AFFAIRS CAUGHT HASTILY.

What News Gatherers Take a Moment to Tell About.

Nearly six weeks yet of winter. Valentines are displayed. Society and onions are in sets. The Lenten season is coming. Watered silks in large waves are coming.

Not very long now till the shad season will be here.

Dancing men are said to be growing fewer yearly.

There are new silver watches made heart-shaped.

The long sleeve is coming to crowd out the long glove.

Venus, Jupiter and the new moon are close companions.

Orange blossoms are just now in disfavor with brides.

Jealousy will create heartburn. And so will too many buckwheat cakes.

The close proximity of Venus and Jupiter to-night will be a pretty light.

The grip is still with us, and likely to remain for some time yet. The disease is abating somewhat, however.

The man who laughs in his sleeve should be relegated to the society of him who talks through his hat.

A stock company has been formed to control the boot and shoe trade.

Here at last is a corporation which will have a vote.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise.

Two More Witnesses for the Prosecution—

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 5.—The investigation of Detective Conroy in the Millburn murder, as resulted in the statement that a farmer who lives near Millburn and who was acquainted with Lentz, saw the latter as he was driving home on Saturday night, at 7 o'clock, passing through Irvington. He offered to give Lentz a ride, but he declined.

Another clew was obtained from a man who knew Lentz by sight, and who saw him get on a Pennsylvania Railroad train at the Chestnut street station on Sunday afternoon before 4 o'clock. He had his overcoat tightly buttoned. Both these men are to be used by the prosecution.

A peculiar feature of the investigation was revealed yesterday by Dr. Wrightson. When Lentz was captured he wore a blue flannel shirt, but in his trunk at Daniel Daisy's in Orange, which was searched, there were none other than white linen shirts found. The report that Dr. Polhemus, of Millburn, had found some pieces of Lentz's clothing in the Senior house proved to be unfounded. Conrad Schlosser, the saloon keeper's son, still holds to his original statement that Lentz was in the saloon on Springfield avenue at 11 o'clock on Sunday night, the hour which the New York hotel clerk says he was in 5 New Chambers street. Schlosser says also that Lentz fell asleep in a chair and had to be awakened. This is confirmed by another bartender in the same saloon. Lentz still maintains his cool demeanor and eats his meals with zest. He does not appear to be at all perturbed.

PICKED UP THE CREW

The Men of the Abandoned Florida Reported to be on a British Steamer. LONDON, Feb. 5.—The White Star line steamer Britannic, Capt. Smith, from New York, Jan. 27, for Liverpool, has arrived at Queenstown.

She reports that on Feb. 2 she sighted the British steamer Victoria, Capt. Gray, from Philadelphia, Jan. 19, for Hamburg. The latter vessel reported that she had on board the crew of the Norwegian bark Florida, Capt. Ellefsen, from Pascagoula, Dec. 21, for Dordrecht.

The Florida is the vessel whose crew shortly after leaving Pascagoula mutinied, compelling the captain to put into Havana. There the Norwegian Consul instructed the captain to place his crew in irons and procure a new set of men to work the vessel to Dordrecht. This was done and the vessel proceeded. The next heard of the Florida was that she was seen abandoned. Some of her sails were set and she was slowly sailing along, a menace to navigation. She had sustained some little damage, but those who saw her say that it was not apparently such as would warrant her abandonment.

Won as a Fool.

NEWBURG, N. Y., Feb. 5.—A fight of eleven rounds occurred in a barn near Wappingers Falls, Dutchess county, between George Wright, the Canadian light-weight champion, and George Strong of California. Wright frequently disregarded the Queensbury rules, under which the battle was to be fought, by fouling Strong, and after repeated warnings, referee George A. Bunnell, of the Pastime Athletic Club, awarded the fight to Strong in the eleventh round on a foul. Considerable money changed hands on the result, as Wright had been a favorite in the betting which was one hundred to sixty.

Mrs. Osborne Surrenders.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Mrs. Osborne has given herself up to the police of her own free will to save her husband from further trouble. Her position in the army would be imperilled if she further refused to answer the call of justice.

DOVER, Eng., Feb. 5.—Mrs. Osborne was arrested here on the arrival of the steamer from Calais. Capt. Osborne is reported to have said that his wife is full of courage and would endure such punishment as the courts might inflict without flinching or shirking. She would be content if the penalty did not exceed one year.

Money for Colleges.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 5.—The will of the late James Howard of St. Johnsbury, Vt., after a suitable provision has been made for numerous relatives, provides that the residue of the estate be allowed to accumulate until it reaches the sum of $40,000, when this amount is to be divided equally between four colleges—Yale, Amherst, Dartmouth, and the Minnesota State University, for the purpose of founding a scholarship in each institution. These are to bear the names of Mr. Howard's mother, father, and two brothers.

Anti-Pinkerton Bill Passes the Assembly.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 5.—The Anti-Pinkerton bill just passed by the Assembly, after a long and heated debate, prohibits the hiring of any private detectives by corporations. Just before its passage Assemblyman Husted denounced in severe terms the "professional thieves" as he termed those who, professing to aid labor, drew this bill. He had respect and was in sympathy with all laboring men but not with these men.

Burglars at Tranby Croft.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Burglars attempted last night to enter the house at Tranby Croft the home of Arthur Wilson, of haccarat scandal fame, but being discovered by servants they fled before the police could be notified.

Trezza's Sentence Commuted.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 5.—Governor Flower has commuted the sentence in the case of Nicola Trezza, who is now in Sing Sing under sentence of death, to imprisonment for the term of his natural life.

Sparring Exhibitions Restricted.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 5.—The Assembly has passed Sullivan's bill forbidding sparring exhibitions in cities except upon license from a Common Council to cost $2,000.
