WEST VIRGINIA gives promising indications of a desire to join the Republican column this year, and the Democratic managers are already shrieking for outside help.

EX-SPEAKER REED in commenting on the action of the Democrats in shaping their rules, remarks that "what used to be called tyranny is now on the road to be called good sense." It is only a matter of time when the Democrats will catch up and go to the parliamentary reform, as they do sooner or later to every Republican reform.

THE Philadelphia Inquirer says it seems this country is pretty well equipped for taking care of itself now in case of a row with any nation. In addition to a tolerably efficient fleet of new war ships, it has an enlisted army of 111,948 militiamen and an available fighting force of 8,567,258 men, most of whom have no idea of going to war, but all of whom could be made into soldiers at short notice. The only thing needed to enable the United States to raise a really formidable army at short notice is an adequate equipment of modern small arms. It is sadly deficient in this respect.

They Never Fall.
 J. N. Harris, 3 Fulton Market, New York City, says: "I have been using Brandreth's Pills for the last fifteen years. There is nothing equal to them as Blood Purifiers and Liver Regulators. But I wish to state how remarkably they cure rheumatism in the legs. My business (wholesale fish dealer) naturally leads me to damp places. I could not walk, and at night I suffered fearfully; I tried Balsams, Sarsaparillas and all kinds of tinctures, but they did me no good and I was afraid of being a cripple. I finally commenced using Brandreth's Pills. I took two every night for ten nights, then I began to improve. I continued taking them for forty days and I got entirely well. Now, whenever sick, I take Brandreth's Pills. They never fail!"

A FIRST WARD FIEND IN HUMAN FORM.

A WHITE-HAIRED VILLAIN'S REVOLTING CRIME.

HIS VICTIM ELEVEN YEARS OLD

Another Story of Dastardly Outrage Told by a Polish Girl That Had Been Handicapped by Imprisonment.

One of the most revolting crimes ever brought to light in this town developed Saturday night. Bryan McCarthy, an aged resident of and owner of considerable property in the First ward, is charged with an act of which nothing but a fiend incarnate could be guilty.

McCarthy is charged with having, on January 30, last, committed an outrage upon Mary McAndrew, a child 11 years of age. He was an intimate friend of the child's family and on the day stated was left in the house by the mother with Mary and other children. During the mother's absence the crime was committed. Upon the earnest solicitation of members of the child's family who desired to avoid publicity no suit was instituted, but the affair eventually leaked out and public indignation became so much aroused it was finally decided to prosecute the fiend.

McCarthy is about 65 years of age. He has admitted the crime to the child's parents and it was supposed he would submit to the process of law without protest, but when Constable Tosh went after him this morning it was found he had disappeared.

A POLISH GIRL'S STORY.

Says She Was Imprisoned to Prevent a Prosecution.

Mary Yackusie, a Polish girl who has been in this country but four months, tells a sensational story, which, if true, is a most extraordinary one. The girl is 19 years of age and was released from the county jail on Saturday morning. In the evening she appeared before 'Squire Monaghan and told her story.

What she says was this: On the 8th of last January she was a servant in John Babel's house, on South Main street. After she retired that night, she alleges, Michael Victor, one of Babel's saloon patrons, entered her room. He seized her by the throat and, after a desperate battle, succeeded in outraging her. On the following night, January 9th, the girl alleges that Victor attempted to repeat the crime, but the girl made a desperate fight and foiled him. Victor warned her not to say anything and said if she obeyed him he would marry her; but if she should betray him he would take her life. In spite of the threats, the girl told her brother of the crime. A few days later she was arrested on a charge of stealing $65 from a room in Babel's house. She was taken before 'Squire Bailey and, being unable to furnish $500 bail, was sent down to the county jail, where she remained until Saturday, when her brother secured her release upon making a cash deposit. The girl's body is covered with shocking bruises which she claims to have received from Victor during the assaults and she exhibits the pocket of her dress, cut in half. This she says was done by Victor, who robbed her of $5 at the time.

Victor has disappeared and the constables are unable to get trace of him. He was in town up to 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, but has not been seen since then.

A CHRISTENING CAUSES A SUIT.

DANIEL JONES CAUSES THE ARREST OF REV. WEST.

