THAT was a pretty healthy Republican district down in Tennessee that gave Houck, the Republican candidate for Congress, 8,000 majority at the late election. The Democrats can't stamp out the Republican majority in that district, though they have often tried to do so. The Republican majority in 1890 was 5,400.

TOWN BUDGET

FIRE IN THE FIRST WARD THIS MORNING.

THE COLUMBIA TEAM RAN AWAY.

The Borough Engine Thrown Over and the Driver Had a Narrow Escape From Death--The Damage.

At noon to-day fire started in the kitchen of a house on the alley south of the Lehigh Valley railroad and between Main and Lloyd streets. The house is owned by Michael Curley. The fire was caused by a defective flue. The fire was promptly extinguished and there was little damage. William Tobin, one of the firemen, had one of his fingers so badly cut while he was assisting in tearing the tin from the roof of the kitchen that he was obliged to consult a doctor. The residents of the vicinity of the house where the fire occurred are anxious to have the flue committee of the Borough Council see that a proper chimney is built in place of the flue that caused the fire.

There was a serious accident in connection with the fire. As Charles Blaker, acting driver for the Columbia Hose Company in the absence of Bill Donohoe, started the team and engine from the headquarters, the animals ran away. Blaker tried to guide the team straight, along Jardin street, but was unsuccessful. The horses turned eastward on Oak street and opposite Rowse's grocery store, the engine was thrown over upon its side. The horses dragged the engine across the road way to the wheelwright shop and were unable to go farther on account of the heavy load. Blaker, the driver, was thrown heavily to the ground when the engine was thrown over, but he had the good fortune to escape with a sprained ankle. People who saw the accident thought he was killed. The horses escaped injury. The hind wheels of the engine were badly wrenched and the dome was battered. The engine is the "Shenandoah," the one owned by the borough. The team that ran away was the one recently purchased by the company. The horses are young and had never been driven to a fire.

Prompt Work.

The crank pin of the fan engine at the Kehley Run colliery, operated by the Thomas Coal Company, broke at noon yesterday and knocked out the cylinder head. Superintendent Thomas Baird telegraphed to the J. W. Garner foundry at Ashland and Mr. "Tone" Garner took the next train for town. Returning to Ashland "Tone" had a new crank pin and cylinder head prepared and was in town again at 6 p. m. By 9 p. m. he had the damage repaired and the colliery resumed operations at the usual hour this morning. Great credit is due "Tone" Garner for the promptness with which he responded to the emergency of this case.

Gable; Trustee for three years, W. J. Selizer. The council is growing and commends itself to all who would make provisions for a rainy day.

A Woman Found Dead.

A party of boys hunting in the woods near New Boston discovered the dead body of a Polish woman, Tuesday afternoon. The body was almost devoid of clothing and death was evidently caused by exposure. A pocketbook containing $6 was found on her person. She was a heavy drinker and it is believed she wandered out on the mountain and fell over in a drunken stupor. Deputy Coroner Fogarty, of Mahanoy City, investigated the case. The woman was about 45 years of age and it is believed she was a resident of Brownsville.

DICKENS'S PET DAUGHTER.

Great Novelist's Favorite "Mamie" to Write of Her Father.

Pretty "Mamie" Dickens was already considered by those who knew Charles Dickens best to be the novelist's favorite daughter. To none of his children, perhaps, was Dickens more affectionately attached, and the "pet daughter" saw much of her father under all circumstances. When even the dogs were chased out of the novelist's study, Mamie was allowed to stay. The daughter is now a full-grown woman, living quietly just outside of London. For the first time since her father's death, Miss Dickens has been persuaded to write of him whom she knew so well. During 1892 there will be published in The Ladies' Home Journal, of Philadelphia, a series of articles by Miss Dickens under the attractive title of "My Father as I Recall Him." Fortunately for the thousands who will read what she writes in this series, Miss Dickens has a retentive memory, and she made copious notes during her father's lifetime. She will tell in this series everything she remembers of her father; how he educated his children; his family life and his personal habits; how he wrote his famous books; his love of flowers and animals; how Christmas was spent in the Dickens household; how the novelist romped with his children; the famous people who came to the Dickens home, and his last years and closing days. No articles ever published have in them so much promise of telling the world things which it has never known of Dickens, and Miss Dickens's story of her father's life will be eagerly looked for in thousands of homes where the name of Dickens is like a household word.

Eve's Daughters.

