Flower as the stand-

45 CENTS for a window shade with fringe, others for 50c, 65c and up. Shades made for stores and private dwellings. A new lot of shades and fringes to match.

dard bearer of Tammany Hall. The Tammany crowd are given full credit for making Mr. Flower's nomination, and the Republicans are shrewd enough to try and make the people understand that Tammany is reaching out for the control of the state. Even Harper's Weekly, chief of muggump organs, sees this and has come out for Mr. Fassett.

"HONEST clean politics," is now what some Democratic organs advocate. Such a thing as "honest clean politics"—what a charming thing it would be in York city and York county. But the dirtiest, foulest, most corrupt jobbery and boodling in our politics would be defended as political virtue and political honesty by these same Democratic organs. It is one thing to live up to a profession of "honest clean politics" and another to only make profession to deceive the honest people. Politics in York county have not been honest and clean. The boss politicians have run the machine, for all that is in it, to help the bosses, and have taxed the people to foot the extravagant costs.—York Daily.

The Wilmington (Del.) Republican says: "Besides Secretary Blaine, Postmaster-General John Wanamaker, has been one of the most abused and criticized members of President Harrison's cabinet. But Mr. Wanamaker minded it no more than the moon did the barking of a dog, and just kept on the even tenor of his way in giving the people safer and increased postal facilities. His recent experiment of extending the free delivery system to small towns has proved an agreeable success. They do not all pay the full expenses but others pay considerably more, so that the government and the people both are the gainers by the system which Mr. Wanamaker will recommend to Congress for adoption. This is an improvement of which any man should be proud of having originated, but it is extremely doubtful if the Democratic House of Representatives, with its accustomed policy of obstruction, will provide for it. If it refuses to do so, it will be a strong argument for the election of another Republican House of Representatives, and another Republican president next year.

WITHIN A MONTH

THE ELECTRIC ROAD TO BE RAPIDLY COMPLETED.

TO BE OPENED NOVEMBER 1ST.

For Travel Between Girardville and This Town—The Extensions to be Pushed as Soon After as Possible.

The HERALD has not been blowing empty horns over the electric railway. The present heraldings of the enterprise are based upon facts gleaned from an authentic source and the parties giving them have followed the famous advice of Davy Crockett, "Be sure you're right, then go ahead."

The information the HERALD has been giving the public the past week has been held in reserve until all possibilities of hitches in the construction of the road seemed overcome. This course was deemed the most suitable for sitting down upon the few blow-hards that lurk about the town and are continually straining every muscle to down anything projected by the people who first placed an electric road within the reach of the people of Shenandoah.

Work on the Mahanoy City, Shenandoah, Girardville and Ashland electric railway will be constructed with all possible speed. The plant and most of the materials have been contracted for and the parts will be shipped here as fast as completed. The shipments will begin this week.

The contract for the electric engines and the wiring has been awarded to the Thompson-Houston electric company. The track and other work will be done by the railway company.

The work has been mapped with the determination of having the cars running between Shenandoah and Girardville not later than November 3rd, next.

Council will probably be asked at its next meeting to modify the grant of the right of way and it is hoped there will be no delay in granting any reasonable request of the company. The people demand every encouragement for the company.

The citizens of the town are again urged to direct themselves to the establishment of new industries. The electric railway will make this valley more lively than it has ever been before and, besides greatly benefiting the business men, will greatly enhance the value of property. People living two miles away will be within as easy reach of the center of the town, as those living two squares away from that point. The road will also open a market for building lots in the suburbs of the town and relieve the now crowded tenements.

Prime oysters, the best the market affords, always on hand at Coslett's. 8-22-1f

Send Us the News.
We are willing to give places in our local columns to the mention of any visitors, the absence of any citizen, his wife or his daughter, but at the same time we would be glad to have the item written out and handed in, or mention made of it at this office. It is not snobbish to do this; it is in no wise improper. People are always much interested in knowing the absence of friends, and equally glad to know the presence of any visitor upon whom they wish to call. Some very sensible people say they don't want their names in the papers. This may be true as to a puff or a bit of evident flattery; but it can hardly be true of the simple announcement of a visitor's name, or the temporary absence of a gentleman or lady. So bring in the items, we are always glad to get them. No visitor is more welcome to our "sanctum than the one who brings in an item.

LALLY PROSECUTES.

He Says Downey Knew it Was Loaded.

