PERHAPS A MUTINY

Sensational Rumors of the Wreck of the Embiricos.

CAPTAIN AND OFFICERS KILLED.

Evident the Greeks Used Force to Prevent the Officers Leaving the Vessel.

One Man Beaten Off From the Lifeboat With an Iron Bar and Was Drowned—The Greeks Refused to Allow Their Boat to Return to the Rescue of the Rest of the Crew—Room in the Lifeboat for Fifty, but Only Fifteen Permitted to Enter.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Sensational rumors are current to the effect that the Greek steamer Embiricos, which was recently wrecked off the Scilly Islands, founded during a mutiny of the crew, in which the captain and some of the officers were murdered, and also that the remaining officers were murdered in a fight with knives to secure possession of one of the boats after the accident.

The statements of the survivors are conflicting, but it is evident that the Greeks, forming a majority of the saved, used violence to prevent the access of others to the boat.

Three Maltese sailors agree in stating that a man was beaten off from the boat with an iron bar and was drowned. Another Maltese says that the lifeboat which rescued the Greeks was about to return to the doomed vessel for the others, but the Greeks refused to allow it to proceed, and the English captain and officers were left to their fate.

Should the condition of the bodies on recovery prove that violence was used, the Greeks will be held for trial.

A Maltese named Dzalan, who was on the Embiricos, says that the steamer was moving at half speed in a heavy fog, when early in the morning he was awakened by a violent shock. He found the vessel had struck a reef of rocks near an island.

A rock appeared to have torn the bottom of the vessel before the foremast. Her bow was slightly elevated. Water was rushing in and flooding the stern, and the Embiricos was settling down.

The captain was on the bridge trying to direct operations. There was a general scramble for the boats.

Dzalan and his companions entered the lifeboat despite the efforts of the Greeks to exclude them. Dzalan admits that there was a call for knives, but only to be used to cut the boat away.

When they left in the lifeboat, the captain and officers were trying to launch the other boat. There was room for fifty men in the lifeboat, but it contained only fifteen. When they had pulled a little distance those left on the vessel were heard shrieking and imploring to be saved.

The Maltese started to back water, but the Greeks overpowered him and threatened to kill him unless he obeyed orders. He did not see the vessel founder, but looking back ten minutes later he could not discern anything.

According to another story, the Greeks declined to pick up men who were swimming behind the lifeboat, and felled with an iron bar a man who clung to the boat.

CLEVELAND WILL NOT RUN.

John J. Leutz of Ohio Says the ex-President Told Him So.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Feb. 10.—Grover Cleveland is not a candidate for the Democratic nomination, "declared John J. Leutz, before leaving his home in Columbus.

Mr. Leutz is one of the leading lawyers of Columbus, a prominent State politician and President of the famous Thurman Club.

"Mr. Cleveland told me some significant things in our last interview in New York a short time ago," said Mr. Leutz. "He is a man of abrupt speech, a powerful and constant worker, cleverly and mentally, and speedily had Newspaper Row on him for his guff ways.

"He works actually sixteen hours a day, and said that any man could do it. He assured me that he had reached the age when he appreciated leisure, and that he had modest and legitimate fears that in the event of his re-election he might not make the record that he did before.

"He dreaded the horrors of a Presidential campaign. I do not know that he would absolutely decline, but he is only negatively an aspirant."

Out for McKinley.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 10.—Col. A. L. Conger, one of the most prominent Blaine men in Ohio, and who is now in San Francisco, telegraphs the Cleveland "Press" as follows: "Blaine's withdrawal will bring out other candidates and we may expect to see delegations from Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan and New York appear before the convention with names of favorite sons. The Los Angeles 'Times' is out for McKinley of Ohio, and there is a friendly feeling for him all along the Pacific Coast."

For Violating Neutrality Laws.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 10.—Carmen Ybanez, the Mexican revolutionist who led the attack upon Mexican troops at Fortillas, Mexico, a few weeks ago, has been arrested here. He was indicted by the Federal grand jury recently in session at Brownsville, Tex., for violating the United States neutrality laws. He admits that he is the man indicted, but refuses to give any particulars of the revolutionary movement.

Dartmouth College Athletics.

HANOVER, N. H., Feb. 10.—The Dartmouth College trustees have voted to leave the management of college athletics to a committee to be composed of representatives of the college faculty, alumni and undergraduates. The alumni have promised to raise $20,000 for fitting up a field and gymnasium, for which the plans have already been drawn.

Sentenced to Prison for Life.

UTICA, N. Y., Feb. 10.—Wm. Roselle Mitchell was convicted of murder in the second degree for shooting and killing William Hinkston in Whitesboro, this county, last September. He was sentenced to Auburn prison for life.

Killed the Sleight Occupants.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 10.—At 8 o'clock when the Bloomington express bound north was passing through Glendon, six miles south of here, it struck a sleight, instantly killing its occupants, Leonard Walley and wife.

ARTIFICIAL IVORY.

Another of the Triumphs of Science—The Manufacturers Described.

Natural ivory is composed of trisphosphate of lime, magnesia, albumin, gelatin, albumen and calcium carbonate. Many attempts have been made to make an artificial substitute, but until recently they have proved unsuccessful.

The process, says the Chicago Herald, is, briefly, to treat quicklime with sufficient water to convert it to a hydrate, adding to it, however, just before it becomes completely hydrated, an aqueous solution of phosphoric acid, and while thoroughly stirring incorporating small quantities of calcium carbonate, magnesia and alumina, and finally the gelatin and albumen dissolved in water.

