Chas. Quackenbush Swore to Kill His Wife and Did So.

ALSO RID HIMSELF OF LIFE.

Par ioulars of the Terrible Tragedy at Newark, N. J.

Quackenbush Was the Son of a Mayor of Albany, N. Y., and His Wife Was at One Time the Most Beautiful Woman in That City-She Would Not Let Him Have the Custody of Their Children-He Had Made Repeated Attempts to KIII Her.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 9. -The news of the double tragedy at Newark, N. J., in which Charles S. Quackenbush, a well known and wealthy resident of this city, killed his wife and then shot himself, created great excitement among the friends and acquaintances of the family. He had attempted to kill his wife several times, and about a month ago was only restrained from carrying out his purpose by a policemaa. Three weeks ago he tried to shoot her again, and swore he would kill her sometime.

He had returned from Montreal, Can., and about 8 p. m. went to the house and about S p. m. went to the house where his wife was living, on Warren street. He went into the kitchen from the hall and saw his wife Annie in the next room preparing their three little girls, tanging in age from two to five years, for bed. Some hot words were exchanged, and Quackenbush then pulled a revolver from his pocket and shot his wife in the back of the head near the ear. She had turned to run from him. He then went into the kitchen and shot ear. She had turned to run from him.

He then went into the kitchen and shot twice more at her. He then placed the revolver to the roof of his mouth and revolver to the roof of his mouth and fired, the bullet going through his brain and lodging in the ceiting. Quackenbush took his oldest child, a girl of seven years to Montreal two weeks ago. On Dec. 29, he wrote to his wife telling her to send the rest of the children and their clothes to him. The letter read as follows:

ANNIE-Send my clothes and Maggie's, her must and my gloves, cap and shoes and everything. Send our three young ones but you stay there. If you come you will know the result. C. S. QUACKENBUSH.

P. S.—Bad luck to you, send the kids.
The next day his wife received a telegram reading: "Send clothes for Maggie gram reading: "Send clothes for Maggie and myself by box. Also three children. You stay there. Reply. C. S. Q." It is probable that he did not receive any reply to his message, and that he came to see about it. The only person in the house at the time of the shooting was a Mrs. Gould. She heard three shots and a heavy fall, but was afraid to see what was the matter. Mr. Gould returned a few minutes after the shooting and began an investigation.

He found Mrs. Quackenbush leaning over the banister groaning, while the three children were buddled together in a corner crying. The polics were notified and were soon upon the scene. Quacken-bush was found lying in a pool of blood bush was found lying in a pool of blood by the kitchen table. His wife was taken to St. Michael's Hospital in the ambulance. There the doctors probed for the bullet and found that it had entered the brain. She remained unconscious from the time she was discovered in the hall-way until she died, and could not make any statement in regard to the shooting. Quadkenbush had about $40,000 in securities on his person and $750 in bills. He fell heir to a large estate in Newark by the death of his father a few months ago, and since then has been trying to get rid of his wife. She has persisted in following him. Quackenbush repeatedly tried to kill his wife in this city. Much sympnthy for the unfortunate woman and the children is expressed.

New York & New Haven Difficulties.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 9.—The offi-cials of the New York & New Haven rail-road and those of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers are still trying to arrange their differences. If anything, a strike is more imminent than since the argument begun. The railroad is not willing to pay for over time. Chief Arthur and the Directors met, but refuse to give out anything for publication. A big meeting of the men is proposed soon.

Paris Papers on the Egyptian Question Paris, Jan. 9.—The "Journal des De-bats" vigorously demands the ap-pointment of a regency to govern Egypt. The "Gaulois" intimates that France is willing to concede a great deal to England in return for a partial restoration of Turkish authority in Egypt. The "Gaulois" adds that Lord Salisbury will probably try to enlist the Sultan into the Dreibund in return for some concession in regard to Egypt.

Like Angels' Visits.

Washington, Jan. 9.—Secretary Noble has received a letter from a man at Boston, in which he encloses his pension check and says he voluntarily re-linquishes his pension, as he does not wish further assistance from the government. It is an unusual occurrence such people are few and far between.

