OUT HER FRIEND'S THROAT. The Crime of a Tennessee Belle .... A Remarkable Story. MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 26.-Miss Alice Mitchell, a daughter of one of the oldest and most highly respected citizeus, yesterday afternoon attacked her former friend and companion, Miss Freda Ward, of Gold Dust, Tenn., on the streets of the city with a razor, and murdered her in cold blood. Miss Mitchell and Miss Freda Ward and satisfies and alise freda ward had been fast friends, and whenever the latter visited Memphis ale stopped with the Mitchells. Last week Freda and Josie Ward came to the city, but did not go to the Mitchell house as usual. In-quiry on Miss Mitchell's part developed the fact that Miss Josle Ward had forbidden Freda to visit her on the ground that her conduct was, as she termed it, Inst.

fast. Yesterday afternoon the Ward sisters with a friend, Misa Cristine Parnell, started afoot for the river to take the steamboat for Gold Dust. They noticed Misa Mitcheil, with a friend, in a buggy, apparently following them. On reaching the custom house Misa Mitchell left the buggy in charge of Miss Johnson, and ran after the three girls, who were half a block away. Reaching them, Miss Mitchell ran at Freda Ward and threw her to the ground, at the same time slashing her across the check with a razor.

She then cut the girl's throat, severing the wind pipe and cutting into the jugu-lar. Josie Ward at this point attempted to interfere and Miss Mitchell slashed her across the neck with the razor, inflicting, however, only a slight wound. The murderess then darted to where her buggy was in waiting and drove rapidly away.

Miss Mitchell was arrested and taken Miss Mitchell was arrested and taken to the county jail, where she refused for a long time to make any statement re-garding her atroctous crime, but at length, after a consultation with her father and a lawyer, she made the fol-lowing remarkable statement; "I was in love with Freds. I could not live without her.

not live without her, Long ago we made a compact that if we were ever separated we would kill each other. When I found that Josie had forbidden Freda to have naything more to do with me I saw nothing else to do but to kill her. I took father's razor, but told no one what I was going to do." The murderess and her victim were

Also induces and her victim were each about 19 years old. In talking of Miss Mitchell the Ward girls did not charge her with anything but fast con-duct, and she had always borne a good character.

Hero of Belgian Independence Dead.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 26.-Baron Peter Emannel Felix Chazal, the hero of Belgian independence, is dead at the age of $4. His wife also died about the same time, aged 82. He took part, in 1830, in the war against Holland, and by his bravery and ability rapidly rose in military rank, becoming a general of the liberating army. After the acknowledgement of Belgian independence he was Minister of War, and held other important offices. The death of his son, who was killed in Mexico on the side of Maximilian, was a great blow to him, and caused his retirement from public affairs.

Frank Lombard's body was found on the street "Old King Kalakaua's ambition to own a navy," said one, "ended in one of the best bits of international comedy I ever heard of. I think the story, which is perfectly true, is not generally known, and I have never seen it in print.

"For years the genial old barbarian had gazed upon the greatness of the navies of other nations and cherished chimneys is abroad in the land. the desire to be represented and have the dignity of his kingdom sustained by a real armed cruiser.

"The more he saw of the warships of other nations lying in his own harbor The worst are imported from the more it preyed on his mind. "One fine day the Hawaiian navy sailed off on its mission, and in time reached the harbor of Apia. The flag of the sugar islands was a pretty sight to the commander of the vessel, and the gorgeous 'man-of-war' drove the Samoans nearly wild with envy.

"A brass band, made up of Kanakas, played the national anthem every night for 'lights out,' and every day the dusky crew strutted along the beach and looked disdainfully at the poor natives of Apia.

"After awhile the stores ran low, and the Hawalian navy was still two thousand miles from home. The command- Cuthy's or J. M. Hillan's drug store ordered a store of salt-horse and seabread. They wanted their pay in ad-vance. The naval officer told them with considerable dignity to 'charge it.' ""To whom?" they asked. " "To King Kalakaua,' was the reply.

" "Who is he?' came next. "The officer pitled their ignorance, but he couldn't enlighten them enough to get any stores on tick. He finally pawned the beautiful ten-pounders for enough to last during the homeward pase

"The navy is now anchored in the harbor of Honolulu, serving as a quar-nutine station. It is said that the last days of the king were shortened by this setback in his life's ambition, and that, frequently, when he looked up from an ace-high hand, there was a pearly tear on the side of his nose. Observers thought it was because he couldn't win that he wept, but his cabinet officiala, who sat at the game, knew differently."

Alleged that He Has Been Seen in New York-Belleved a Wax Figure Was Burfed-Circumstances of Hill's Death Recalled -- Life Insurance Companies and Local Lodges Interested-Amount of His Defalcation.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Jan. 26 - A meeting of the stockholders of the Jamesburg Bank, whose cashier, T. Wilton Hill, has been declared an embezzler for a large amount by Bank Examiner Stone, broke up in great disorder yesterday upon receipt of information, alleged to be reliable, that Hill was not dead, and that a wax figure was placed in the coffin which was believed to contain his body.

Some credence was placed in the story when it became known that no one but Hill's immediate family were present at the interment. A local physician had been called in when Hill was stricken with the grlp, and no one was permitted to enter the side chamber. When Hill's death was announced but little time elapsed before the body was laid in the

The rumor that Hill is still alive has been intensified by the report that he has been seen within the past few days on Fourteenth street, New York, in company with a woman whose name has been closely connected with his defalcation. As Hill's life was insured for $20,000 a few days before he was said to have died, the company's agent in this city was preparing to pay the claim. Now he has sumounced that this will not be done until satisfactory proof of the death is given. The result of the allegation is that it has been decided to open the grave and ascertain whether it contains Hill's body or a dummy. It is expected that this will be done to day. The local lodge of the Royal Arcanum is doubly inter be the noyal Arcanam is usually inter-ested in this as some allege that Hill committed suicide. If the coffin really holds Hill's body they may demand that an investigation be made to ascertain if he killed himself.

Graves' Attorneys at Work,

DENVER, Col., Jan. 26 .- The attorney: for Dr. T. Thatcher Graves made a m tion for a supersedeas and a writ of or ror before the Supreme Court yesterday The court shortly after adjourned until Feb. 1, but the application for a supersedeas may be heard in Chambers befor then. The reasons assigned present no new matter. The alleged errors of court, argued below, are recited and par-ticular emphasis is laid on the fact that Judge Rising allowed witnesses to testify to conversation had with Mrs. Barnaby, the poisoned woman. The testimony was admitted to prove a motive on the part of the prisoner.
