AFFAIRS CAUGHT HASTILY.

What News Gatherers Take a Moment to Tell About.

Apples are plenty. More snow wanted.

Winter sports are the go. The season for smelts is here.

Oranges continue plenty and cheap. The number of deaths attributed to grip is alarmingly great.

It is natural for a fellow to boil over with rage when he gets fired.

The local politician is already turning one eye on the spring elections.

A number of New Year resolutions are already sadly in need of repair.

"Why is it called 'leap year,' papa?" "Because the old girls leap for joy, my son."

If it were as easy to write in a check book as a dirty how prosperous this world would be.

A PETITION FOR GRAVES.

Strong Efforts to be Made to Get His Sentence Commuted.

CANON CITY, Col., Jan. 14.—Dr. Graves was quite cheerful yesterday. Through the intercession of friends he was excused from having his hair and whiskers removed. He was not compelled to wear the striped suit of the prison.

The regulation death watch has not yet been placed on his cell, and will not be unless the Supreme Court refuses to grant the doctor's motion for another trial.

The doctor speaks confidently of an early release, and says he could not live if he thought he had to stay here long.

Every effort is being made to hurry the action of the Supreme Court, and it is expected that an early decision will be rendered in the motion for a new trial.

There is talk now of getting up a monster petition to the Governor, asking him to commute the sentence of Dr. Graves. Pressure has been brought to bear from several points, and when the time is ripe all forces will be united, and executive clemency will be sought.

Governor Rout is a kind-hearted, politic man, and one likely to meet the requests of the people, provided the appeal to his humanity is general.

Reports from all points in the State show a general change of opinion in the last ten days. Never before in the history of Colorado has a murder trial excited so much interest as that of Graves.

The women of the State have now taken the matter up, and sympathy for the condemned man is spreading.

"Full of Trouble" is the unhappy sufferer with pains and rheumatism. Red Flag Oil is the famous pain cure for Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia and Lumbago. Cost 25 cents. Red Flag Oil is sold at P. P. D. Kirlin's drug store.

The Old Reliable Reading Road the Favorite Everywhere.

In glancing over our exchanges we find frequent mention and high commendation of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, which, under the wise and vigorous policy instituted by President A. A. McLeod, has reached a degree of prosperity that a few years ago seemed impossible to attainment.

To meet the demands of the traveling public of to-day it is necessary that a railroad company furnish not only speedy and safe transportation but luxurious accommodations as well. All these requirements are met in the fullest measure by the Reading which certainly deserves its poetical appellation, "The Royal Route." The road is in exceptionally fine condition, and its motive power and car equipment are constantly being improved and added to. It enjoys the proud distinction of owning and running the fastest locomotive in the world, the famous "No. 206," which made the world's record of a mile in 39 1/2 seconds.

This triumph is but an example of what the Reading is accomplishing in all directions. In the Boston Christian Leader, of January 7th, we find the following, which fairly reflects the popular appreciation of this line: "The Royal Blue Line between New York, Philadelphia and Washington, via the Reading Railroad, has attained a world-wide reputation, owing to the high standard of excellence it has maintained ever since it was inaugurated and its success, although unprecedented, is fully deserved. The trains are the finest and safest in the world and vestibuled from end to end making each train a practically solid and continuous structure throughout. They are equipped with Pullman's antitelescoped steel frames, rendering injuries from collision impossible. They are heated by steam and lighted by the Pintsch gas system. Each train is equipped with palatial day coaches, the finest Pullman cars on all day trains and sleeping cars on night trains, and an unequalled dining car service. The speed attained by this line is the fastest ever made between New York, Philadelphia and Washington, and it is a service, which, taken as a whole, is unequalled by any through line in the world."

"Fast Mail." Lincoln J. Carter's Big "Fast Mail" company, appears at Ferguson's theatre this evening. This is the original railroad melodrama that has so many imitators on the road this season, and is said to be one of the best scenic productions in America. A car load of scenery is carried and the manager promises that every piece will be put up in this town.

Respond Cheerfully.

Owing to the extraordinary expense the Grant Cornet Band has been under the past year and which will be a necessary expense for 1902, it is compelled to appeal to a generous public for assistance in the shape of contributions towards its fair, commencing February 13th, and continuing two weeks. Solicitors will call on the business houses in a few days and a liberal response will be thankfully received and acknowledged by the

PREFERRED HUSBAND TO HOME.

A Romantic Elopement, Which Didn't End in the Usual Forgiveness.

RED BANK, N. J., Jan. 14.—The quiet village of Middletown is treated to a sensation in the form of a romantic elopement. Miss Laura Belle Van Kirk, the pretty daughter of Charles Van Kirk, a farmer, has eloped with Frank Lamb, a young Englishman, who was employed by her father.

Last Wednesday Lamb's term of employment was up, and he left the place. A few days later Miss Van Kirk told her parents that she was going to visit her aunt at South Amboy. Nothing further was thought of the matter until Mr. and Mrs. Lamb returned to Middletown with their marriage certificate.

The bride related the romance of her runaway marriage to her parents while her husband remained outside. Mrs. Lamb's parents were willing to receive her back into the household, but emphatically vowed that Lamb would not be allowed to put his foot across their threshold.

Mrs. Lamb then asked for her clothing which was given her and she then joined her husband and the couple walked away.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Kirk do not know the present whereabouts of their daughter and her husband.

CARDINAL MANNING DYING.

Last Rites of the Church Administered to the Prelate.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—The physicians of Cardinal Manning announced last evening that they could no longer hold out any hope for the recovery of their patient. His malady is bronchitis, complicated with congestion of the lungs.

The Cardinal was able in the afternoon to make formal profession of his faith, the impressive and touching ceremony being observed in the presence of the full-robed Canons of the diocese, who were ranged about the bed. Afterward the venerable prelate feebly uttered his blessing upon the Canons. He received the last sacraments of the Church. The Pope sent his blessing.

The dying Cardinal lies in a small bedroom at the top of the Archbishop's house, Westminster, which he has occupied as his sleeping apartments since 1865.