Marion Harland, on pages 103 and 445 of her popular work, "Eve's Daughters; or, Common Sense for Maid, Wife and Mother," says:

"For the aching back--should it be slow in recovering its normal strength--an Alcock's Porus Plaster is an excellent comforter, combining the sensation of the sustained pressure of a strong warm hand with certain tonic qualities developed in the wearing. It should be kept over the seat of uneasiness for several days--in obstinate cases, for perhaps a fortnight."

"For pain in the back wear an Alcock's Porus Plaster constantly, renewing as it wears off. This is an invaluable support when the weight on the small of the back becomes heavy and the aching incessant."

The Time to Advertise.

Business has begun to pick up in good shape, and those who are not making money out of general advertising now can blame themselves or their schemes--not the advertising. The men who worked the watch advertisements in past years have got something new, or are imitating some other firm's successful ideas. However, to the first ones in the field belong the spoils. This is a great time to advertise and there is no better medium than in the columns of the HERALD.

SCHOOL BOARD!

MEETING OF THE DIRECTORS HELD LAST NIGHT.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT

Complaint That the Theatrical Companies are Reducing the Attendances at Night School. Action to be Taken.

A regular meeting of the School Board was held in Superintendent Freeman's office last night, Messrs. Trezise, Bachman, Williams, Owens, Boddall, Gallagher, O'Hara, Gable, Butts, Hanna, Muldoon, Baird and Conroy being present. Superintendent Freeman made the following report in regard to the day schools: Enrollment to date, 2,411; enrollment for the month ending November 23d, 2,300; average daily attendance, 1,935; percentage of attendance, 90; pupils present at every session, 787; visits by citizens, 161; visits by directors, 20.

The report on evening schools was: Enrollment at the White street building, 71; average nightly attendance, 39; percentage, 70. Enrollment at Union street building, 61; average nightly attendance, 33; percentage, 64. Enrollment in Lloyd street building, 1st class, 85; average nightly attendance, 49; percentage, 64. 2nd class, Enrollment, 94; average nightly attendance, 44; percentage, 57. Turkey Run school: Enrollment, 36; average nightly attendance, 28; percentage, 63.

The reasons for the poor attendance at the night schools were discussed and, from statements made by directors, it was concluded that a large number of boys spent their nights at the theatre when their parents believe they are attending the schools. One director said he overheard some boys at a school house gate trying to decide upon some suitable place to hide their books for the evening.

Superintendent Freeman was authorized to have notices printed so that the night school teachers may notify parents when their children absent themselves. It was also decided that the day school rolls which provides for the suspension of pupils who absent themselves from a certain number of sessions be applied to the night schools. Mr. Butts said there are an insufficient number of lights for the night schools and on motion of Mr. Baird, it was decided to put electric lights in the rooms for the term.

It was decided to build outside chimneys for the heating apparatus of the White street building.

Mr. Boddall suggested that suitable quarters for the public library be secured in the centre of the town. He said that the library board decided that the present quarters are too small. A majority of the directors were against renting quarters and the matter dropped.

Mr. Muldoon, for the building and furniture committee reported that the contract for renting the West Centre street building had been awarded to Mr. Carden on the following bids: Wm. Llewellyn, $50; R. D. Hagenbuch, $48; J. P. Carden, $40.

Mr. Trezise, for the finance committee, reported that the balance in the hands of Treasurer Lamb amounts to $10,744.41.

Mr. Muldoon reported that George Quinn, of West Centre street, threatens to hold the school board for damages if something is not done to prevent the boys attending the West Centre street school from defacing his building. Mr. Freeman said the teachers are doing their best to stop the mischief and that he notified Mrs. Quinn to try and secure the names of offenders and have them arrested.

It is understood that at the next meeting of the board a movement will be made to restore the salary of the secretary to the rate in existence prior to the election last June.

William Harris, employed as a passenger train brakeman on the local division of the Lehigh Valley railroad, was killed near the coal dump at Delano last night. Harris was turning a switch when he was struck by a "dirt burner." He had his back turned to the engine that struck him. His body was badly crushed and he died at Girardville, on the train that was taking him to the Miners' Hospital. Harris was a young man and had been married but three months. He was the son of William Harris, a well known resident of Mahanoy City.

character of Syrup of Figs are purposely avoided by the Cal. Fig Syrup Company. It acts gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleansing the system effectually, but it is not a cure-all and makes no pretensions that every bottle will not substantiate.

Will Pottsville Decline?

It is rumored that Pottsville will not have an exhibit of school work at the teachers' county institute to be held here in the near future. It is hoped the rumor is groundless, as Shenandoah people have been anxiously awaiting an opportunity to compare the work of their children with that done in the schools of the county west. If Pottsville does not make an exhibit it will be given the white feather.
