CRANKS IN WASHINGTON.

Pension Officers Greatly Assessed By People Who Want Government Money, Wantiversis, Doc. 17.—Washington has been the Meson of crimes since the assassination of Garffeld, more than ten years ago, and recently the num ber has grown to large proportions,

Since the attempt on the life of Russell Sees by Norcross, the police have given much attention to these propis. Like Nourress most of the creats was come to Washington labor under the hillinomation that the world, or the festerument, or an individual owes there mayor.

Aguar on of the sub-trensury scheme is the prompal names, according to the seminary off or of the Washington Police force of the influx of cranks here. These cranks have heard so much about the Government leaning money to the people that they become impressed with the rise that they can secure their share by application to the Treasury Department.

Yesteriar two men were arrassed and they rambind on about "levelling up" matters, earing that they would have to be given their share of Government money before they left Washington. These delusions, the saultary officer says, eventually drive creaks to desperation and fregodies are likely to follow. Many handrad claimsufes for peasions are included in the creak army. A great many of them have no just claim, but they persist in annoying position. but they persist in annoying pension

Ludge's Bill Regarding Postmasters. Washington, Dec. 17.—As soon as the committees are appointed, and bilts can be offered in the House, Mr. Lodge of Massachusetts will introduce a bilt to regulate the appoinment of fourth-class postmusters. This bill was introduced by Mr. Lodge in the last Congress, and by Mr. Lodge in the last Congress, and he made an argument for it, before the Committee on Postoffices and Post-roads. The purpose of the bill, gener-ally stated, is to give the appointment of fourth-class postmasters into the hands of the Postmaster-General, and take them out of the hands of the Sen-ators and Representatives. The bill has hed the approved of all the civil services had the approval of all the civil service clubs of the country.

Clara Barton's Efforts for Bussia. Washington, Dec. 17 .- Clara Barton, President of the Red Cross Society of America, has for some time past beau negotiating with the proper authorities in the matter of transporting grain which may be louated in the United States to the suffering peasants of Russia. Miss Barton has been in communication with the Department of State and the Russian Legation, and while she cannot pendently at this time make public size result of her efforts, she hopes to be able to do so within a day or two. The second or two. The movement under her quiet direction has assumed large proportions.

Russa Steerer O'Brien's Extradition.

Losson, Dec. 17.—District Attorney, Hamilton of Albany, N. Y., and dissertive Thomas Reilly, p., are in London, awaiting the extradition of Tom O'Brien, the banes man, was is wanted in Albany for swinding James W. Peck of that city. It is believed the O Brien's extradition will be greated to-day, unless the court should discille to accept certain technical obsertions of freed by certain technical objections offered by O'Brien's connect, who claims, among other things, that at the time of the sileged swindle, the bunco business was not an extraditable offense.
