Photographing Her Ma.

He is a young photographer, just starting in business and love. The other afternoon his girl's mother called for sitting. He desired to make a most favorable impression upon that portion of her mind which could appreciate photography, and so he became a trifle nervous in the work. But he got her fixed finally, with her eyes fixed glassily on a certain object, as is the custom then he drew the cloth, took out his watch and counted off thirty seconds restored the cloth and drew out the case. "Gracious!" he unintentionally ejaculated, "I forgot to put in the plate."

The old lady had to sit again, and she prepared for the ordeal, but with confidence in the operator considerably abated. He was more nervous now than before, and it was some few minutes before he had arranged to suit the focus. Then the cloth was again removed, the watch again pulled out. He counted off the thirty seconds, removed the cloth and drew out the case.

"Great heavens!" he groaned in a frightened voice, "I forgot to pull out the slide!"

The prospective mother-in-law sprang to her feet, snatched up her hat and shawl, and pausing long enough to inquire if he was drunk, shot out of the door, leaving the pallid faced artist grasping a chair for support.
