

AVENGED HER HONOR

A Faithless Lover Shot By a Wronged Girl.

VOWED SHE WOULD KILL HIM.

Tragic Fate of Walter Foster at the Hands of Carrie Bowers.

Waylaid in Front of His Home—His Refusal to Marry Her Led the Young Woman to Commit the Crime—She Had Brought Suit Against Him, but the Case Was Dismissed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Carrie Bowers, a pretty blonde of 18, living with her parents in Greenpoint, shot and mortally wounded Walter Foster, aged 30, last night. The shooting was the result of the young man's refusing to right the wrong he had committed.

The young couple became acquainted about six months ago. A month ago she secured a warrant for his arrest, claiming he had refused to marry her. The case was dismissed, owing to the preponderance of evidence produced by the defendant.

The two met on leaving the courts, when the girl told the young man she would yet vindicate her honor.

A week ago she met him on the street and pleaded for him to marry her. He refused. Since then she has been growing despondent.

About 5 o'clock last evening she left her home. She knew Foster, who was employed as a clerk in Sons & Fleming's oil refinery, returned home at about 6 o'clock.

She proceeded as far as Colyer street, where she waited for him. Foster finally came along. He had reached within a few doors of his home when a young woman came walking rapidly toward him. Her features were hidden behind a shawl drawn about her head.

As she rounded him she threw aside her shawl and disclosed the features of Carrie Bowers. She drew a revolver from beneath the folds of the shawl, pointed it at Foster's heart and pulled the trigger.

The first shot grazed the young man's shoulder. A second one struck him in the right breast, just above the nipple. He wheeled about and started on a run toward Leffler street. The girl fired a third shot at him, but failed.

The young man continued through Leffler street to Meserole avenue, then to Manhattan avenue. Here he met Policeman Clark of the Seventh precinct, to whom he gasped that he had been shot by a woman.

The officer at once summoned Ambulance Surgeon Gifford. The wounded man was removed to the Eastern District Hospital. Dr. Blaisdell, the house physician, gave it as his opinion that the lung had been penetrated and the young man could not possibly live.

Foster gave a clear statement of the shooting and fully identified the young woman as his assailant.

Directly after the shooting the girl walked hurriedly away from the scene toward Franklin street thence to Greenpoint avenue. The police arrested the father of the girl and sent out a general alarm for her.

Later she was captured and taken to the station house.

She was very calm and admitted the shooting. She was locked up and then broke down, weeping bitterly. She stated positively that Foster alone was responsible for her condition.

At a late hour last night Foster made an ante-mortem statement, and afterward sank into a comatose condition.

Run on a Bank.

YONKERS, N. Y., Oct. 21.—A run began on the Yonkers Savings Bank yesterday, caused, it was stated, by a rumor that the institution was to go into bankruptcy. At the close of business nearly 2,000 depositors had drawn out their money, amounting to $320,000. The officers of the bank say the concern is perfectly solvent and will promptly pay all demands.

Football Accidents.

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—R. H. Miller, class of '09, had his skull fractured yesterday while playing football at Cambridge. His injuries are not fatal. Simon, '05, another of Harvard's players, had his leg broken during the play. These are the first serious accidents that have occurred at Harvard this year.

BLEW OUT HIS BRAINS.

Could Not Catch His Wife and Her Paramour, So He Killed Himself.

PLYMOUTH, Pa., Oct. 21.—Jacob Masterman, an aged and wealthy farmer of Fairmount Township, 16 miles from here, who had been a widower for nearly 20 years, became infatuated with Ida Dimmick, a pretty 19-year-old servant girl on an adjoining farm. He courted the girl and made her numerous presents, but she refused to marry him owing to the disparity of nearly 50 years in their ages. Last December she succumbed to the pressure brought upon her by relatives and married the old man.

Masterman withdrew from active work on the farm for the purpose of enjoying the society of his wife. A short time ago he hired William Belas as a field hand. Belas was a good looking young man. Within a week after Belas was employed Masterman charged his wife with being too familiar with his employe.

On Friday morning Masterman awoke to find that his wife was not by his side. That his best carriage and team were missing and that Belas was absent from his accustomed work. Seven hundred dollars were abstracted from a drawer.

Masterman started in search of the elopers and at Hemlock Creek found that they had purchased tickets for Philadelphia. He returned to his farm, where he sat moodily Saturday and Sunday. Monday one of the farm hands heard a pistol shot, and discovered Masterman dead with a bullet wound in his forehead.

