

GEN. GARCIA KILLED

The Mexican Commander Murdered by His Troops.

THEY GO OVER TO THE REBELS

Case, the Revolutionary Leader, Beginning to be Greatly Feared.

His Forces Being Augmented Every Day.—The Mexican Army in a Bad Way. Many of the Soldiers Having Been Convicted of Crimes, Who Are Sympathetic With the Government.—Opinion of a Mexican Railway President of Boston.

MONTREY, Mex., Dec. 31.—Gov. Arce, of the State of Nuevo Leon, and military authorities here are much alarmed over the situation at the frontier. The movements of the troops through here from the lower parts of a Republic during the past few days have been very great, and the transportation facilities of the Mexican National railroad have been overwhelmed to an immense extent by the heavy demand upon it by the government.

The general has pushed all of his available troops to Nuevo Leon, from which place they are distributed along the right bank of the Rio Grande. The news was received here last night that Gen. Lorenzo Garcia, in command of the troops in the field in the Northern part of Mexico, with headquarters at San Juan, had been murdered by his command and that the entire force, numbering several hundred men, under his immediate command, had gone over to the side of the revolution, crossing over into Texas in a body at a point between Roma and Carrizosa.

The private soldiers in the Mexican army are nearly all convicted criminals who instead of being given a term in prison are sentenced to serve with the militia. They are desperate characters and are nearly all secret sympathizers of the revolutionary movement. Gen. Garcia was one of the most prominent and efficient officers in the Mexican army and his death at this time is a serious blow to the government.

FEAR GARZA NOW.

Alaskan Authorities Beginning to Be Worried by the Revolutionary Leader.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Dec. 31.—The military authorities of this department are of the opinion that Garza has a secret plan against Mexico that he will follow out.

The Mexican authorities regard him with great fear, his work of the past three months showing that he is a much more capable leader than was at first supposed.

His forces are known to be well organized. Their number on the Texas side of the border can be but poorly estimated, but according to the plans made by Capt. John W. Burke, of the United States Third Cavalry, who is thoroughly informed on the situation, the whole Mexican population of the border states are sympathizers, if not actual followers, in the revolutionary movement.

THEY'RE TO BE NO GREAT TROUBLES.

Boston, Dec. 31.—President W. B. Reynolds, of the Mexican Central Railroad, upon being interviewed about the troubles on the Mexican border, said: "What information I have concerning this alleged revolution I have gathered from the newspapers. We have our own news which are questioned with some of the Western Union Telegraph Company, but we have any great trouble we would certainly be aware of it. It is quite certain that information would not be suppressed by the government, and furthermore, we send in reports in confidence on our relations with the Mexican government. We are well informed on Mexican affairs, and were there any trouble we would soon learn its nature."

TO HELL WITH STARVING RUSSIANS.

BOSTON, Dec. 31.—An appeal is published here by E. F. Tamm, in behalf of the starving Russians. His appeal is addressed to the farmers of this country and all others who are willing to assist in relieving the poor peasants of the famine-stricken country. He earnestly asks that the farmers will give for the benefit of these unfortunate people, and in addition he will donate a bushel for every ten he receives. The Pennsylvania railroad has decided to ship all their intended for Russia to New York free. The first shipment will be ready in about ten days.

COULD'S STAND HIS PARENTS' OBJECTIONS.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 31.—William Marshall, aged 18, of Foxcroft, near Milton, who committed suicide Tuesday night by shooting himself, was married Saturday to Miss Agnes Wiley, of No. 3, McKean to his parents. The family opposed the match, but his wife being so serious were convinced that he remained that would not worry them long and, giving up their to his new, killed himself.

DESTROYED FIRE AT ALBANY, Pa.

ALBANY, Pa., Dec. 31.—The jagged buildings were destroyed by fire yesterday. The following are the occupants and their respective losses: Handelman's shoe store, $10,000; McDonald & Snap, clothing, $5,000; Zeth's business college, $5,000; Railroad Men's Christian Association, $1,500. The two latter are partly insured. Miss Anna Mack, a student at the business college, was taken from the burning building by means of a ladder, having been near a terrace door.

