LOCAL POLITICS.

Matters That Still Hold the People's Attention.

One of the relics of the recent borough election is the discussion over the Folmer-Stout vote at the Second ward primary. According to yesterday's Journal Mr. Folmer is "very indignant at the report the Shenandoah Herald got on him." It may be information to Mr. Folmer and the Journal correspondent that the Herald got out no report on the former gentleman. The Herald reported what became street talk: that there was to be a contest in the Second ward for two reasons, which were based upon the voting at the poll of that ward on election day. The report was given as taken—as a matter of news, and here can be no ground for the statement that the Herald "got out" anything on Mr. Folmer. The matter had its origin at the poll and with members of the election board. The Journal letter confirms all the material points of the Herald's report, except that it is uncertain as to the figures. It states that "the number Folmer voted, 56 or 58, was marked Stout." The Herald stated positively, and now sees no reason for changing the statement, that the Folmer number that was marked Stout was 54. It would seem that the best plan would be to let the matter drop. If this cannot be done and people insist upon shovelling everything upon the Herald's shoulders (some people blame us for the weather changes) the paper may be compelled to take stand that will make matters lively all around. All parties admit that a mistake was made at the Second ward poll. Mr. Folmer says it was the fault of the election board and the board says Mr. Folmer was to blame. Why Mr. Folmer should become indignant does not seem clear, unless he expects the Herald to shoulder the responsibility for the mistake, which, of course, we cannot do. One thing we will undertake, however, if it necessary for the welfare of the borough that the responsibility should be fixed, we will give all that we know and have heard, and all that we may learn in detail, and let the public decide. But as the Second ward contest, like that rumored in the Fifth ward, has passed off like the clouds we would recommend that the whole matter be dropped, but before dropping it let it be carried away from the Herald's door. It does not belong there.

The organization of the new Borough Council is the all important topic. The politicians and the people are alike concerned and it is safe to say that many a body tosses nervously upon its couch these nights. If a man who is supposed to be looking for an appointment for himself or a friend approaches the business place or residence of a Councilman or Councilmember, a score of eyes watch his movements from behind a telegraph pole or the show window of some store in the vicinity. It is amusing to watch the watched and watchers. Everybody is suspicious. Every movement is looked upon as a deal. Every mover is a dealer.

The situation is a most peculiar one and the antics of some parties who will be interested in the caucus in their effort to maintain what they have pretended to be and yet reach a certain point without rendering themselves liable to be stamped as traitors are quite amusing. On one hand some are trying to build a Republican house with Democratic lumber. On the other there is an effort to build a Democratic house with Republican decorations. A third scheme is to put up the best house material at hand will afford, with independent lightning rods.

The plans and specifications scattered here and there would make an ordinary architect dizzy. It is remarkable that we have so many able-bodied men seeking the Supervisors' office. A few years ago the office was supposed to be a help for old and crippled miners. Now it seems to be looked upon as a foundation for a second fortune.

A remarkable change has also taken place in the estimation of what constitutes a good borough clerk and borough treasurer. Strange as it may seem these offices are now rated on a par with a policeman's. It is actually asserted that some of the parties who have an interest in the coming organization of Council have expressed a willingness to relinquish their claim to the clerkship if they are permitted to name a policeman. It may reasonably be expected that in time an appointment on the police force will be worth the treasurer's and clerkship combined. The markets of this country are queer in many respects.

It is understood that some parties are highly indignant on having learned that a certain Republican caused the nomination of D. J. Doyle as a member of the Standing Committee in the Citizens' primary of the Second ward. Such an act is looked upon as little less than a crime. Mr. Doyle, by the way, nominated R. W. Stout for Council. This has not been commented upon, so, to take the doctrine of the indignant parties, it is highly proper for a Democrat to nominate a Republican in a Citizens' primary, but for a Republican to nominate a Democrat in such a primary is quite another thing.

There are still some murmurings about the defeat of Mr. Baird in the Second ward, but the least said about the matter, the better. One thing is certain, Mr. Baird was not beaten by the Republicans and a continued harping on the subject may bring out some very unpleasant things. It is hoped Council will settle down to business immediately after it organizes. There is plenty to do. More street and pavement improvements and better drainage will give the committee enough to look after for a while. Wonder if the new Council will undertake the street paving question?

I suffered with pain in my side and back for four weeks. It led to sore spots on my back, unable to move. I tried Salvation Oil and it completely cured me and I am now well and free from all pain. CHAS. ROBERT LINDLEY, 36 Durst Alley, Baltimore, Md.

A HUSBAND'S SACRIFICE.

Homer R. Baldwin Will Give His Skin to Save His Wife's Life.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Homer R. Baldwin, whose wife was frightfully injured in the New York Central Railroad collision at Hastings on Christmas Eve, is about to undergo a painful operation that his wife may be relieved from the agony she suffers.

Before the accident Mrs. Baldwin was a youthful and handsome woman, but now she lies in the Gitty House at Yonkers crippled and frightfully disfigured. Her left arm has been amputated just above the wrist; the bones of the right hand protrude through the flesh; both ears are gone and her head, from the eyes to the base of the skull, is raw and blistered. Her right hand will have to be amputated, and it is probable that another operation will have to be performed on her left arm.

Mrs. Baldwin, by a miracle, saved her sight, but an operation will have to be performed to restore her eyesight to a proper condition. On her head the hair for a space of several inches in circumference has been burned away, and the skull, scorched and chalky in appearance, is laid bare to the sight.

The upper layer of bone is dead and will have to be scraped away, and on the inner layer a new integument will be grafted. The skin for this purpose will be taken from Mr. Baldwin's arms. Dr. Schopen, who has attended Mrs. Baldwin since the accident, will perform the operation.

The only nervousness that Mr. Baldwin feels about the operation is that his wife will not survive. If she does it will be due to his bravery and love.

Terrorized by Italians.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—The little village of Avondale, N. J., four miles from Newark, on the Newark branch of the Erie Railroad, is being terrorized by Italians. Scarcely a night passes that some depredation is not committed, and brutal fights are frequent. The Italians are employed in the brownstone quarries of Avondale. It has become dangerous for persons to be out of their houses after nightfall. As the township officials have taken no action toward bringing the Italians under subjugation, the citizens propose to form a law and order society and try to suppress the evil.

Something happens every day to serve as an excuse for the man who does not do his best.
