 Has a larger circulation in Shenandoah than any other paper published. Circulation books open to all.

THE REASON WHY.

We beg to remind the HERALD that the county is put to great expense at each succeeding term of court to interpret for the Shenandoah criminals and their witnesses who just that often through the court house. Why should it be called upon to furnish interpreters for its non-English speaking people, but few of whom have become naturalized citizens and are therefore incompetent to be numbered amongst a population for jury purposes?—Pottsville Republican.

Because article VI. of amendments to the constitution of the United States says that in all criminal prosecutions the accused shall be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation. If the county seat people acquaint a non-English speaking accused of an accusation without the services of an interpreter they may reduce their expenses. The accused is certainly not obliged to employ an interpreter for the court.

The Harrisburg Telegram says that crazy crank objector Holman is being cordially denounced for the defeat of the bill to send relief to starving Russians, and it is probable that the measure will be reconsidered and passed. If there is any gratitude for past favors, now is the time to show it to Russia.

AND the water war still continues.

The death of two Roman Catholic Cardinals and the Duke Clarence, not counting many other prominent men in this and other countries, makes the first month in 1892 a particularly mournful one.

We need but ask the blessings of 1891 repeated in this country in 1892. The nation under Republican rule has grown and prospered to a wonderful degree. Never has prosperity been so great or wide-spread over the country before. Let the people think of this and be careful that they do nothing to change the current of events and check the tide of prosperity in 1892. It is a bad time to try experiments proposed by visionary theorists and free traders.

The injunction proceedings against the electric railway were satisfactorily adjudicated to-day.

NOT ALL—SEE?

We think in comparison with the English speaking population of Pottsville, Shenandoah has always been fairly treated in making up the jury wheel. No better jurymen than those from Shenandoah come to the court house, and when our contemporary insinuates that Pottsville jurymen are "a crowd of corner ornaments heelers and saloon suckers," it betrays its ignorance of the facts, or wilfully maligns Pottsville people, which however, is nothing unusual from that source.—Republican.

No, not all. But in the sense of remarks made by the late Horace Greeley one time: "All horse thieves are Democrats; but all Democrats are not horse thieves."

The mercantile appraisers of Philadelphia have been appointed, but our old friend, Major Moorhead, is not in it.

FREE coinage is a ghost that haunts the Democracy just now and won't down at the bidding of Springer and other would-be party leaders. The Democracy have patted the free coinage advocates on the back and encouraged them to such an extent, that it has become almost a party measure. Now that they find it a troublesome thing and a rock upon which they threaten to split, they would like to get rid of the question until after the Presidential election. The tariff question also threatens to give them no small amount of trouble.

SUIT WITHDRAWN

THE ELECTRIC RAILWAY AND WATER COMPANY AGREE.

THE INJUNCTION IS DISSOLVED

Lively Times at Robbins' Opera House Last Night—A Fight That Was Not a Burlesque Affair.

The injunction served on the Mahanoy City, Shenandoah, Girardville and Ashland Street Railway Company by the Shenandoah Water and Gas Company is dissolved.

Representatives of the two companies spent the past two days discussing the merits of the case and yesterday afternoon they arrived at an understanding by which it was agreed that the attorneys of both parties should go before court this morning and consent that the injunction be dissolved.

Under the agreement the electric railway company is to follow its original plans and build its tracks in the centre of the streets.

Work on the road will be resumed Monday morning, providing the weather is not too severe.

"Water! Water!" has been the cry in town for weeks past and, as all know, it has brought about many complications. In answer the cry came "You have water," but those to whom it was addressed turned a deaf ear.

People interested, and some who didn't care whether school kept, or not, commenced a course of heavy thinking.

Some people ventured the theory that the electric railway company was scratching the back of the new water company, while others said it was the old water company's back that was being scratched.

Suddenly the old water company served an injunction on the electric railway company and crippled the progress of its work in town. Then new theories took root in all sections. Many couldn't understand what the electric company had done to be subjected to such treatment.