AN INTERESTING POINT OF LAW

Mr. Jones Says the Clergyman Had No Right to Christen His Child in the Face of His Protest.

A case in which a very interesting point of law is involved was before 'Squire Walker. The parties interested are Daniel Jones, of South West street, the complainant, and Rev. Floyd E. West, pastor of the Protestant Episcopal church, the defendant.

Jones and his wife are living apart. The latter is stopping with her mother and has her three-months old child with her. Saturday Mr. Jones inserted a notice in the HERALD notifying the public that his wife had left his bed and board. He then went to 'Squire Walker's office and caused a warrant to be issued for the arrest of Rev. West.

Jones stated on the hearing of the case that a week ago last Thursday his wife went to her mother's home because she was sick and because she was invited there by the mother. The wife has since refused to return to her husband's domicile.

The husband says he belongs to the English Baptist church. A week ago Saturday he learned that his wife and her mother intended having his child christened in the Primitive Methodist church the following Sunday morning. Jones notified Rev. Russell, pastor of the church, not to christen the child, as he wished it baptized according to own faith, and Rev. Russell respected the notice.

The next day (Sunday) Jones learned that his child was to be taken to the Protestant Episcopal church to be christened. When the evening service opened Jones was in the vestibule of the church. He learned that his wife, her mother and the child were inside. Waiting until Rev. West asked that the child be christened he exclaimed, holding up his right hand; "Hold up, brother. If you christen that child you do it against the wish of the father. If you christen the child you do it against the religion of the father."

Rev. West, according to Jones' story, said, "Sit down, my young man, and be calm." Jones sat down and the clergyman asked if it was the mother's desire that the child should be christened. There was an answer "Yes." Jones says it was his mother-in-law, and not the wife who answered. However the child was presented at the font and christened. After the service Rev. West walked up to Jones and said the ceremony was not performed to hurt him or his religion.

Rev. West made a statement to the 'squire in which he substantially corroborated Jones' version of the church scene. He also stated that he learned after the christening that Jones and his wife were living apart.

'Squire Walker read the law under which the warrant is issued. It is embraced in the law relating to parent and child in Binn's dig and reads as follows:

"It has been decided that a parent is instructed with the religious, moral and literary education of his child. This duty gives him the right to select proper teachers—and therefore a minister of the gospel has no right to administer baptism by immersion against the express prohibition of a father, to a female of about 17 years of age who was already baptized according to the usage of the denomination to which she belonged. But it is ruled that a father has no right to control or interfere with the rights of conscience of his minor child who has arrived at the age of discretion, in relation to the worship of Almighty God."

Rev. West suggested that as the husband and wife were living apart the law would not apply.

Jones said that the wife did not decide not to return to him until after the christening. That he has furnished medicine and other articles for the wife and child since the separation and had sent 'Squire Walker to his wife with a request that she return to him, but she refused.

After a talk, 'Squires Walker put Rev. West and Jones under $50 bail each on their own recognizance to appear next Thursday evening. By that time it will be decided whether the matter will be taken to court to make a test case.

Constable Jere Toomey was an attendant at the Pottsville court to-day.

Mrs. H. C. Boyer attended the funeral of C. S. Foster at Pottsville to-day.

Mrs. Brown, of Philadelphia, arrived in town Saturday to spend a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Dr. Stein.

Rev. H. G. Russell left town this morning for Scranton, to visit his eldest son, who is sick. He will be absent until Saturday.

T. J. Hurley, one of the Shenandoahites who have made Philadelphia their abiding place, spent Saturday and Sunday in town.

Hon. D. D. Phillips, of Gordon; Hon. Elias Davis, of Wadesville, and Judge W. F. Sadler, of Carlisle, were in town on Saturday.

It is with a decided feeling of regret that we chronicle the fact that with to-day, Mr. A. H. Swain concludes his connection with the shoe trade of town and removes to Shenandoah to take charge of Luburg's hardware store. The change is a vast improvement for Mr. Swain in a financial way and he is therefore to be congratulated, but Mahanoy City loses one of its enterprising young business men, whose place cannot easily be filled. Our best wishes for his future prosperity go with him.—Mahonoy City Tri-Weekly.
