HIS WIFE FIRES THE INTRUDER.

An Effort to Emulate Bomb-Thrower Norcross Which Failed of Success.

Mrs. Sage Called from Her Room to Talk With a Maniac-He Wanted 89,500, and Threatened to Blow Up the House If He Didn't Got It-Disappeared Without His Identity Being Discovered.

New York, Dec. 22.-It has just leaked out that on Saturday night last another crank attempted to get at Russell Sage with the avowed purpose to kill him. He called at 9:30 o'clock, just after Mr. Sage had left the back parlor of his home on Fifth aven ue, and gone upstairs to bed Mrs. Sage said this morning that she regretted that the crank's visit had become known because the notoristy of the recent explosion had already attracted the attention of cranks and beggars all over the country.

"Mr. Sage," she said, "had just gone up stairs to his room. The door bell rang, and Mary, the door girl, throwing open the door, was face to face with a man anywhere from 28 to 35 years old, will dreased, but with a hougry and wild look. Brushing aside the girl, he got into the half. Then he turned around to the girl, who still held the door open, and said:

"I must see Mr. Sage, I wrote him a letter this morning, saying that I must have $2,500. I have come for it.' "Many was thoroughly alarmed, but she said that the man could not see Mr. Sage. He put his right hand in his overcost pocket, and said:

"Then I will kill him. This pistol will said:

will reach."
"Leaving the door open and the manstanding there in the hall, Mary ran to me in the back parter. I had heard only a rambling in the hall, but when I saw Mary's white face I knew there was trouble at hand. She told me that there was a man in the hell who said he was going to kill Mr. Sage. I told her to tell him to leave the house. The girl told him this, she said, but he wouldn't budge. 'I can't put him out,'
said Mary.

said Mary.

"Well, I can," I replied, and I walked out into the hall and saw one of the most pitiful looking creatures I ever saw. He looked so wild in the eyes and haggard. He had what I call a dead face. I walked straight at him, and, as I approached him, pointed to the door and said: 'You leave this house at He backed into the corner of the door in the ball. I walked square up to and took him by the coat alseve and to and took him by the coat steeve and thrust him half way through the open door. The as I was preparing to slam the door, he raised his hands and cried: "I'll blow you all up in 15 minutes." "That is the last I saw of him. Dr. Munn came in a few minutes later, and, after I had took him about it, a policeafter I had told him about it, a police-man was sent for and our private de-

Charles Lincoln, the Pro vidence corthat Reporter Trickey said at their in-terview with the doctor.

Reporter Day aware that he asked the doctor about this interview and he re-fused either to deny or approve it. He had an interview with Dr. Graves on the latter's arrival from Denver on April 27th last. The doctor soon after he met him, sekel shout the bogus telegram sent to the doctor's wife by Re-porter Kirby. He also asked about the other bogus message sent to his wife by the Providence reporters and then he told the witness he had been appointed to look after her property after being solicised three times. He knew much about her but for the sake of her daughabout her but for the sake of her daugh-ters he had kept quiet, but he did not think he could ramain quiet any longer. Mrs. Parnaby, he said, had many lov-ers, and then he spoke of her alleged in-timacy with Bennett, the guids. It was all bosh that he had drawn up a will for her, but he admitted that he was the beneficiary under her will. An autopay had been held on the body in Denver, and it had been shown that she autopsy had been held on the body in Denver, and it had been shown that she died of poteon. The first he knew of her being poisoned was when he was told by Mrs. Worrel. Mrs. Worrel, st., was a coarse woman. He did not bebelieve she was as sick as she said she was. This interview occurred in the Western Union Telegraph office.

Witness had a second interview with the ductor on the following morning.

Witness had a second interview with the doctor on the following morning. Mr. Tucker, of the Boston "Giobe," was with him on this occasion. They entered the doctor's house at 7:30 a.m. The doctor said that when he met Mrs. Burnaby she was not in good physical condition. He gave her much attention, for which he received extra compensatiom. He and Mrs. Graves were guests of Mrs. Baroaby the last summer at Bine Mountain Lake. He spoke of her as a woman of had character.

PLUMB'S SUCCESSOR.

Five Names Prominently Muntioned-Ingalla Standa No Show.

TOPERA, Kan., Dec. 22.-Kausas is slowly recovering from the grief and nsternation into which she was plunged by the announcement of Senater Plumb's death, and to-day the question is: "Who will succeed him?" Gov. L. H. Humphrey will have the appoint-ment of the new Senator and will doubtless make it soon.

Three of the greatest Republicans of Kansas to-day all reside in Topeka, namely: George Peck, the present So-licitor General of the Santa Fe; ex-Gov-licitor General of the Santa Fe, ex-Governor and ex-United States Senator Thomas A. Caborne and Major J. K. Hudson of the Topska "Capitol."

Peffer being of the Alliance party, inquiry at the Executive office of the Capitol this morning, is to the effect that residence or location will cut no figure in the appointment of the new Senator. John J. Ingails of Atchison is not even a possibility on account of his spathy in the recent elections.

J. R. Burton of Abliene, the Republican who took the stump against Peffer

J. R. Burton of Abliene, the Republican who took the stump against Peffer in joint debats, and the recently appointed World's Fair Commissioner from Kansas, vice Reese R. Frice, resigned, is a possibility, with only his youth against him. Congressman Bishop Perkins of Oswego, who was esteemed as one of the ablest members of the old Republican delegation in Congress from his State is also spoken of.

These are the only names that will be considered, with the probability of the considered, with the probability of the choice narrowing down to three men-Perkins, Peck and Hudson. The fact that Peck is a railroad man may oper that Peck is a railroad man may operate against him. Hudson is a brainy, courageous Republican leader and fighter. He is almost the exact counterpart of Plumbin features. He is a litter, uncompromising opponent of the Alliance, and fought the People's party to the death, both in his newspaper and on the stump, in the last canvass.