Many worthy people sprang to their feet and cried "Shame!" Let us have the electric railway, and as quick as possible, too. The joint committee said "Me too." The old water company said, "You can count us in after we are inured against any possibility of claims for damages by the railway company. Others said "I told you the railway would never be finished. This injunction now cripples it for all time."

But the people who held to the latter theory slipped out on their calculations, for

The electric railway company has cast aside the injunction and all the impediments attending it and

Once more the Mahanoy City, Shenandoah, Girardville, and Ashland Street Railway Company is in a high gear, and the work of completing the road in town will once more under way.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. John Houseknecht has returned from Berwick, where she was visiting her relatives.

J. Herbert Diehl, of Danville, is in town for the purpose of re-organizing the S. P. K. Nearly all the old members seen so far are anxious for a re-organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Evans, Mrs. Annie Evans, of Nanticoke, and Miss Martha Bowen, of Grand Tunnel, arrived in town yesterday to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. D. I. Evans.

Colliery Notes.

Kehley Run colliery suspended operations yesterday morning on account of the storm. The employees were paid in the afternoon. The colliery was a so idle to-day.

Cambridge colliery didn't work yesterday on account of the storm. The operators took advantage of the idleness and paid their employes a day ahead of the time fixed.

"Let observation with extended view, survey good things from China to Peru" and he will not find anything so astonishing as merit in killing all the pains that flesh is heir to, as Salvation Oil, as he will know, when he has given it a fair trial.

Obituary.

Thomas Major, father of Samuel Major, of town, who died at Boston Run on Wednesday, was buried yesterday. The deceased had a wide circle of friends in this county.

MONKEY AND PARROT TIME

May Davenport's Burlesquers Play Under Difficulties.

May Davenport, who with her husband, Harry, conducted a five-cent store in this town a few years ago, undertook to give an entertainment in Robbins opera house last night, with the assistance of a galaxy of hand-painted, blonde-bowiged relics of better days. May did not succeed very well. The financial receipts were light and the audience was a fair example of gathering at dog fights.

When the curtain rose the hand-decorated damsel was revealed to view, sitting in a semi-circle on the stage. May was the centre figure. She was the interlocutrice. Blackfaced end men occupied seats at the ends. The audience allowed the company to get into its work, and then the fun commenced. An end man told what he announced was to be a joke. The audience failed to give any indication of having heard it. Ten minutes later a man in the audience shouted to the end man, "Tell that joke again. We tumble now." The request was not granted, but, instead, a female fantastic figure advanced to the footlights and told of "Mary and John" in a cracked voice. The audience demanded an encore. The cracked voice declined to give it. The audience persisted and one of the end men demanded order. It was nip and tuck between the end man and the auditors for several minutes, when the latter decided to give the "stars" another opportunity. An end man took advantage of the silence and asked Mary D. if she knew the difference between Ireland and a church. Mary said she didn't. The end man said, "Because they both have Belfast in them."

"You're a liar!" came from the audience. One of the end men, who disports himself under the name of Lester and says he hails from Hazelton, jumped from the stage and sought the man who stood behind the insult. He found him. Some of his friends, too. While the free-for-all fight was in progress the Italian club swinger stepped to the footlights and relieved himself of this: "Ladies and Gentlemen—We will go through this entertainment if it takes until two o'clock in the morning." Lester resumed his seat on the stage, much the worse from wear and tear. The balance of the show was cut short. The only other incident was the meeting of May's husband and Deputy Tax Collector Knevels. The husband gave the collector the slip two years ago. Mary made a gallant fight for her better half and laid down the law in great shape, but the taxes, amounting to $7.97, were finally paid.

Manager Ferguson says he is glad he didn't give May a date. That the show would have been a disgrace to his theatre. We believe it.

Entirely Satisfactory.

