"TAXED TO DEATH."

Every barrel of beer pays an internal revenue tax of $1, of which about 30 cents are spent in pensions. Each barrel contains four kegs, and each keg about 100 glasses. Therefore, a man has to drink a whole keg of beer before he pays 25 cents into the treasury, of which but 7 1/2 cents go for pensions. He pays the barkeeper $5 for his beer before the pension fund gets 7 1/2 cents. This is the way the "people are taxed to death to pay pensions."

* * * The internal revenue tax on whisky is 90 cents a gallon, of which about 30 cents goes to the pension fund. The average price of whisky is 16 cents a drink, and there are about 30 stiff drinks in a gallon. A man has to pay the barkeeper fully $20 before he contributes 30 cents to the pension fund. This is the way the people are "taxed to death to pay pensions."

* * * The tax on cigarettes is 50 cents per 1,000, of which about 15 cents goes to the pension fund. A dude has to smoke three of these a day for nearly a year, and pay the tobaccoist $10 for them before he contributes the support of the war. This is the way "the people are taxed to death to pay pensions."

The celebrated imported Anchor Pain Expeller costs but 50 cents a bottle. Try it for your Rheumatism and be free from pain.

Chaffin Cabinet Resigns.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—According to a dispatch received here from Santiago de Chile, the Cabinet appointed by the Junta have tendered their resignations. A mixed Cabinet is to be formed in order to carry out a non-political programme. The resignation of the Cabinet is said to be due to the fact that the Liberal Deputies failed to elect Councillors of State in accordance with an agreement previously entered into with the Ministers.

MAHANAY PLANE.

Newsy Letter From a Reliable Correspondent.

Isaac Lingo, at one time P. & R. train dispatcher at this place, but now a resident of Morgan Point, N. J., was a visitor to town on Tuesday. His many friends were delighted to see him.

Miss Mary Colihan left on Thursday for Philadelphia, where she will make her home with her sister.

The land fair will close to-night after a very successful season.

John Connors, who was severely injured in the mouth by being struck with a brake lever at Lawrence colliery some time ago, is home from the hospital.

Considerable trouble was experienced in starting the electric lights on Tuesday night, owing to several of the lamps being out of order. The trouble has been remedied.

A special meeting of Council was held last week, at which it was decided to take 15 or more electric lights to be distributed among the different wards. At the same meeting Contractor C. R. Eberle, representing the Ashland, Shenandoah and Mahanoy City Electric Railway Company, presented a petition asking for right of way through the borough. This was granted, but the consent of the trustees of the Girard Estate has yet to be obtained. It is hoped that there will be no difficulty in getting it as the proposed railway would be a great improvement tending to an increase in business and prosperity in all towns through which it passes.

* Many of our merchants and business men are having their stores and offices wired for the incandescent electric lights.

William Smith, who has been night watchman at the P. & R. station here, has been promoted to the position of night-master at the St. Nicholas weigh scales.

List of letters remaining in the post office at this place Nov. 12, 1891: Miss Bertha Wilson, G. C. Walsh, R. G. Williams, Jno. Lucid, Jas. Potter, Chas. Baron, Chas. Blowers.

GLEANINGS WHILE RAMBLING.

A Protest Against the Jewish Exiles--The Coming Borough Election--Something Republicans Should Make a Study.

A few days ago I uttered a mild protest against the influx of Jews into this country under the direction of the Jewish Alliance. It appears that the Alliance has appointed agents throughout the country to secure employment for the refugees. Max Reese is the Shenandoah agent. A few days ago three Jews called upon Reese and he secured employment for them in the mines. One of them has already thrown up the work, claiming it was too hard. He offered his services to one of his countrymen who is engaged in the clothing business for $5 per month and board. Max Reese, when asked if the refugees intended to become peddlers said, "No, sir; no peddling will be permitted. If they don't work in the mines they can starve."

The approach of winter should remind those in authority to have all fire pipes put in first class condition, so as to prevent freezing and have them ready for use in case of a sudden call.

Work on the Lithuanian church, at the corner of Cherry and Jardin streets, which is to be a magnificent structure, is being pushed rapidly. It can be finished none too soon, as Robbins' opera house is packed to suffocation every Sunday, when the congregation holds services there. The danger of having a hall with but one means of entrance and exit packed in such a manner is by no means slight.

When the game season opened we were led to believe that the killing of partridges, pheasants, rabbits, etc., would be immense and that our hunters would return from trips with bags bulging with game, but up to date we have been disappointed. A band of sportsmen returned to town the other evening with empty bags. "No game?" asked a reporter of one of them. "Poker; that's all," was the reply.