Light Wreath by the President.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—The President held a public reception yesterday afternoon and in half an hour he shook hands with 1,000 people, according to the tally kept by a doorkeeper. The crowd included 600 excursionists from New York and Boston, mostly school teachers, and another excursion from New York, numbering 350, and members of the Scientific, Literary and Historical Association, now in session here.

Alleged Heirs to $25,000,000.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 31.—A family has now turned up in Shamokin, Pa., who claim to be the lawful heirs to an immense fortune in English estates alleged to be worth $25,000,000.

RAVAGES OF THE GRIP.

Many Victims of the Disease in Various Sections.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 31.—Richard Vaux is confined to his bed, suffering from the grip. This is the second attack of the disease.

WILLIAMSBURG, Pa., Dec. 31.—About 700 employees of the eastern division of the Philadelphia & Erie Railroad are laid off with the grip. It is estimated that there are fully 1,000 cases of the disease here.

NORTH ATTLEBORO, Mass., Dec. 31.—Three hundred new cases of the grip and eight resulting deaths have been reported here.

NEW HAVEN, Dec. 31.—There was success in an interval of 34 hours between the death of the wife and mother of Attorney Charles D. Hayden. His wife died yesterday of the grip. Her mother, Mrs. Harriet Ruback Dutton, died in the afternoon.

BRANFORD, Conn., Dec. 31.—Malinda Hayden, aged 40, who for a number of weeks was housekeeper for Charles Harrison, who died of the grip, died in the morning of the same disease. She had been ill but three days.

BOSTON, Dec. 31.—Of the twenty deaths reported to the Boston Board of Health up to noon, eight were from pneumonia and four from grip with complications. There are sixty-one police officers reported on the list.

MINNEAPOLIS, Conn., Dec. 31.—Grip has been particularly fatal here. Mrs. Timothy Dacey, aged 50, died from an attack of pneumonia superinduced by grip, yesterday morning. Mr. Dacey died of pneumonia in the afternoon after a short illness, brought on by an attack of grip. He was 81 years of age. The couple had been married twenty-five years.

Grip Sufferers Placed.

LONDON, Dec. 31.—The local authorities of Dover, Kent, in their attempt to stamp out influenza, have placed that disease as contagious, and as it is an offense for persons calling public places, a number of persons suffering from the disease have been arrested, and charged with violating the health laws. They were all convicted and each person arrested was fined $25.

The Bangler-Hardens Identified.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 31.—The young brawler who killed one officer and wounded another has been identified as Robert J. Casanova. He is the son of the late George Casanova, who was a member of the firm of Boyce, Evans & Casanova. He is well educated. Young Casanova's father died last April, leaving a widow and a daughter, now about 18 years old, and two sons, the eldest being Robert. The family formerly lived at Bayview, N. J., and young Casanova was always considered a well behaved and promising young fellow.

Central American Reciprocity.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—Reciprocity arrangements were signed yesterday by Secretary Blaine with the Ministers of Guatemala and Salvador for their respective countries. The arrangements with Guatemala require the approval of the Congress of that country, but it is expected that the arrangement with Salvador will be approved.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The Chicago grain blockade is at an end.

Aaron Van Meter of Red Bank, N. J., was instantly killed yesterday by having a tree he was cutting down fall on him.

James S. Hinkley, inventor of the knitting machine which bears his name, died at Norwalk, Ct., yesterday, aged 74 years.

Michael Taylor, a well known local politician of Red Bank, N. J., died yesterday. He was elected to the Legislature in 1901 and served three terms. He also held many other political offices in the State. He was a Democrat and a leader of the party in Monmouth County.

SEEKING A DIVORCE

Prince Blucher and His Matrimonial Troubles.

WAS DECEIVED IN HIS WIFE.

He Says Her Social and Financial Standing Did Not Suit Him.

The Princess Was a Breaker Girl, and the Marriage a Year Ago Was on a Grand Scale.—Blucher, Who is a Descendant of the Famous Marshal, Was Threatened Disobedience By His Father.

