A DYNAMITE LEAGUE

Sage's Assailant Only One of a Murderous Gang.

THE CHIEF NOW UNDER ARREST

William Southworth Believed to be the Leader of the Nefarious Crew.

The Organization Known as the G. A. L., Whose Object is to Wrest the Railroads From Monopolists—Bombs to be Used When Necessary—Southworth Identified by a Museum Lecturer—The Dead Dynamiter Still a Mystery.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—The man who threw a dynamite bomb at Russell Sage was a member of the Grand Army of Labor, an oath-bound organization, of which a dangerous lunatic, W. D. Southworth, is leader. Inspector Byrnes arrested Southworth yesterday, but unless Capt. Harry Horne's story proves false, at least a dozen more insane men are at large in this city, each capable of duplicating the terrible deed of last Friday.

This secret band had for its principal object the wresting of all the railroads from the hands of corporations and private owners. Southworth was insane on this subject and lectured and wrote about it in San Francisco and other places. People should be carried from New York to San Francisco for $1 a head, he thought. If a man wanted a better car than ordinary let him pay double price. The extra fares would pay for those who had no money at all.

So far as known the society had 12 or 15 members last Friday, when the man calling himself Wilson entered Mr. Sage's office and sacrificed his own life in carrying out his threat to blow the Arcade building and its 200 occupants into atoms if his demand for $1,200,000 was refused. Who these men are even Inspector Byrnes does not know, but there are slight clues which may result in their apprehension.

This band of murderous lunatics wore badges suspended from bits of red, white and blue ribbon—only Southworth called the colors backward, blue, white and red—corresponding to the three degrees of the order, red being the highest. The officers' badge was a large silver shield, with the letters "G. A. L." on it. Other badges were of brass.

Southworth is a short, thin man, about 5 feet 2 inches in height, with black hair and beard. His little beadlike eyes have a peculiar, vacant stare, which causes those who have seen him to believe that he is not all right mentally. He was shabbily dressed in a faded brown suit and wore a black overcoat.

Southworth has been positively identified by Captain Horne, the lecturer in Worth's Museum, as the man who was the companion of the dead dynamiter, who, however, remains as much of a mystery as ever. Horne says both men came to him about two weeks ago and wanted him to go lecturing on socialistic subjects.

Russell Sage and all the injured are doing well. The funeral of young Norton will be held to-day in Ocean Crest.

ANOTHER CRANK.

He Has Been Sending Threatening Letters to Rich Conrad Harris.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—An epidemic of cranks, on murder bent, has struck this city. The first of these made his appearance last Sunday afternoon in the person of John George Roth, who fired three shots at Rev. John Hall, D. D., the eminent divine. Fortunately his aim was poor and the reverend gentleman was spared. The would-be-assassin has since been committed to an insane asylum.

The second crank to appear was "Wilson," who on Friday startled the world by his almost successful attempt to kill Russell Sage, the well-known broker, with dynamite. His own terrible death and that of the clerk Norton, have been vividly described.

Yesterday another dangerous crank came on the scene. He is Oscar Weyrauch, 50 years old, a bookbinder by trade. In a threatening letter sent by him to Conrad Harris, a retired wine merchant, on Saturday, he demands $500 within two days. In the event of its refusal he gives vent to the following:

"If you don't take notice of this, my request, you will be the next to Russell Sage, and I will blow your brains in the air without I hurt anybody else."

Mr. Harris promply turned the letter over to the police, and it resulted in the madman being captured in a lodging house at an early in the morning. He submitted quietly to arrest, but said it would go hard with Harris if ever he secured his release.

Harris says he first met Weyrauch 14 years ago in Hesse, Germany, being introduced to him by the burgomaster. Weyrauch was a wealthy bookbinder at that time and a prominent citizen.

He has since squandered his fortune in wild dissipation and lately has depended on his friends and acquaintances for support. Harris said he helped him at various times, but recently he has not allowed him to enter his home.

Weyrauch was committed to the Bellevue lusane pavillion where he will be examined as to his mental condition.

Train Thinks He Knows the Man.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—George Francis Train, accompanied by a young man, visited the Morgue. The pair were taken to the ante-room of the Morgue and shown several fragments of wearing apparel supposed to have belonged to the man whose head lay in the Morgue. Train picked up one of a pair of hose which had been worn by the bomb thrower. He scanned the article carefully and then declared that it was one of a pair of hose he had given to the friend a few weeks ago. "I mean business," said Train, "but I am not at liberty to say all I know just yet."

A Clue from Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 7.—From the description telegraphed of the man who threw the bomb in the office of Russell Sage, in New York, it is believed he is none other than Hugh D. Wilson, who was at one time one of the firm of Brewster & Wilson, real estate dealers of this city. He went to New York some time ago where he was employed at last accounts in an insurance office on Pine street and was living on upper Sixth avenue.

The Morris-Bulkeley Case.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 7.—It is impossible to learn what was done by the five Supreme Court judges in the quo warranto case of Morris versus Bulkeley Saturday. They met in the County Bar Library in this city for consultation, hoping to reach a decision in the case. They shut themselves in. It is almost the unanimous opinion of lawyers that the Court will take jurisdiction. Their decision will probably not be announced until the opinion is written and submitted for approval, as a recent rule of the Court forbids the announcements of decisions until the opinion is written.