Well, Turkey Run is to have electric lights and be a real, live adjunct of the town. That's good. The people on the hill have been exceedingly patient and need all that Council has given them. The road to Turkey Run is a dangerous one for man or beast, particularly at night, and it is surprising that many have not met with accidents while traveling to and from the place.

For weeks past numerous cows have been reported lost or stolen in this vicinity. I learned something yesterday that may throw some light upon the disappearances. There are over two hundred Italians located at the Shenandoah City colliery strippings and I learn that they are in the habit of driving cows from the bushes in that neighborhood and slaughtering them for the meat. The other day several Italians took a cow from the bush, placed a bag over her head and knocked her down. They then whipped out their knives and in a few minutes were carrying chunks of the carcass to their respective huts.

One of the Shamokin papers publishes an account of the thrilling experience of Leon Wolf, the sixteen-year-old son of Adolph Wolf, formerly of this town, but now of Shamokin. Leon had been hired to drive a laundry wagon and some one told him that a family named Lawless had some work for him. When Leon entered the house a woman named Mrs. Lawless locked the door, while Mrs. Lawless ordered the boy to hold up his hands. Leon did so and was relieved of $171, but not until the two women knocked him down and overpowered him. The women were arrested and settled the case by refunding the stolen money and paying all costs.

My remarks concerning Citizens' party a few days ago has stirred up several of our prominent politicians and the question: "shall a Republican or Citizens' ticket be placed in the field next spring?" is already under discussion. To my mind the day of usefulness of the Citizens' party is past. As an instrument for gain by the Democrats it is as a first class article and it is like a mill stone around the necks of the Republicans. Democrats and Republicans claim the right to take part in the Citizens' primaries and the Democrats always manage to fix the dates for holding their primaries after the dates fixed for the others. When the Citizens' primaries are held they are packed with Democrats and, frequently, there have been more Democrats than Republicans in attendance. Having fixed the Citizens' party ticket the Democrats then go to their own primaries and nominate a ticket calculated to knock down that which they helped to build in the other primaries.

Somebody remarks that, "There are several prominent Democrats in this town who will vote for the Citizens' ticket, but will not support a Republican borough ticket." True. But must we support a Citizens' ticket and court defeat year in and year out to accommodate these gentlemen? The results of the last two spring elections showed clearly that the Citizens' party is nothing but a humbug and, at best, is only a weapon the Republicans place in the hands of the Democrats for their own laughter.

Of what use have the several prominent Democrats who will vote for a Citizens' ticket, but won't vote for a Republican local ticket, been to the Citizens' party the past few years?

Let us take the past three years. In 1889 the Democrats said to themselves: "This year we'll elect our Chief Burgess and Tax Collector and give the Citizens' the tall end--the High Constableness and Borough Auditorship," so they elected Mulholland and Schmidt and allowed David Perry and J. S. Williams to go in. In 1890 the Democrats said: "We'll hold the head office and wedge in a borough auditor," and they did--re-selecting their Chief Burgess and Tax Collector and putting Doyle on the board of borough auditors, leaving the High Constableness and a borough auditor, to pick what consolation they could from them. Then 1891 arrived and the Democrats put their heads together again and concluded, "We have held the Chief Burgess for two years, so we'll let the Citizens' party have it this year, but for the sacrifice we must have a good return," and they got it. They surrendered the office of Chief Burgess, the High Constableness and made the members of the board of borough auditors two Democrats against one Republican.

Now where, during the past three years, have the prominent Democrats who could not allow themselves to vote for a Republican borough ticket display their strength? I feel satisfied that had the Republicans of the borough held primaries, as Republican primaries, and shut the doors against the Democratic primary packers they could accomplish as much, and in all probability much more, than has been accomplished during the past three years under the banner of the Republican party.

I am convinced that a Republican stands as good chance to be elected in a borough contest under the Republican banner as he does under the Citizens'. When Lessig ran for Chief Burgess last year and was elected he was recognized as the Republican candidate. In fact the term "Citizens'" dropped with the close of the primaries and the two tickets were looked upon as and called Democratic and Republican.

Let the Citizens' force be brought to a close. Let the Republicans resolve to hold their own primaries for their own benefit and, with strong men to the front, let them make a fight under their true colors. They certainly cannot fare worse than the Citizens' party has the past three years and its chances for better success are by no means few.
