AFFAIRS CAUGHT HASTILY

What News Gatherers Take a Moment to Tell About.

The grip lingers. The sun is gaining power. Ground hog day. Contentment is a great virtue. Soon time for another cold wave. This month will have five wash days.

Considerable ice was cut and housed last week.

A cut and dried affair—a box of evaporated apples.

About two or three days is the length of a cold wave.

Full silk ruchings for skirt trimmings are again in use.

To-day is the 11th anniversary of the Christian Endeavor movement.

Washington's birthday, February 22d, is the next National holiday to think of.

If the ground hog sees his shadow to-day, we'll have six weeks more of winter.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise.

A bad cough or cold calls for a good remedy—the cure for it. For Coughs, Colds, La Grippe and Consumption, a perfect and permanent cure is Pan-Tina.

WAS SHE BURIED ALIVE?

Miss Burke's Death Causes Excitement at Dunkirk, N. Y.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 2.—A supposed case of a person being buried alive has caused great excitement in the town of Dunkirk.

Last Friday morning Miss Frances Burke, a 16-year-old heiress, who had been ill for some time with pulmonary trouble, was sitting on her father's knee, when she was seized with a fit of coughing and fell over apparently lifeless.

The parents, instead of calling a physician, made arrangements with an undertaker named Koib to take charge of the remains and prepare them for burial. The mother of the girl is said to have protested, claiming that her daughter was not dead, but her wishes were set aside and hasty preparations made to bury the girl Saturday morning.

Before the remains left the house members of the family say that a looking glass was placed over the young lady's mouth for a moment, and when taken away there was moisture upon it. Her lips, it is said, were red, and color came to the cheeks of the girl and then faded away again. Every appearance indicated, it is said, that life was not extinct, and why a physician was not called in to decide the matter is a mystery.

At the grave the mother made a scene, declaring that the girl was alive, but the coffin was lowered into the grave despite her protests.

The Dunkirk people are very indignant over the affair and demand an investigation. The authorities have finally consented to take cognizance of the matter and the grave will be opened and an investigation made.

Died from His Injuries.

SCRANTON, Pa., Feb. 2.—Joseph Meglenski is dead from the effects of the brutal assault committed on him by six Poles. He was assaulted because he would not join their gang for purposes of robbery. Four of the gang are now in prison where ten others of the same body have heretofore been confined for various crimes, one being the murder, last Christmas, of Yassas Walscone.

Those arrested is Anthony Kopoluna, whose real name is given by their boarding house boss as John Hitzel. He is an escaped murderer from Newburg, N. Y., where he killed a fellow-countryman while working on a railroad grading.

Deayala Murder Case.

SCRANTON, Pa., Feb. 2.—Stephen Deayala, a son of a wealthy Cuban family, formerly general manager for the Lackawanna Railroad, is on trial for murdering his wife last October, he having shot her down after having accused her of unfaithfulness. District Attorney Kelly, whose duty makes it necessary for him to prosecute the case, was grogman at Deayala's wedding. The prisoner broke down when called upon to plead to the indictment, and wept piteously for a few minutes. Deayala's counsel are fighting the case stubbornly. Their defense will be insanity. But five jurors have been secured so far.

Supposed Murderer Arrested.

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 2.—August Lentz, who is supposed to be the murderer of Mrs. Teresa Senior, the old woman who was found dead in her store Sunday morning, has been arrested by two Millburn constables. They were riding down Springfield avenue, Irvington, when they came across the suspected murderer. They invited Lentz to get up and ride with them and he complied. He was driven to the Fourth Precinct Station at once. When the fact that he was suspected of murder he laughed and said he knew nothing about it.

Commuted by the President.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The President has commuted the sentence of Robert Judge, of Michigan, to four years and six months' imprisonment. Judge was sentenced December 13, 1888, to ten years in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $1,000 for counterfeiting silver certificates. He has also commuted the two years' sentence of John K. Nichols, of Michigan, for violation of the postal laws to one year and three months, but permits the fine imposed of $482.76 to stand.

Wants $25,000 Damages.

BOSTON, Feb. 2.—An action of tort against the West End Street railway in which John J. Leaby claims $25,000 damages for injuries received in July, 1890, when the wall of the company's power house in East Cambridge fell upon him, is on trial in the Superior Court. The plaintiff claims negligence on the part of the company, and the defense is a general denial.

A Body in the Ruins.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 2.—The remains of an Italian have been found in the debris of Sallia & Fugassio's fruit store, No. 535 Liberty street, which was destroyed by fire about five weeks ago. The firm employed a number of Italians, and it is supposed the body is one of them. No report had been made of anyone being missing.

Blinded by the Electric Current.

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 2.—Fruderick W. Martin, electrician of the Toronto Electric Light company, while passing between two large dynamos completed the circuit between them and was rendered unconscious and possibly fatally injured by the shock. When he recovered consciousness it was found that he was blind.

Just as the loss men were most hopeful, along comes this new mild spell.