A few weeks ago Michael Lally, while on his way home from the Indian Ridge colliery, was met by a young man named Thomas Downey. Lally asked Downey why he was not out to work and the reply was "I'll shoot you." A revolver Downey had in his hands was discharged at the same time and the bullet, taking a downward course, entered Lally's leg, just below the knee. No arrest was made until Saturday night, when Lally swore out a warrant. Downey furnished bail for trial. He says that the shooting was purely accidental and that when he said he would shoot he did not know the revolver was loaded. Downey is apparently very much distressed over the case. He says that his last pay for two weeks was $10 and that amount he divided by giving $10 to Lally, $5 to the doctor, and kept $1 for himself. He also expresses willingness to make more payments, Lally is able to boast, but his leg remains pretty sore. He went to the Miners' Hospital on Saturday and, after reopening the wound, Dr. Hiddle extracted a piece of flannel about the size of a dime. It is believed that the leg will now heal rapidly.

Killed His Wife and a Boarder.

New York, Oct. 5.—At a late hour Saturday night John Omondia, aged 25 years, shot and killed his wife at their home on Third avenue, and also shot and fatally wounded John P. Burchell, a boarder in the house. Omondia was a hard drinker and had frequent quarrels with his wife. He left her five weeks ago. She had commenced proceedings for divorce. He went home and questioned his wife about the matter and to try and get her to live with him again. When she refused to talk about it he shot her dead. Then he turned around and shot Burchell. The murderer was arrested.

Detective Arrested for Blackmail.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—John T. Norris, a detective of almost national reputation, is arrested on a charge of blackmail preferred by a man whom he had been shadowing. His accuser is John Searley, alias Jack Forbes, who was for a time supposed to have been implicated in the robbery of Thomas Blackburn, a Missouri farmer, to the tune of $7,000. It is alleged Norris had Searley arrested knowing him to be innocent. Farmer Blackburn failed to identify Searley and he was released. Norris is also called upon to answer a suit for $20,000 damages for malicious prosecution.

Building a Railroad on Private Land.

New Brunswick, Oct. 5.—The Port Reading Railroad Company has begun the work of laying tracks on private lands in Karitan township. The owners will sue for heavy damages. The Karitan township committee has secured the filing of a bill in chancery to prevent the encroachment of the road on a public highway at Metuchen. The bill will be returnable on the 15th.

Services in the Methodist Episcopal Church Yesterday—Three New Members Taken In—A Very Interesting Sermon.

Yesterday morning the right hand of fellowship was extended to three new members in the Methodist Episcopal church. An appropriate sermon was preached by the pastor from Heb. 11-1: "Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things we have heard lost at any time we let them slip," or as the revised version reads: "Let us happily we drift away." In certain conditions of wind and tide vessels which are being brought to the wharf drift away from it just when they are about to be secured and the master finds it necessary to turn the vessel around and stem the current in order to land his passengers. Just so men and women are brought up to the wharf of christian privilege and duty, but just as we think the connection is about to be made they "drift away." Sometimes it is a current of worldly care and anxiety. Business and household cares go far to exclude the "earnest heed" to the things enjoined upon us in the word of God. Or it may be a current of frivolity. This is the most formidable foe we have to encounter, light, trifling, shallow-minded individuals who have "no root in themselves" are never eminent for goodness—nor for badness either because they lack the raw material of which rigorous character of any kind is made. Special emphasis was laid on the fact that the starting point in either mental or moral development is serious thought and deliberate aim—that is "earnest heed." Of the more than ten thousand business failures last year in this country only about four per cent were deliberately planned so as to cheat creditors and enrich the bankrupt. And there are just as few deliberate failures in the religious world. Forty per cent of the business failures were due to a lack of capital. And this is the cause of most of the religious failures. The business of sternity requires a large capital. But if we ask we shall receive. Of the easily preventable causes of business failures "outside speculation" heads the list with thirteen per cent. So entering upon forbidden paths, tampering with our spiritual resources upon what cannot profit are easily preventable causes of religious bankruptcy. The cure for all this is "more earnest heed to the things we have heard." In the evening a new departure was taken. The service consisting of the Hallelujah chorus by the choir, followed by scripture readings, and brief expositions upon the subject of "Repentance—its Nature and its Source." These were interspersed with congregational singing and prayer, thus affording a pleasant variety without detracting from the strictness of the service. Next Sunday evening the Junior Temple of Honor will attend and listen to a special sermon at their own request. The subject will be "The greatest curse in the world—and what to do with it."

Ladies, if you want fine writing paper and envelopes to match, call on Max Reese.

Base Ball.

The Shenandoah and Lost Creek clubs played a game at the latter place. The latter club won by a score of 9 to 0, seven runs being made in the ninth inning. The St. Nicholas club disappointed Manager Samsell on Saturday. It was not fair treatment in view of the fact that the St. Nicholas players posted Manager Samsell several weeks for a date. The Ashland club defeated Shamokin at the former place on Saturday by a score of 4 to 1. "Jack" Stivets, late of the St. Louis Browns, pitched a great game and scored three of the four runs for Ashland.

Oysters are in season and the best in the market are at Coslett's. 8-22-1f
