FRAGAS ON A TRAIN

Ruffians Fight With Knives on the N. Y. Central.

THE PASSENGERS TERRORIZED.

Brave Work by a Detective Keeps the Gang in Check

He Overpowers the Leader, Who After Being Bound With the Bell Ropes Breaks Loose and Creates More Trouble—Conductor and Trainmen Powerless Before the Weapons of the Drunken Crowd—The Run from Albany to Poughkeepsie a Trip of Terror.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Jan. 18.—Three drunken laborers kept the passengers on train No. 6, on the New York Central Railroad, which left Albany at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, in a state of nervous terror until the train reached this city. The men were William Beardon, Albert Burneseen and John Van Noine. They work for P. McArdle, Albany, breaking up old engines, boilers, etc., and have the reputation of being desperate characters.

They climbed up on the platform of the buffet car, and commenced shouting and cursing, and threw down their chisels, drawers and sledges. Then they entered the car and announced loudly that they proposed to "run this train."

Chief Detective Humphrey, of the Central road, was in the car and heard the declaration. "Behave yourselves," he at once said to them.

Burneseen jumped at Humphrey and tried to shove him out of the car, paying no attention to Humphrey's assertion that he was an officer. Beardon also advanced on Humphrey, and the latter jerked himself away from Burneseen and pulled his revolver. Some of the passengers quietly dropped down under the seats.

The sight of the revolver subdued the men, and Humphrey joined his wife and child in a rear car. When the train got to Hudson the conductor shouted to Humphrey to come back. Humphrey found Beardon and Burneseen lying on the floor, clinched and landing at each other with knives. Beardon was on top. They were in the centre of the car, and the other passengers were huddled at either end watching the fight.

Humphrey went up to them. When Beardon saw him he jumped up and started for him with his knife upraised. "I'll cut your heart out!" he yelled, and the passengers thought he would.

Humphrey grappled with him and threw him back before he had an opportunity to use his knife. Then with the bell cord he bound the ruffian. The other two men were scared into submission and Humphrey again returned to his wife.

Humphrey had not much more than seated himself when the conductor again appeared. He was accompanied by several passengers pale with fright. "He's cut himself loose," they cried, "and he's coming for you again."

So he had, and he had driven eight or ten men out of the baggage car and was on his way toward Humphrey, flourishing his knife and blaspheming. Humphrey started to meet him, revolver in hand. But he did not need to use it. He caught Beardon and quickly overpowered him and took away the knife. Then he sat on him until the train reached this city when all three men were handed over to the police and locked up.

A BRUTAL MURDER.

Hungarians Kill One of Their Number Who Had Beaten Them Wrestling.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 18.—A brutal murder occurred in the town of Malthy yesterday morning. A party of Hungarians were returning from a christening at the time and stopped into a saloon, where some of the men began to wrestle. All the men had partaken freely of liquor, and when Stephen Harly and Mike Noticoo were wrestled by Mike Litheran, there was a great deal of ill-feeling displayed. The defeated man finally left the saloon and, arming himself with fence pickets, awaited Litheran.

As soon as the latter appeared his countryman attacked him with the sticks and beat the life out of him. He was found dead on the roadside at daylight. The murderers are in jail.

Runaway Street Car Causes a Panic.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 18.—The brake on car 10, of the Orange Grove horse car line, broke while the car was going down Market street last evening. The car was going quite rapidly and was on a down grade when the driver detached the horses and sprang to the ground. Nearly 50 passengers were crowded inside the car, which gained headway every moment, and a panic ensued. Women screamed and men jumped off. At Market street down the runaway car crashed into another car, and Emil Crasher, an Italian living at Jamaica, L. I., had the lower part of his body badly crushed. The other passengers escaped injury as if by a miracle.

AFRAID OF A SCENE.

The Dead Prince's Body Will Not Be Taken to London—The Queen's Health.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—General disappointment was expressed when it became known that the body of the Duke of Clarence and Avondale would not be brought to London, but would be conveyed direct from Sandringham to St. George's Chapel, Windsor.

This is said to have been decided at the instance of the Princess of Wales, who is opposed to having her son's funeral made the occasion of a public parade through the streets of London. It is also intimated that persons near to royal circles are afraid that the display of the body of the Duke would shock the already overstrained feelings of the royal family.

