

READY FOR BATTLE.

Soldiers Enlisting to Fight for Gregg and Morrison.

A VETERANS' STATE ORGANIZATION.

A Handsome Banner with Patriotic Coloring Unfurled at Headquarters in Philadelphia and Correspondence Opened with Grand Army Men in the Several Counties.

There is promise of a very patriotic coloring being given to the campaign in this state before November shall roll around. The nomination of two brave soldiers by the Republican state convention and a loyal declaration in the party platform, showing appreciation of the services of the veterans who defended the union, is in striking contrast with the attitude of the Democrats.

The Democrats ignored the soldier in their nominations, and shut them out of their platform as well.

That this will be resented on election day is beyond doubt.

The war veterans are organizing as they never did before in a political campaign. The call to arms was sounded in Philadelphia. The old soldiers have been responding nobly throughout the commonwealth. Organizations are being perfected in every county. Battalions of Gregg and Morrison supporters are being enlisted from the ranks of the veterans, who will know no politics in this campaign. Democrats are just as enthusiastic as Republicans.

A well known soldier, who has always been a Democrat, and an active one, too, in Philadelphia, remarked the other day that he was confident that thousands of Democratic soldiers intend to vote for General Gregg and Captain Morrison. He himself served with Gregg from the time his command was under General McClellan in the swamps of the Chickahominy until it was a part of Sheridan's command in front of and beyond Petersburg. It was his lot to be thrown in the presence of Gregg most of the time from that early June day in 1863 when, under the command of General Alfred Pleasonton the cavalry of the Army of the Potomac fought the battle of Brandy Station, in Virginia, where the rebel cavalry, under John Stuart, met their first positive defeat of the war, and all through the series of cavalry battles that took place while the two armies were on the march to Gettysburg. He was with Gregg when he held the right flank of Meade's army at Gettysburg through three days of fighting, and where, on the last day, Gregg's division defeated the cavalry of the south under Stuart. Wade Hampton and Fitz Hugh Lee in their desperate efforts to turn Meade's flank in order that they might get possession of the Baltimore road, the line of Meade's communications in his rear, so as to make the charge of Pickett against Hancock in the center a matter of comparative ease.

"How can a man who followed such a leader during the four years of the war," said this Democratic soldier, "turn him aside and vote for a young and unknown corporation lawyer? How can the Lincoln Republicans who voted for Pittston simply as a protest against the means that made Delamater a candidate cast aside a man like Gregg, who fought so splendidly on an appointment from Lincoln for a mere Democratic politician picked out by Pittston and Harris to perform a scheme for their own personal aggrandizement? It isn't possible. I tell you that Gregg will poll the mass of the Democratic soldier vote."

"And now as to Captain Morrison," he continued, "I happen to know him personally. He served through the entire war in the famous 'Roundhead' regiment." In all the engagements and sieges in which his regiment took part the little captain bore himself like a true soldier. "You should hear the story of the part he took in the final capture of Petersburg. In that terrible charge upon the enemy's line, following the famous mine explosion, Captain Morrison was in the leading brigade and led his company into that harvest of death and destruction with heroism that was remarkable."

The War Veterans' campaign committee have opened headquarters in Philadelphia on Chestnut street below Thirteenth, and the above cut shows the banner they have unfurled to the breeze. This committee is in correspondence with veterans all over the state.

What Everybody Knows. The Democratic plan of campaign in Pennsylvania is to steal a state victory upon local issues, and when they do this one of their leaders, Congressman Maish, all too frankly says they can easily carry the state in 1892. The battle of this year is intended to control that of next year. It scarcely needed a leading Democrat to tell the people this.

Last Day for Naturalization. Attention is directed to the fact that next Saturday, Oct. 8, will be the last day for naturalization, for qualification for this fall's election, it being required that a person must be naturalized at least one month before he can vote.

What Democrats Dread. The Democrats in Pennsylvania dread a hustling campaign, as they know it means a full vote, and that means a great Republican victory.

TWO KILLED, THREE INJURED.

A Train Run Down Five Track Walkers in a Tunnel.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 8.—A tragic accident occurred in the Union tunnel on the Pennsylvania Railroad yesterday afternoon, in which two men were killed outright and three injured, all probably fatally.

The victims were trackwalkers, who were at work at the time in the tunnel directly under the bed of Argyle avenue. The men heard a Western Maryland Railroad train approaching and stopped from the track which they thought it would take to the other track on the opposite side of the tunnel.

At this point in the tunnel there is a sharp curve, and the men could neither see the train nor be seen by the train hands until the locomotive was within a few yards of them. When the train rounded the curve the men saw that it was on the same track they were standing on. There was a rush to escape, but it was too late. The train sped by, leaving them mangled and bleeding on the ground.

The killed are: Thomas Hughes, aged 40 years, unmarried; Julius Miller, aged 25 years, unmarried.

The wounded are: Fred Cappella, John Zink and Henry Coleman.

KILLED BY HER SUITOR.

A Girl Who Had Rejected a Young Man Is Shot by Him.

LOWELL, Mass., Oct. 8.—Maria Clegg, 23 years old, was probably fatally shot last night by Henry Entwistle, 24 years old, a rejected suitor. The would-be murderer escaped. The girl was on her way home from work when she was stopped on the street by Entwistle, who renewed his suit.

The girl was firm in her refusal to listen to him, whereupon Entwistle drew a revolver and fired three shots in rapid succession at her. Two of the bullets took effect, one in the right lung and the other in the thigh.

The girl will probably die from internal bleeding. Entwistle is respectfully connected but of unsteady habits.

You can count on it, but it's more than doubtful whether you earn it. The proprietors of Dr. Sage's Remedy, in good faith, offer that amount for an incurable case of Catarrh. Don't think that you have one, though.

They'll pay you, if they can't cure you. That's certain. But they can cure you. That's just about as certain, too.

Can you ask more?