Ferdinand Asks Ald of the Pope.

Panis, Jan. 9.—It is rumored that Prince Ferdinand wrote to the Pope asking His Holiness to intervene for the pre-vention of trouble between France and Bulgaria. Ferdinand is said to be much more auxious about the situation than Stambutoff, who maintains a resolute and defiant attitude.

The Boston & Maine Must Pay.

Boston, Jan. 8.—The Supreme Court has decided that the Boston & Maine Railroad Company must pay to Dr. James R. Nelson, of St. Johnsbury, Vt., $13,500 awarded him by the Superior Court for injuries received in a collision near that town two years ago.

Senators generally were desirous of getting down to committee work, and after adopting with pleasant unanimity Mr. Morgan's Niesraus Canal resolution, adjourned until Wednesday.

There were probably two hundred additional bills added to the House calendar, the call of States for that purpose having been completed prior to adjournment. None of them were of a startling or unusual nature; they principally related to financial and economic matters.

Mr. Enlos proposed the repeal of the entire McKinley bill, and numerous additions to the free list were proposed. A number of free silver coinage bills and bills to establish an income tax were introduced.

The Blauvelt-Cole Affair Bids Fair to Become a Battle Royal.

rested, and That Harry Blauvelt is to Be Prosecuted for Taking the Books of the Firm---Mrs. Blaunelt Now Says It is a Consniracy to Break Up Their NYACK, N. Y., Jan. 9 .- A battle royal

Rumor That Cashler Cole is to Be Ar-

has begun here between the parties to the Cole-Biauvelt affair. The books resently examined by experts and sent by Dickinson to the creditors' meeting in New York Wednesday have just been returned to Nyack. Hearing that they were in Judge Cole's office Mrs. Blauvelt went there during the morning and demanded them. Judge Cole refused to de-liver them, and Mrs. Blauvelt sought advice of her counsel, ex-Assemblyman Arthur S. Tompkins, Then Mrs. Blauvelt, her counsel, Harry Blauvelt, and Mrs. Blauvelt's sister, Mrs. Dr. Polhemus, and William Polhemus, went to the Commercial building and made another formal demand of Judge Cole for the books and he again refused and a stormy scene ensued. Mr. Tomp-kine, Harry Blauvelt and young Polhe-mus attempted to enter the Judge's office and the veteran lawyer seized a big poker and ordered them away at their peril. Harry Blauvelt thrust his hand to his pocket, Polhemus swore and both women yelled.

"Well, mamma, they shan't doctor those books," shouted Harry. The white-haired old judge presented a striking picture as he stood with uplifted poker defying the crowd and roaring in a loud voice: 'Go away! Go away, I tell you, before some one is hurt."

The invaders started back and the judge at once closed and boited his door. The enemy retired from the scene and the box of books was carried from Judge Cole's office to the office of Lawyer Wyre Dick-inson's counsel and placed in charge of a policeman.

Mrs. Blauvelt was so excited that it was with difficulty that her sister induced her to leave the public building and go home. The awars and the noise drew many team that the building from their offices to withese the disturbance.

Representatives of two insurance companies compelled young Blauvelt to produce their books which he took from the office. He claims he was justified and that he acted under orders from his father and a special agent of the Royal Insurance company. He also asserts that Dickinson has hidden the expiration book to prevent the Blauvelts knowing anything about the expiration policies. thing about the expiration policies When asked as to a current rumor that

When asked as to a current rumor that Cashier Cole is to be arrested, Mrs. Blauvelt said the matter was in the hands of her counsel, but that severe steps would probably be taken in some directions before many days. It is also reported that Harry Blauvelt is to be arrested for his action of Thursday night. Mrs. Blauvelt was indignant at the report and insists that a conspiracy exists to ruin her and her husband's business.

It is very evident that the business is It is very evident that the business is already ruined, the offices being deserted except by a young clerk, who refused to listen to orders from Harry Blauvelt and said he would only obey Dickinson. It is now impossible for the affair to be settled without further scandal to the injury of all concerned.