The Czar's Famine Decree.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 7.—In his decree, appointing the Czarevitch to superintend the work of relieving the famine, the Czar declares that the government must provide sufficient food to relieve the existing distress, and that the bestowal of this charity is a sacred Christian duty. The Czarewitch is to be assisted by a special corps of officials in every province visited by famine, and the government expects thus to avoid the waste of relief funds and relief food that have attended distribution through the medium of the ordinary officials.

A National Event.

The holding of the World's Fair in a city scarcely fifty years old will be a remarkable event, but whether it will really benefit the nation as much as the discovery of the Restorative Nervine by Dr Franklin Miles is doubtful. This is just what the American people need to cure their excessive nervousness, dyspepsia, headache, dizziness, sleeplessness, neuralgia, nervous debility, dullness, confusion of mind, etc. It acts like a charm. Remarkable Facts.

Heart disease is usually supposed to be incurable, but when properly treated a large proportion of cases can be cured. Thos Mix, Elmira Hatch, of Elkhart, Ind., and Mrs. Mary L. Baker, of Ovid, Mich., were cured after suffering 30 years. S. C. Lamoureux, druggist at San Jose, Ills., says that Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, which cured the former, "worked wonders for his wife." Levi Logan, of Buchanan, Mich., who had heart disease for 30 years, says two bottles made him "feel like a new man." Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is sold and guaranteed by C. H. Hagenbuch the druggist. Oh, What a Cough.

Will you heed the warning? The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford, for the sake of saving 50 cents, to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will Cure your Cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves Croup and Whooping Cough at once. Mothers do not be without it. Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold. A few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup, and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since it's first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a Cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10 cents, 50 cents, and $1.00. If your Lungs are sore, Chest or Back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by C. H. Hagenbuch, N. E. corner Main and Lloyd streets.

STATE OF OUR NAVY

Secretary Tracy Makes His Annual Report.

ARMOR TESTS SATISFACTORY.

American Tars Not at Fault in the Trouble at Valparaiso.

The Present System of Seniority Promotion Considered Unreasonable—War Ships Launched During the Year—New Style of Boat Needed for Chinese Waters—Recommendations of the Department Regarding New Ships.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The annual report of Secretary Tracy on the condition of the navy will be laid before Congress when it organizes for business. Concerning the present state of naval construction the Secretary says:

"Of the new constructions undertaken during this period, by far the most important is protected cruiser No. 13. This vessel, of 7,500 tons displacement, is a sister ship to cruiser No. 12. The peculiar advantages of these two cruisers consist in their extraordinary coal endurance and their high speed, in both of which respect they have no equal among the large cruisers of the world. With a maximum speed of 22 knots an hour and a sustained sea speed of 21 knots, they can safely be counted on, in any ordinary sea, to overtake any commerce destroyer, any commerce protector or any mercantile vessel now afloat, while their ability to cruise for great distances without recoaling makes them a peculiarly important addition to a navy destitute of coaling stations abroad. During the past year four new vessels have been placed in commission, making a total number of 13 since March 4, 1889."

The department will recommend that two more battle ships be provided for this year, and also a cruiser like the New York, of which Mr. Tracy says: "This magnificent vessel, whose functions cover a far wider range than those of an ordinary cruiser, presents an extraordinary combination of great coal endurance, high speed and efficient armor protection. With the exception of the three ships of the Indiana class, she is the most important element of defensive strength which this country now possesses."

The Secretary points out that the utility of the 3,000-ton cruiser is now questioned, as well as that of small gunboats like the Petrel, which are good chiefly for peace cruising purposes. He advocates boarding torpedo cruisers, and has this to say about boats for river service in China: "I recommend the construction of a vessel specially adapted for river service, but so constructed as to be capable of the highest military efficiency in the quarter where she is intended to operate.

Such a vessel, which would cost about $400,000, would immediately prove herself to be the most useful vessel of any foreign power upon that station."

Considerable space is given to the attack in Valparaiso on the seamen of the Baltimore, and the Secretary sums up the situation as follows: "Whether the attacks on the seamen of the Baltimore were preconcerted or not, their real cause can only be found in the bitter hostility of the Chilians toward the United States, a feeling largely due to the false and malicious accusations which have been put forth at Iquique and later at Valparaiso in reference to the action of the navy of the United States during the progress of the revolution. It is due to the navy to state that so far from having given cause for such a feeling, its conduct, under the instructions of the department, has in every respect been fair, just and temperate."

The Secretary says the most momentous question of the year was that of armor, and he refers to the trial at Indian Head as follows: "The results of the trial were in the highest degree satisfactory. Each of the six plates manufactured in this country was superior to the compound plate, while the nickel Harveyed plate and the high-carbon nickel plate were superior to all the foreign plates of the Annapolis trial. They may, therefore, be pronounced in advance of the best armor hitherto manufactured in Europe."

The subjects of high explosives, naval militia and a better system of promotion are discussed by Mr. Tracy.

A Fireman Murdered.

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 7.—While Thos. W. Holmes a fireman, was walking up Bridge street yesterday morning, Harry Gillett rushed out of a saloon, where he had been engaged in a quarrel, and, placing a pistol at Holmes' side, fired. Holmes was taken to a hospital, dangerously wounded. Gillett is under arrest.
