We haven't heard any of the anti-quay men in town murmur about the Beaver verdict. Perhaps they are not reading the papers now.

Will Chill back down after all the bluster it has made? It is doubtful. She wants to gain more time to better prepare herself for an encounter with the United States.

The enemies of Senator Quay will please note the fact that he has already pushed one of his libel suits to a trial and verdict. By the way, what has become of the libel suit Governor Patton instituted when he was a candidate a year ago last fall?

The spirit exhibited by many of our young men of town reminds one of 1861. It is hard to subdue the spirit of Young America when the country's flag is insulted.

"PARISIAN beauties" will hereafter give Shenandoah the cold shoulder. Our people have no use for such degraded beings; and it will be money in their pockets, if they have any such a thing in their garments, by remaining away.

SENATOR QUAY has scored victory number one in his fight for vindication in the courts. Many other suits pending. Those who have been tempting him to enter the courts for so long will probably have all they have been aching for before the Senator winds up.

It would be just like Holman to offer a resolution to make spectators pay admission to the House. Surely the show is worth regular theatrical rates.

Two years ago the New York World was dying for a chance to get Senator

Quay into the courts. It defied the Senator to get upon the witness stand and stand trial regarding his character because it knew that he was at a disadvantage. All the mud slinging was done in New York state. But when the dirty work was commenced in his own state the Senator lost no time in sitting down on them. Congratulations to Senator Quay on his victory in Beaver. Vincit qui patitur.

THE war scare will be a benefit to the country, even if there should be no war. It will awaken the government to a realization of the country's condition to withstand foreign invasion and spur it on to other measures looking to maintenance of the country's importance.

"THERE is quite a strong sentiment in his district," says the Athens News "in favor of sending Galusha A. Grow back to Congress. If he will consent to the use of his name there will be no trouble in electing him." Send him back to Congress, by all means, and as many more of his calibre from other districts. Such men as Grow and Reed are fully able to match the fire-eaters of the South.

We have heard much about the enormous crops during the past few months, but very few people have an idea as to their value. Recently a special bulletin was issued by the Agricultural Department which gives us figures so large that it is almost impossible to comprehend them. It is said that the corn crop amounted to 2,000,154,000 bushels, worth in round numbers $830,000,000. Of wheat there is a yield of 611,780,000 bushels, and of oats 738,894,000 bushels. The aggregate value of these crops is placed at $1,682,224,206. Never in the history of this or any other country has there been such a wealth of grain in any one year.

MINING MATTERS

FACTS REVEALED BY THE MINE INSPECTORS' REPORTS.

OPERATIONS IN THIS VICINITY.

Interesting Extracts From the Report Submitted by the Inspector of Mines in the Fifth Anthracite District.

The following are extracts from the report submitted by William Stein, Esq., mine inspector in this district, to Secretary of Internal Affairs Thomas J. Stewart.

The inspector says in his report, "I am happy to state that greater precautionary measures are being instituted throughout my district to prevent mine fires. At many of our collieries where we have no gas, the workmen are obliged to ride up and down the slopes with a Canny safety lamp, or a lantern, thus preventing a spark from a naked lamp coming in contact with the dry timber, which has occasionally been the cause of extensive mine fires."

Summary of persons employed inside and outside and description of service: Inside foremen, 120; miners, 4,954; miners' laborers, 2,229; all other company men, 2,680; drivers, 767; door boys and helpers, 804; total, 11,064. Outside foremen, 54; blacksmiths and carpenters, 417; engineers and firemen, 683; slate pickers, 4168; all other company men, 2,929; superintendents and clerks, 84; total, 8,255. Total inside and outside, 19,289. Number of tons of coal produced, 6,236,454. Number of tons of coal shipped, 6,787,758. Average number of days worked, 205.

In speaking of the general condition of the collieries the inspector says it "has been improved so as to increase the safety and health of the employes, and the higher mine officials are rigid in their examinations when visiting the collieries, in order to prevent accidents from explosions of gas, mine fires, or otherwise. In opening new collieries or new lifts of a colliery, the officials give much thought to the general construction of the main openings, such as transportation roads, air-ways, tunnels through the rock-measures from one vein to another, and outlets to each vein. The methods by which the several veins are mined are much improved, compared with those of a few years ago, and while some are expressing themselves even now, that a different method ought to be and can be introduced, by which our veins can be mined with greater safety, they have as yet failed to suggest any improvement to our present system of mining, notwithstanding the inducements offered to any one who can inaugurate a better system. Additional openings are in course of construction at several of our collieries, called tender slopes, to be used for lowering and hoisting men, which is a great measure of safety for the workmen; and additional fans have been erected and are in course of erection for the purpose of increasing volumes of air circulating through the collieries so as to give practically as pure an atmosphere as possible to the workmen. I feel proud to be in such a position that I can report the willingness of the operators to do everything they possibly can for the safety of those working for them, and I feel confident that if every man would live up to the law, the death rate would have been at the least calculation sixty-six per cent. below what it has been every year during my administration."

