INDIFFERENT TO HIS FATE.

He Becomes Furious Whin Any One Talk of His Approaching Death.

Prison Life Evidently Agrees With Him. For He Has Gained Sixty Pounds Sine Bis Entrance Into the Institution-Ver-Dainty About His Food-The First Electrical Execution Reporters Have Had the Privilege of Witnessing.

Sing Sing, N. Y., Feb. 6.-Murderer Charles McIlvaine, who butchered Grocer Luca in Brooklyn about two years since will be killed by electricity in a day or two, Monday perhaps.

McIlvaine's electrocution will be the first to be witnessed by reporters, and as Warden Brown has sent a letter to each of those who are booked to see the exe ention, notifying them to be in the prison before 10 o'clock Monday morning, it is believed that the execution will take place within twenty-four hours there-

Anticipating the opening of the electrical executions to newspaper men, two thirds of the editors and reporters between the Adirondacks and the metropolis have sent in telegrams, letters and petitions asking Warden Brown to let them see Mclivaine killed.

Mclivaine remains stolldly indifferent to his approaching death, and treats with scant courtesy the chergymen who have labored assidnoisly to make him approclate that death is nigh. He has been one of the most unruly, incorrigible and hopelessly hardened prisoners ever in

McIlvaine's every desire in the eating way is supplied, and when he asked for way is support, as which are asked for a fresh mackered yestorday morning one was brought from New York for him. He sleeps nine or ten hours every night and that prison life agrees with him is proved by the fact that he has increased in weight sixty pounds since he has been

Sing Sing. He reads the newspapers, but his chief amusement is cutting figures out of colored paper, Red, green and blue imitations of beasts, birds and men adorr the walls of his cell.

Although activatine is not at all east down by the near approach of death, he becomes furious when any one but the clergymen refer to it. The Rev. Fathers treeden and Smyth visit McIlvaine daily, but their kind offices in the main have been rudely repulsed. When his wife visited him she was forced to cut her visit short because of his profamity and abuse. She will not visit him again: McIlvaine's sister has been most zenious in trying to save his life, and yet he rewards her faithful love with vulgarity and oaths.

On her last visit she begged him to

On her has visit sow degree min to listen to the teachings of the priests who call upon him every day, and he replied: "I know my business. Let me alone." After she had gone Mclivaine said to Keeper Dowling: "Women make me sick with their

BLAINE NOT A CANDIDATE.

His Letter Declining the Presidential Nomination to Be Published Soon

Washisuron, Feb. 6,-It can now be positively stated that Secretary Blains will make known publicly within the next few days his determination not to permit his name to be used as a candidate before the Minnespolis Convention.

There have been many efforts made by statesmen during the past few months to get some expression of opinion from Mr. Blaine as to his intentious regarding the Presidential nomination, but to all of them, without a single exception until this week, he has made no more delinite response save to state that he would make known his position at the proper time, as he viewed it.

Mr. Blaine has stated to a prominent Republican, who called upon him, that he had it in mind to publish a letter, already written in a few days, asking his friends to desist, and insisting that those disgruntled Republicans who have endeavored to drag him into a false post tion shall cease their unwarranted use of his name.