New York, Dec. 31.—One of these alliances in which a European nobleman and an American girl were the high contracting parties will soon be dissolved; the nobleman can obtain his desire, which is a divorce.

Prince Ferdinand Blucher, descendant of the old Prussian hero called by his countrymen "Marshal Vorwarts," who fell upon Napoleon's flank at Waterloo, married a year or so ago in Milwaukee, Miss Alina Loeb of Brooklyn.

It appears that such party inhaled under a misapprehension regarding the other, for whereas the Prince had nothing but expectations, his bride imagined he had estates in Germany; while he fancied her relatives in New York and Brooklyn were immensely wealthy, and would put him on his aristocratic feet here in America.

When the honeymoon was over and finances began to run low the mutual disappointment was developed. The Princess Blucher returned to Brooklyn and went to reside with her parents on Lafayette avenue, while her husband reverted to his former boarding house life.

When Prince Blucher's father, Prince Blucher von Waldehoff, of Schloss Blumenthal, Posen, Prussia, Germany, heard of what he considered a moral offense, his face blood boiled, and he threatened to cut his son off with a pension.

Other German relatives advised a divorce, and harried and worried on all sides, the young German nobleman is now looking to the law courts for success of his matrimonial sorrow. He has consulted Lawyer Ambrose H. Pardy as to divorce proceedings.

The Prince is short in build, has full blue eyes, a golden mustache, and looks like the German patriot half a mile off. He is over in his manners, very affable, wears check trousers, and speaks good English with a slight German accent.

"It is true," he said, "that my wife deceived me grossly as regards her social and financial position, but I am aware I could not obtain a divorce in this country, because of deception practiced before marriage. I have, I hope, something more tangible on which to rest my plea. I have found out a chapter in the life of my wife which will give me a clear case, altogether apart from social or financial questions."

"Why," exclaimed the Prince, waxing warm, "she told me her New York relatives were wealthy and would assist me, but she was a breaker girl, and she did not advance her wealth. Her father does not own his house in Brooklyn. Well, I suppose every young man is supposed to make a fool of himself once in his life."

CRUSHED BY THE CARS.

FRIGHTFUL DEATH OF TWO MEN AT A FACTORY IN VALLEY FALLS, N. Y.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Dec. 31.—While a gang of men were employed in moving cars at the Rhode Island Pecking Shoe Shoe Company's Works at Valley Falls a freight train which was being made up in the yards struck the cars with considerable force. Most of the men managed to jump out of the way, but Isaac Yale and Sarkis Sahlgren were caught between the cars and a pile of old iron and crushed to death.

Yale was a Frenchman, lived at Central Falls and leaves a wife and six children. Sahlgren was an Armenian, lived in Valley Falls, and had been in this country but four months, having a wife and child in Armenia.

Italian Indemnity Again.

ROME, Dec. 31.—Notwithstanding the denial made by American officials, it is again asserted, and apparently with authority, that the Italian and American governments have agreed that an indemnity shall be given in the case of any victims of the New Orleans lynching proven to be Italian subjects. These repeated assertions of concession on the part of the American government are distributed, in some quarters, to the desire of the Radial administration to make an excuse to the Italian people for renouncing full diplomatic relations with the United States. The American details have excited much surprise and earned embarrassment to the government and its friends.

Victory for the Telegraphers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 31.—The Railroad Telegraphers have won their fight. Late yesterday afternoon General Manager Towne of the Southern Pacific railroad company agreed to withdraw the obnoxious article, and also agreed to reinstate about three-quarters of the striking operators. This admission was the outcome made a losing fight, until the operators came to their senses by threatening a general strike.

Wanted to Be a New Yorker.

AUSTON, Mass., Dec. 31.—The horribly mutilated and decomposed body found here last Saturday is conclusively proven to be that of Frank Taylor Bligh of New York City. Bligh, who worked for Norman Goodrich & Co., left New York on June 8 for his vacation. After spending three days in Boston, during which time he was said to have drunk heavily, he suddenly disappeared. It is probable that he was lured to the spot where his body was found and there robbed and murdered. The body has been removed to Concord.