HOEY'S STATEMENT

He Refutes Certain Charges Against Him.

THE THREE NEW MORTGAGES.

The Hollywood Property Has Not Been Additionally Encumbered.

The Ex-President Says that the New Management of the Adams Express Company is Trying to Deceive Him—He is Not Afraid of Any Action the Company May Take—New Developments Expected Shortly.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—All the truth in the matter of the Adams Express Company against John Hoey has not yet come to light. As yet but one side of the story has been heard, that of the express company. Rumors have been abroad that Mr. Hoey's magnificent property has been mortgaged up to the last penny it can stand; that all the property is in Mrs. Hoey's name, and that what little is left has been made over to Mr. Hoey's son, Frederick C. Hoey. That latter has been his father's right hand man for several years past, and has for six years managed Hollywood Hotel with its 17 cottages.

Yesterday, for the first time since the beginning of the trouble, Mr. Hoey consented to talk to a reporter. He appeared very much annoyed at the statements which have been made regarding the mortgage on his property.

"I wish to state most emphatically that my property at Hollywood is not mortgaged. It is intact to-day as it ever was, and if things go as I feel sure they will, it will always remain so."

"But there are mortgages on file at the County Clerk's office in Freehold, N. J., are there not?"

"Yes; but they are not on my grounds at Hollywood. The mortgage for $18,000 is on a very valuable strip of land near Monmouth Beach, fronting the ocean. It has 1,300 feet on the water front, and has always been appraised at being worth $100,000. That makes the value of the property $130,000, which is very ample security for a mortgage of $18,000."

"What is the $48,000 mortgage for?"

"Seeing that I may be involved in a long litigation with the Adams Express Company, I have taken this step, after advice from counsel, in order to protect any persons to whom I may owe bills in Long Branch. They have always been my best friends, and now when all my property may be tied up, pending a long and tedious lawsuit, I want to see that they are protected."

"What about the mortgage to Wm. F. Fliess?"

"That is one for $30,000. It is secured by a valuable tract of land situated on the other side of the lake from Hollywood. I have been charged with adding both of these new mortgages to the one for $100,000 now held by the Adams Express Company. This is a lie made out of the whole cloth."

"What is this $100,000 mortgage?"

"An old story. Over five years ago I borrowed $100,000 from the Guarantee Trust & Safe Deposit Company of Philadelphia, giving them as security a mortgage on Hollywood. The mortgage ran out last of the Adams Express Company took it up."

"Was this on your own recommendation?"

"No; it was done at my request by the Finance Committee of the company. It looked into the matter and reported that the property was in every way satisfactory, and that the security was ample."

"Does this mortgage cover all of Hollywood?"

"No; I own over 400 acres there; but the mortgage represents the most valuable part of Hollywood."

"Is it true that you made out a lease for the Hollywood Hotel and cottages for twelve years to your son Frederick?"

"Yes. My son has had the operation and full charge of the hotel for the past six years, and he holds a verbal contract from me to that effect. To secure him I have had a lease drawn up and recorded. With the exception of this lease and the $100,000 mortgage, my property at Hollywood is free and clear, and in my own name."

Mr. Hoey did not wish to talk about his trouble with the Adams Express Company, but his son gave a brief outline of his father's position.

"If the Adams Express Company says that the security it holds is not sufficient for the amount of the loan, all it has to do is take off the attachment, and we have parties ready to take it up immediately. As to the $100,000 loan, my father is already making arrangements to have that taken up."

"I, too, want to emphasize the fact that none of the new mortgages are on the Hollywood property. There has been no desire to transfer the property or evade payment. Anything judicially declared to be due to the Adams Express Company will be promptly and gladly paid. Mr. Hoey is not afraid of any action the company may take, and when the time comes he will take care of his interests."

"My father's attorneys are Messrs. Root & Clark and Burrell, Zabriske & Burrell. The latter firm is well acquainted with the ways of both the Adams Express Company and the Southern Express Company. There is evidently a desire on the part of the new management of the Adams Express Company to do everything possible to demean Mr. Spooner and my father."

"When will the forthcoming statement be made public?"

"That I cannot now say; possibly my father may not issue one at all, but he is content to wait till the case comes up in court."

"I, too, wish to reiterate my father's statement that there have been no new mortgages on Hollywood, and that not a dollar of the property is in my mother's name. I am satisfied that if the attachments were withdrawn friends of ours would step forward immediately to take up these mortgages, as they regard the security as more than ample."

New developments are expected in a few days.

Murdered His Employer.