W. J. Arkell, publisher of Judge and Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper, writes:

JUDGE BUTTING,
 Cor. Fifth Ave. and Sixteenth St.,
 New York, January 14, 1891.
 "About three weeks since, while suffering from a severe cold which had settled on my chest, I applied an Alcock's Pectoral Plaster, and in a short time obtained relief.

"In my opinion, these plasters should be in every household, for use in case of coughs, colds, sprains, bruises, or pains of any kind. I know that in my case the results have been entirely satisfactory and beneficial."

Full of "Go."

Following on the heels of other realistic dramas "The Midnight Alarm" given for the first time in Brooklyn last night has a real fire engine and a pair of beautiful horses, with varied scenes of New York city life, an East River wharf, a New Jersey farm, and a train running at full speed over a draw bridge are features of the drama, and a living statue clock adds to the sensationalism of the drama, which is full of "go" and was received with plaudits by the large audience present. "The Midnight Alarm" will be produced at Ferguson's theatre on Thursday evening, next, for the benefit of the Columbia Hose Company. Music by the Schoppe orchestra. Reserved seat chart now open at Kirlin's drug store.

"Columbian Fair March,"
 The latest in sheet music. Also 3,000 copies to select from. Brumma's, 18 East Centre street. 15-4f

Married.

David J. Brooks and Miss Emma E. Edwards, of town, were married to-day at the residence of Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, in Philadelphia, by Rev. Frankland. The marriage took place in the Quaker City upon request of Mrs. Lewis, who is a sister of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Brooks will return to town in about a week.

A Warm Subject.

Reference to our church notice will show that the subject of to-morrow night's sermon at the Methodist Episcopal church will be "The Lake of Fire."

The People Wait.

The old water company and the joint water committee are both anxious to serve the people—meanwhile the people are waiting to see who will serve them.

"Old Miner" On Deck Again.

EDITOR HERALD:—Discrimination is something I have always scorned, so to be consistent I will endeavor to show that all corporations are not alike in treating their employes, therefore those who deserve credit should be acknowledged. I am inclined to believe the P. & R. C. & I. Company was the first to comply with the semi-monthly pay law. Other corporations have trampled upon the law with contempt and treat their employes with indifference. The P. & R. C. & I. Company never introduced the pluck-me store system. This company annually pays out millions of dollars to their employes. The pay car makes semi-monthly trips as regular as the sun, thus affording every man the privilege of expending his hard earnings wherever he pleases. Another grand feature is the beneficial fund adopted by this company. It has proved a blessing to thousands of its employes and especially to the widows and orphans. Whatever differences may have been in the past, through radical ideas on either side, it is safe to say this company deserves the respect of every employe. It is equally true there are others who have pretended to follow in their footsteps. With regard to the pay, however, there is a wide difference. The others, if not company stores, may be termed the next of kin. I have in my possession a pass book, bound in sheep skin. I can recollect when it was, and is yet, requisite for me to obtain the signature of some inside official with an additional O. K. on the front page so that he could obtain the necessities of life. I am constantly in dread of three things: the O. K. pass book, his lordship—the mule, and a bank check on pay day. In conclusion, I am of the opinion that some parties will not be pleased with me in being so plain. It is immaterial, however, as I shall always stand up for the truth in behalf of my fellow workmen.

Conductor Hendricks Injured.

B. F. Hendricks, the well known and popular Lehigh Valley passenger conductor, met with a serious accident last evening while en route from Mahanoy City to town on the irregular miners' train. As the train rounded the curve east of the red bridge Hendricks was passing from one car to another. The platforms were covered with sleet and very slippery. The conductor lost his foothold as the train lurched and he was thrown from the train down the steep embankment. Some of the crew witnessed the accident and the train was stopped. The conductor was picked up and brought to the local Lehigh Valley depot, where he was attended by Dr. Hamilton. He was sent to his home in Mahanoy City in a critical condition, but to-day his friends stated that the injuries were not as serious as at first supposed. They consist of a large scalp wound and a broken nose. The attending physicians say his condition is not dangerous at present.
