THE EVENING HERALD.
 ALL THE NEWS FOR ONE CENT.

Has a larger circulation in Shenandoah than any other paper published. Circulation books open to all.

WHILE it is complained that Pottsville received the lion's share of the appointments on the hill, it cannot be gainsayed that they are good ones throughout. The re-appointments are men of experience, consequently desirable for their respective positions, while the few ones have been chosen solely for their merits and entire adaptability for the positions to which they have been appointed.—Republican.

The abilities of the appointees are not questioned and it is hoped that the Pottsville people are not foolish enough to glory in the belief that competent men can only be secured in their town. Pottsville always has been, is, and always will be hoggyish.

THE coolest man in the world is he who gets his printing done at some little job office and comes to the newspaper office for a free puff. There are such people living yet, we are sorry to say, who are either so stupid or unthinking as to suppose that a newspaper is published as a gift enterprise, and that its columns should be given away; that it can live on wind and exist by puffing; that it is a public convenience, everybody's friend, which does not need patronage, but comes out daily or weekly for the general benefit, and pay its own expenses. We have no kind words for the man who pays for his enterprise at one place and expects the newspaper printer to help for nothing.

A SHENANDOAH grumbler now grumbles because Pottsville got eleven out of the nineteen appointments made by the Commissioners on Monday, and Shenandoah got—left. And again he grumbles because Pottsville gets more jurors than Shenandoah. He should remember in this connection that there is a law governing the character and class of men whose names go into the jury wheel. This may have something to do with the seemingly undue proportion of jurors taken from Pottsville.—Republican.

The "Shenandoah grumbler," the HERALD and the Republican are all well aware that there is a law governing the character and class of men whose names go into the jury wheel. They are also aware that that law is subservient to a custom established at the county seat, whereby a crowd of corner ornaments, heelers and saloon suckers are pensioners, supported by jury and arbitration fees. The correspondent to the HERALD hit the bull's eye. The harder Pottsville is hit the louder it squeals.

By its own language the HERALD or its correspondent insinuates that Pottsville gets the largest batch of jurors by crooked work. Does our esteemed Republican contemporary mean to cast a reflection on the integrity of Sheriff Comrey and Jury Commissioner Batdorf as they retire from office?—Chronicle.

There are more than the HERALD and its correspondents and readers north of the mountain wondering over Pottsville's good luck in the jury business. In every drawing two-thirds of the jurors loom up in the persons of Pottsville men. If the people of that place had the same luck with lotteries they would soon wipe them out of existence. No, the HERALD is not reflecting upon anybody. We are only surprised 'by Pottsville's good luck.

Stood the Test.
 Alcock's Porus Plasters are unapproachable in curative properties, rapidity and safety of action, and are the only reliable plasters ever produced. They have successfully stood the test of over thirty years' use by the public; their virtues have never been equalled by the unscrupulous imitators who have sought to trade upon the reputation of Alcock's by making plasters with holes in them, and claiming that to be "just as good as Alcock's," and they stand to-day indorsed by not only the highest medical authorities, but by millions of grateful patients who have proved their efficacy as a household remedy.

Beware of imitations, and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for Alcock's, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute. 1w

KELLY CAUGHT IT

HE INSULTED AN OFFICER AND SUFFERED FOR IT.

Cases in Court in Which Town People are Interested—Constable Toomey's Case Set Down for Trial.

One day last October while Policeman D. J. Conners, of town, was in a Pottsville saloon with friends a fellow named Michael Kelly, residing at Gilberton, entered the place. Some weeks previous Conners had arrested Kelly in town on a charge of disorderly conduct and the arrest poisoned the latter's mind against the officer. As Kelly entered he exclaimed, "Hello, Conners!" The policeman returned the salutation pleasantly and added, "Come and have something, I'm setting them up."

Kelly turned with a scowl on his face and said, "No, I wouldn't drink with you and, what is more, I can pay for my drinks."
 "O, very well," replied Conners, "I wouldn't give you one, now."
 "You're a dirty ———," retorted Kelly.

This was too much for Conners, who shot out his right arm. The blow landed on Kelly's face and knocked him down. Kelly gathered himself up and hastened to Squire Hill's office. When Conners was on his way to take a train to Shenandoah he was arrested. He gave bail to answer a charge of assault and battery preferred by Kelly.

On Wednesday the case went before the grand jury. The bill was ignored and Kelly was saddled with the costs. This case should serve as a warning to toughs who labor under the idea that a policeman is an animated spittoon. A policeman is entitled to the same rights and respect accorded any other citizen.

The Williams Funeral.
 The funeral of William Williams, the fire boss who met his death in one of the Park collieries, took place yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted at the late residence in Park Place by Rev. D. I. Evans, pastor of the Welsh Baptist church, of town. The remains were then placed on a Lehigh Valley train and arrived here, accompanied by a number of mourners, at 1:30 p. m. The cortege then proceeded to the Odd Fellows' cemetery, headed by the members of Washington Camp, No. 112, P. O. S. of A. The pall bearers were Messrs. George L. Hafner, Henry Sampsell, John William, Edward Brown, Samuel Ball and Joseph Lehm er.

Obituary.
 Daniel Campbell died at his home in Turkey Run this morning from pneumonia. He was 54 years of age and leaves a widow and eleven children. All the children, except one, reside in town. The youngest is 13 years of age. John J. Campbell, the second oldest son, is a resident of Montana. The deceased had been a resident of Shenandoah for thirteen years. The funeral will take place at 9 a. m. on Monday. High Mass in the Annunciation church.

"Y" Programms.
 The following programms will be offered at the "Y" meeting this evening: Reading, Miss Shollenberger. Essay, "Our Home," Mabel Marshall. Singing, Choir. "Joy of Single Life," John T. Lawson. Reading, Carrie Smith. In instrumental music, Mamie Boyer. "How I spent New Year's." Critic, Edward Danaus.

Deserving Praise.
 We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. C. H. Hagenbuch, Druggist.

To Correspondents.
 It is not the intention of the HERALD to abridge the discussion of public affairs through its columns, but it has become necessary to request that all communications must be as brief as a fair presentation of the subject will admit.

Revival Services.
 The revival services at the Methodist Episcopal church will be continued next week. Last night the Rev. Charles Roads, of Philadelphia, will preach. This is Dr. Thomas' first appearance in Shenandoah and he will doubtless be greeted by a large congregation.

It has been proven by living witnesses that Pan-Tina is a remarkable specific for the quick cure of the difficult and dangerous throat and lung troubles. It equal can't be found. Costs 25 cents. Pan-Tina is sold at P. F. D. Kiril's drug store.