Thus is obtained a plastic, intimately mixed mass, which is set aside to allow completion of the action of the phosphoric acid upon the chalk. A day later, while the mixture is still plastic, it is pressed into the desired form and dried in a current of air about 150 degrees C., and after being kept for three or four weeks becomes perfectly hard.

The proportions, which can be colored by the addition of suitable substances, are: Quicklime, 109 parts; water, 300 parts; phosphoric acid solution (1.05 specific gravity), 75 parts; calcium carbonate, 16 parts; magnesia, 1 to 2 parts; alumina precipitated, 5 parts; gelatine, 15 parts.

Relative Strength of Men and Women.

A French experimenter has tested the strength of fifty robust men and fifty healthy women, all of the middle class of society and between twenty-five and forty-five years of age. He used an apparatus recording the greatest downward pressure with the palm of the hand. The strongest man was able to give with the right hand a pressure equivalent to one hundred and eighty-seven pounds. The shortest man was nearly as strong as the tall, the average difference being less than seven pounds. The force exerted by the strongest woman was only ninety-seven pounds and that by the weakest was but thirty-five pounds, while the average was seventy-two pounds.

Bats are Unlucky.

There is a very strong dislike to the bat among the peasants of south Germany. A feeling of disgust and fear takes possession of the farmer who finds bats in his chimney, not only because he believes the creatures will feed upon his pork that hangs in the smoke, but because bats are regarded as unlucky and bring poverty and misfortune.

Blaine Will Resign

Reported That He is to Leave the Cabinet.

THE DATE IS NOT DETERMINED, Beyond Liability to Perform His Duties the Cause.

The Authority for This Statement Only Accord to That of the Secretary Blaine—He May Go to Cuba After His Resignation is Accepted—Speculation as to His Successor—Minister Lincoln Spoken of to Take His Place.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Mr. Secretary Blaine's resignation from the Cabinet will, after a reasonable interval, follow his letter of withdrawal as a Presidential possibility.

The authority for this is second only to Secretary Blaine himself.

Mr. Blaine has reached a definite determination to resign his commission as Secretary of State. Only the date at which this action shall be taken remains undetermined.

The reason which Secretary Blaine will give to the President for retiring from the Cabinet will be that of physical inability to continue to perform the exacting duties of his present office. This is, in fact, the true reason for Mr. Blaine's determination to withdraw entirely from official life.

It has been the hope of Mr. Blaine for several months to spend some of the present winter in a warmer climate.

When he left Bar Harbor last fall it was with the intention of going from Washington either to the extreme southern part of Texas or to Mexico to spend the winter.

The Chilean imbroglio dragged its length along till a trip of so great extent became impracticable. Since the Chilean affair has assumed less importance, it is stated that Mr. Blaine has expressed a desire to go as soon as possible to the Bermudas and remain till late spring or early summer months have settled the fickle weather of this latitude.

Since that time Mr. Blaine has also expressed a desire to visit Cuba, and it is thought that that island will be his probable destination after he has resigned from the Cabinet.

It is, of course, too early to speculate as to who may succeed Mr. Blaine as Secretary of State. The name of ex-Senator Edmunds of Vermont has been suggested because of his known intimacy with the President and his great experience in public affairs, but it will be remembered that Mr. Edmunds assigned his own preconcerted health as his reason for resigning from the Senate.

New York already has a number of the Cabinet, which would seem to debar from consideration the name of ex-Senator Evans, who was Secretary of State under President Hayes.

It is thought more probable that the President would look to the West for a successor to Secretary Blaine, and it is suggested that he might find it good politics to appoint a man from Illinois.

In this connection the name of Robert T. Lincoln, who was Secretary of War under President Arthur, and who is now United States Minister at the Court of St. James, might be recalled and promoted to the head of the State Department.

The most important subject after reciprocity now that the department has in hand is the Behring Sea question, with which Minister Lincoln's duties during the past three years have made him thoroughly familiar.

WANTS TO GO TO CONGRESS.

This Candidate Says His Platform Will be Compensation for ex-Slaves.

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 10.—In his newspaper, the "Gazette," published here, Editor John H. Williamson, colored, announces himself as a candidate for Congress. He intimated last November that he would be a candidate.

He says his platform will be compensation for ex-slaves, as proposed by President Lincoln, who, at the time he made his famous proposition, admitted that they were the lawful property of those claiming to be their masters, and proposed to pay $200 each for them, liberate them, and stop the war.

Williamson declares that letters from all parts of the country commend his views.

Connecticut and the Fate.

HARTFORD, Conn., Feb. 10.—Governor Bulkeley has issued a proclamation inviting all persons interested to meet in convention in the hall of the House of Representatives at Hartford on Monday, Feb. 23, at 11 o'clock, for the purpose of appointing a commission to organize and provide for an adequate and creditable exhibition of the arts and industries of Connecticut at the World's Fair in Chicago, and to consider the expediency of raising by popular subscription a sum sufficient to defray the expenses of such a commission. The Governor takes this unusual method because of the failure of the Legislature to make such an appropriation for the purpose.

Burdley's Defeat.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 10.—The City Comptroller has filed in court the official statement of ex-Vice Treasurer John Burdley's defection, preparatory to collecting on Burdley's bond. The amount of the default is determined to be $250,000. This does not include $100,000 which Burdley deposited in the Keynote Bank and which was there at the time of the bank's failure.

The Vindictive Convicted.

COLUMBIA, Feb. 10.—Cora, wife of George Frey, both of Newville, this county, who in September last threw vitriol in her husband's face while asleep, has been convicted. The trial lasted two days and was very sensational. Sentence was suspended.

To Go Back to the Rope.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 10.—Assemblyman Stein has introduced his bill to repeal the electrical execution law and substituting the old form of the rope.
