THE action of those influential German newspapers, the New Yorker Zeitung and the New Yorker Herald, is coming out in hearty endorsement of the New York Republican state ticket, is significant. Taken in conjunction with the defection of Mr. Oelrichs from Tammany's ticket, it shows that the intelligent German votes in the coming election will be practically sold for Fassett.

THE two candidates for Governor of Ohio met in joint debate Thursday in a town of 3 000 inhabitants, but in the presence of fully 30,000 people. The two orators spoke for principles as wide apart as the poles, one for the American policy of protection and for a currency as good as gold the world over, the other for "free trade, free silver and free rum." The joint debate was probably heard by 25,000 people and will be read to-day by 2,500,000 others. A free people can hardly fail to keep in touch with its rulers as long as such equal battles for opposing principles is possible.

THE Boston Journal has this to say of Pennsylvania's Governor: "Governor Pattison's Presidential axe must be desperately dull that he is obliged to subject the State of Pennsylvania to an expense of $50,000 for the sake of giving it a grin. If the Governor had really desired to punish offences by executive officers he had two courses before him, other than the calling of the Senate in special session, and neither of them open to constitutional objection as to that. His attorney-general could have been instructed to prosecute in the courts, or he could have convened both Houses with a view to impeachment. But neither one of these would have done anything towards turning the Governor's political grindstone."

MORGAN, a Democratic county treasurer in Maryland, is short $24,000.

Intricacies of a Stovepipe.
Several million people have been trying this month to get the best of a stovepipe. But they haven't done it; they never have done it; they never will. However well they may have matched last year, no two lengths of pipe will match this year. You may put marks a foot long upon them, but this will not do. You may lock up each length in a room by itself, but yet when they come to be used you will find they will not come together as they came apart. We can't tell in what way it was done, but we are certain those lengths came out of that room in some way, and exchanged places with each. If not, why are they so unfitted to each other? It is utterly impossible to get the best of a stovepipe. What will expand one length will contract another, and even a single length has been known to expand at one end while it contracted at the other. There is a subtle influence in the atmosphere which causes this. No one has as yet been able to discover what this is, and until it is made known there is no use expecting to get a stovepipe safely together, even if you should set on the lengths all summer and have your meals brought to you.

MORE TRAINS WANTED.

The Pennsylvania Short Line the Popular Route.
There is a great demand for more convenient and additional trains over the short line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and it is the intention of our business men and many of our leading citizens to ask that the company do something to meet the demand.

It is suggested that a train leave here at between 12:00 and 12:30 p. m. and returning, leave Pottsville at 4:00 p. m. The 4:00 train would be very convenient and would become very popular. It would permit people attending court to leave immediately upon adjournment in the afternoon and enable them to reach their homes here in time for supper. The train leaving here at 12 or 12:30 would enable people to leave for the afternoon session of court after having ample time to transact their business in the morning and would be convenient in many other respects.

Let us have this change by all means, it will certainly pay the company and, besides being a great convenience to the present patrons of the branch, would boost the line into great popularity.

Children Enjoy
The pleasant flavor, gentle action and soothing effects of Syrup of Figs, when in need of a laxative, and if the father or mother be constipated or bilious the most gratifying results follow its use, so that it is the best family remedy known and every family should have a bottle.

The insurance companies represented by David Faust, No. 120 South Jardin street, were all tested by the large fire in 1888 and since, and are always prompt in paying their losses satisfactorily. 10 8-3t

THE STRANDED THESPIANS.

A Statement Concerning "Asleep and Awake."

Edward Young, one of the "Asleep and Awake" company, which became stranded in town Thursday night after performing in Ferguson's theatre, called at the HERALD office yesterday and made a statement in regard to the troubles. As soon as it was learned the company was stranded McGuinness, the proprietor of the Watson House, caused the arrest of Mr. Young, charging that the actor attempted to defraud him. Mr. Young paid the bill due ($14) and was discharged from custody. Mr. Young claims that the company has been treated disgracefully by C. R. Gardiner, the theatrical manager who has so many organizations on the road and who was one of the backers of the now defunct Eva Mann combination. Young says Gardiner arranged that the former was to have a hand in the management of the company and that while success was met on the road Gardiner revelled in all the honors, but when the company commenced to meet with adversity he no longer courted the managerial honors and announced to the public that he had no interest in the enterprise, other than being the author of the play. In closing his statement Mr. Young said, "On arriving in Shenandoah, Thursday, Mr. Gardiner had his personal baggage checked through to New York, leaving innocent members of the company liable for claims which he owed. The company is now in Shenandoah with their baggage held for C. R. Gardiner's debts."

Are All Republicans Thieves?
"All Republicans are thieves" is an idea original with Colonel A. K. McClure, who has started out with this proclamation in his effort to turn Pennsylvania Democratic and nominate Governor Pattison as a Democratic candidate for the presidency. He has written scores of editorials in its elucidation. The Democratic managers have stuffed a hundred newspapers with columns in its demonstration. The Democratic platform at Harrisburg affirms it in a dozen places.

GENERAL NEWS!

HAPPENINGS OF A LOCAL CHARACTER.

NEWS GATHERED HERE AND THERE

The Water Company vs. the Borough—The Victims of the Richardson Colliery Disaster Buried.

The case of the Shenandoah Water & Gas Company against the borough of Shenandoah, in which the company makes a claim of $20 water rent for each fire plug used in the borough, has attracted the attention of nearly every borough official in the county. The trial of the case started on Tuesday last and yesterday afternoon the last witness was examined. The court adjourned until this morning to hear the arguments of the counsel for the respective parties preparatory to submitting the case to the jury. The claim of the company amounts to about $4,000 and covers a period of several years. The borough repudiated the claim, on the ground that the water company agreed some years ago, when the borough was arranging to get a water supply of its own, that no charge would be made for water used for fire purposes. The borough claimed that this agreement was ratified by the water company failing to present a bill for water used by the fire department until nearly five years after the agreement is alleged to have been made. One of the points made by the company was that if any such agreement was made it should have been in writing. Another point made by the company was that if such an agreement was made the borough rejected it by proceeding with the special election called for the establishment of public water works and by proceeding with work on the dam until it was enjoined by the court.

The Richardson Victims.
All the colliers in the Hecksberville valley were idle yesterday out of respect to the memory of the five men who were victims of the Richardson colliery disaster. The remains of Purcell, Ciancy, Lawlor and Welsh were interred in St. Kyran's cemetery, Hecksberville, and the body of Michael Shields, the Polish victim, was interred in the Polish cemetery at Mahanoy City. The funeral of the sixth victim, John Salmon, took place at Minersville this morning.

Frequent Mishaps.
Engineer Gouldner, who has charge of the short line Pottsville passenger train was considerably annoyed to-day by the queer antics of his "steam horses." When he took charge of engine No. 406 he found it in need of repairs. The engine was put in the Delano shops and Gouldner was given No. 148. As the engine pulled out from the Lehigh Valley depot at 9:05, preparatory to backing down to the Pennsylvania depot for the trip to Pottsville a spring of the engine broke and Gouldner was obliged to side-track the train until the arrival of another engine from Delano. The train left for Pottsville half an hour behind time.

Eugene J. J. Monaghan returned yesterday from Richmond, Virginia, where he spent a part of the week as a witness before the grand jury in the case of Cusick and Burns, former residents of this town, who are charged with committing post office robberies. The "squire" went before the grand jury to testify to the good character of the accused and present a petition signed by a number of town people. He says the case was under consideration when he left Virginia and the chances were favorable to the accused.