Francy Takes Possession of the Valerius Property.

Some time ago the property on the north side of Jardin street, near Coal, then owned by Michael and Elizabeth Valerius, was put up at auction sale at the instance of a saving fund. The property was bid in by the fund and was subsequently transferred to James J. Francy. When the latter attempted to take possession Mrs. Valerius protested and a law suit followed. After a litigation covering about four years Mr. Francy was declared the owner of the property a few weeks ago. Still Mrs. Valerius and her tenants retained possession, the former declaring that nothing short of a Supreme Court decision would compel her to surrender. Yesterday afternoon a Deputy Sheriff arrived from Pottsville with a writ to dispossess Mrs. Valerius and her tenants. The deputy executed the writ with the assistance of Constables Toab and Bland. Mrs. Valerius was in the house. She was inclined to defy the officers at first, but changed her mind and allowed the officers to proceed. They first carried out all of Mrs. Valerius' household effects and placed them in a heap on the street. The effects of a Polish tenant were next removed. Another tenant pleaded for time and Mr. Francy authorized the deputy sheriff to give her five days' grace to secure apartments elsewhere. The tenant of the house on the rear end of the property was allowed to remain upon signing a lease with Mr. Francy as the lessor. After removing the household goods all the doors were taken from the hinges and all the window sashes were removed from their frames and when the Deputy Sheriff and constables left the building it looked like a deserted bar. But notwithstanding the condition of the building Mrs. Valerius re-entered it and declared she would remain in it, windows or no windows.

When the reporter left the place Mrs. Valerius was still within the doorless and windowless structure, determined to await the judgment of the Supreme Court, which thing, the Deputy Sheriff said, was beyond hope. Mrs. Valerius has four small children. Her husband left her some months ago and is living in Wilkes-Barre. Considerable sympathy is expressed for the children and the responsibility for their condition is a mooted question.

Little Locals.

Three immense car loads of meat arrived this morning for the Shenandoah Beef Co.

The sleighing party on Tuesday night was unfortunate. One of the male members lost his fur cap, valued at $6, and a lady had her pocket book, containing several dollars, stolen.

Neiswender's livery has been and is doing a big business this winter and "Billy" does not complain.

Miss Mattie Price's remains were interred in the Odd Fellows' cemetery this afternoon.

The injunction case between the two water companies comes up next Monday.

The license mill is still grinding out licenses.

29 prize medals have been awarded to the manufacturers of the only genuine imported Anchor Pain Expeller, the great German remedy for all Rheumatic diseases, Gout, Neuralgia, Sprains, &c. 50 cents a bottle, at all druggists.

A Word on Advertising. Some few weeks since we noticed on our Main street a revolving advertising case containing cards of many of our business men. This was broken within a week and our merchants' money gone to the dogs. To-day we met Mr. Bailey, one of our directory publishers, and he informed us that although many in our town patronize such fake schemes, they fail to appreciate the value and importance of a directory. We understand that the directory will be issued the first week in February and we would again suggest the advisability of every business man supporting this work. It only requires a little thought, and one can at once see that a publication of this description cannot be produced without valuable time as well as money expenditure.

Brandreth's Pills are the safest and most effective remedy for Indigestion, Irregularity of the Bowels, Constipation, Biliaryness, Headache, Dizziness, Malaria, or any disease arising from an impure state of the blood. Sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar-coated.

There are cries of "special election," but the aggressive new water company promoters are so much interested in what they have in hand they do not seem to hear them.

WM. PENN POINTS.

An Appeal for the Free Delivery System.

The people are anxiously awaiting the completion of the electric railway. It will be a great boon to them, more especially to those who attend meetings of their lodges in Shenandoah.

The death of Miss Price, daughter of that old veteran soldier, John M. Price, of No. 3, was sad news to many of her friends here.

The Wm. Penn Coal Company will make improvements to their colliery here the coming spring.

Free mail delivery, with service from Shenandoah, would meet with great satisfaction among the residents of this village on the completion of the electric railway without detriment to the coal company.