It is said that the police have been apprehensive of this, and in case of a London general display the utmost precautions would have been taken.

Anxiety is again aroused as to the Queen's health by the news that she will not go to Windsor on the occasion of the interment. The reasons assigned is that the royal physicians consider the weather too inclement for Her Majesty to face the exposure of the weather and the ceremony in her present frame of mind.

While the Queen is officially declared to be in good health, it is certain that her physicians are in daily attendance and are constantly consulted by those surrounding her as to her course of action.

In most of the churches and chapels yesterday reference was made to the dead Prince. Yesterday the body of the Duke, encased in a coffin made of oak grown in his father's estate, was removed from Sandringham Hall to the parish church, where it remains under guard. Tomorrow evening it will be taken to London via the Great Eastern Railroad.

TROUBLE AT COAL CREEK.

The Miners Aggressive and a Big Fight Expected.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 18.—Early in the morning 2,000 miners gathered on the hills about the Coal Creek stockade and kept up a constant fire of small arms and held a semi-civilized ghost dance above the two small block houses which contain 200 State troops. The miners came on near the military pickets that an exchange of shots was indulged in. None of the soldiers were hit, and it is thought that the miners retired without injury.

Ever since a soldier accidentally killed a convict the miners have been arrogant and aggressive. They swear that when they get ready they will exterminate the civil guard, State troops and convicts, and forever end convict labor in the mountains of East Tennessee.

Oklahoma's Possible Future.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 18.—Warren G. Sayre, of the Cherokee Indian Commission in law, in this city says that the commission has just closed negotiations for the purchase of 90,000 acres of land from the Tonlawas and Cherokees. He says the commission has purchased 15,000,000 acres of land for the Government at a cost of $12,000,000, and that the original Oklahoma Territory has been increased in size until it is now as large as Indiana. He thinks Oklahoma will have 400,000 population by the time the next President is inaugurated and that it will then become a State.

MAY DECLARE WAR

Congress Will Promptly Back Up the President.

INSULT ADDED TO INJURY.

Commander Evans' Dispatch Regarding the Balmainian Refugees.

He Considers the Criticism of the Chilean Foreign Minister as Offensive and Unworthy the Representative of a Serious Government—The Reported Withdrawal of Matta's Impertinent Message Discredited in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The programme and work of Congress this week will depend almost entirely on the Chilean correspondence. Within 24 hours of its receipt Congress may declare war. Nearly everything depends on the tone of the President's letter of transmittal, in which, it is presumed, he will embody some recommendations. So patriotic is the feeling among members of Congress that it is reasonable to suppose that suggestions made by the President will be promptly endorsed by Congress.

The correspondence, will, in its line of ordinary procedure, go to the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate and the Committee on Foreign Affairs of the House, but the situation of affairs has, it is thought by many, assumed such a grave aspect, that both Houses will probably take up the correspondence and give it immediate consideration.

The correspondence itself is said to be of such a nature that it will serve to fan the war-like flame that has warmed up the patriotic feeling of Congressmen. A member of Congress who has assisted the President in preparing some of it is authority for the statement that the Legislative branch of the Government would declare war without delay upon hearing the correspondence read, without even a suggestion from the President.

The following dispatch was received by the Secretary of the Navy last evening:

VALPARAISO, Chili, Jan. 16. "Secretary of the Navy, Washington: 'The American Minister informs me that the Chilean Minister of Foreign Affairs has changed his mind about refugees now on the Yorktown, and that they may be taken out of any merchant vessel touching at a Chilean port by local authority.'

'Arrangements had been made for all of them to sail today, but this change of base on the part of the Chilean Minister of Foreign Affairs compels me to keep them, which crowds me very much. Shall I land them at Callao, Peru, or Molendo, Peru? No steamer from here goes direct to neutral territory.'

'This unexpected act of the Chilean Minister of Foreign Affairs is due, he states, in part to my saluting the Spanish Minister when he came aboard to deliver two refugees. I have requested the American Minister to say to the Minister of Foreign Affairs that I am responsible to my own government, and not to that of Chili, in such matters, and that I consider his criticism offensive and I will not accept it. His action seems unworthy of the representative of a serious government.'