No. 3 right across the way is now enjoying this great convenience. Postmaster Boyer should make an effort in this direction and receive the blessings of this community.

The ponds in and about this place have been made lively lately. Shouts of laughter and sliding, and rosy cheeks are plentiful.

As a musical community this place is hard to beat. There is some of the best musical talent in the state located here.

A certain married man, who frequently visits a neighboring town to see a certain woman, should be a little more careful. His friends are "on to him," and his wife will be there, too, soon. C. A. M.

A Great Play To-night.

"The Midnight Alarm" is a drama illustrating real life in a great city and exciting incidents in the life of a fireman. "The Midnight Alarm" has melodrama, comedy and specialty features and fine scenery, and has been cleverly reconstructed by Leander Richardson, editor of the New York Dramatic News, and also author of Nat Goodwin's "Nominee," "The Millionaire," and other successes. The company carry a car load of beautiful scenery and produce wonderful mechanical effects. Notable among these are the Brooklyn Bridge and the Statue of Liberty with Brooklyn in the distance, Uncle Gideon's farm, the flight of the lightning express, railroad draw bridge, interior and exterior of E. Gino House No. 6, New York city. There is great excitement at the ringing in of the midnight alarm, and the rush of the steamer drawn by two beautiful horses is said to be very realistic. Schoppe's orchestra, of town, has been engaged and will render several of its best selections during the evening. Reserved seat chart is open at Kirlin's drug store.

Best photographs and crayons at Dabb's.

It Suits the People. Is what druggists say, because they are tired of the many bitter cough remedies. Pan-Tina is the most pleasant tasting medicine, quickly cures Coughs, Colds, Throat and Lung Disorders, 25 cents. Pan-Tina is sold at P. P. D. Kirlin's drug store.

RAPPAHANNOCK RIPPLES.

Another Lively Letter from "Powder Keg Johnny."

There is not so much looting at the Rappahannock station as in the past. The refusal of the P. & R. Railroad Company to build a depot here and comfortably furnish and heat it, has much to do with it.

"When the spring comes, Gentle Annie," then, and only then, will the boys and girls (some big ones, too) keep the platform warm with their presence.

On the completion of the electric railroad almost every able-bodied young man expects to get a job, either as a motor man or conductor. Many of them seem to think they are cut out for the jobs that are to be given out freely. There will be a cold day, and many warm ones, when that time comes. There will be 99 out of every 100 disappointed.

The manager-to-be of the base ball ground near Connors, along the line of the electric road, expects to do a flourishing business the coming summer. The base ball fever will be at its best this year and the attendance from the leading towns along the line is expected to be great.

Many people visit the power house every Sunday and inspect the building and works. They hardly realize the chance that will take place about here in the near future. Many predict other improvements will follow.

Mr. and Mrs. Sadler and Eberle, of the road, are frequently seen here. They are both gentlemen of education and very energetic.

Judge Sadler passed through here last week and stopped long enough to speak to many of the old residents. He is a pleasant gentleman and has won the hearts of many of our Irish-American citizens, especially the old ones, who can appreciate a genuine gentleman when they meet one.

The coming spring election is already stirring up our people and the next few weeks we may expect a warm time.

POWDER KEG JOHNNY.

Specimen Cases. S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism his Stomach was disordered, his Liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large Fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by C. H. Hagenbuch, Druggist.

Obituary. Mrs. William Ball, residing on West Coal street, died this morning after a short but painful illness. The deceased had a large circle of intimate friends who mourn her sudden demise.

Mrs. J. Howard Jones, of Philadelphia, sister of E. C. Brobst, of town, died on Monday last in the former city. The funeral will take place to-morrow morning.

Chance of a Lifetime. J. Coffee has purchased at Sheriff's sale the entire stock of dry goods and groceries of L. Bar Bros., at Locust Dale; besides an immense quantity of similar goods from a Shamokin party. He will remove the combined stock by Thursday morning to his corner store in the post office building. Those wishing to save money should avail themselves of this opportunity. Tea, formerly sold at 60 cts., at 25 cts. Granulated sugar, 4 cts. Best Java coffee, 21 cts. Barley and rice, 3 and 4 cts. Storekeepers can secure bargains in soap, scales and fixtures by pure.

Ought to be Patronized. The play to night, "The Midnight Alarm," should be well patronized and thus give encouragement to the Columbia fire laddies under whose auspices the play is produced. The "boys" deserve well of this community.

Burns or wounds should be attended to carefully, especially in cold weather. We would recommend salvation oil for such cases. All dealers sell it for only 25 cents a bottle.
