TRIBUTE TO QUAY. At this time it is seasonable to hear praise from one who is in a position to give it. No one, more than General Clarkson, the new Chairman of the National Republican Committee, is better acquainted with the work done by Senator Quay during the last National campaign, and we reproduce part of a letter written by him.

General Clarkson reviews the services of the "greatest of political generals" of modern times, and states that the party owes him a debt that it can never repay. He concludes his letter as follows:

"The resolutions adopted by the Executive Committee when Senator Quay resigned the chairmanship have been read here to-day and unanimously indorsed with every state and territory in the Union represented. I hail this with the pleasure of a man and a comrade who has been through the fire with Quay, who knows his worth and who is proud of his friendship.

"Whatever else a furious and malicious Democratic press may have succeeded in accomplishing, whoever else may have been stamped by such an assault on a Republican leader, I am glad to know that the Republican National Committee, which was led by Senator Quay, speaking of him in his great work in 1888, is willing to stand at his side and defend him now and for the future, and in whose genius and honesty in the national campaign it cherishes equal pride. No man in modern American politics has borne so much of calumny before, for the reason that there has been no man and there is yet no man whom the Democratic party is so anxious to destroy."

The Miners' Journal thinks that if the new county project is carried through and Shenandoah is included in it Schuykill's criminal docket will be relieved. Yes, that is true. And with the diminished attendance at court, Pottsville will not be required to have as many "hotels" as she has at present and her lawyers will have more opportunities to rest.

SHENANDOAH is the only place in the state where the oaths are arranged to suit the convenience and fit the consciences of the officials who take them.

THE wave of philanthropy among millionaires that caused Gould to disgorge $25,000 for charity, will probably result in Russell Sage contributing a pair of cast off suspenders to the Russian relief fund.

It is said that the Attorney General is to be asked what form is the proper one for Councilmen and other borough officials to take. This point should certainly be settled, for the oath administered Monday night was a farce, compared with the oath the Councilmen of the past have taken. But it is an excellent one for a Councilman with an elastic conscience.

It is poor economy to pay to witness prize fights when admission to the House gallery is free. The silver question is making good sport.

SOME people still labor under the belief that had the old oath been administered to the Councilmen one or two of them would now be under bail. That there will not be trouble is not yet a certainty.

WERE we working under a city charter the expenses would not be as great as they are under a borough government. Then the few would not own the town and run it to suit themselves.

MITCHELL and Sullivan are writing to a finish, Lindley Murray and Noah Webster rules barred. The pen is mightier than the glove.

It may or may not be true that some of our Councilmen have elastic consciences. If they have not, let them ask to be re-sworn by the old-time oath. If they are innocent of any wrong they will cheerfully take it and dispense all doubts in the matter.

THE license revenue is so mortgaged already there is little hope for much improvement of the streets this year.

A PITHY LETTER FROM POTTSVILLE.

AN OCCASIONAL CORRESPONDENT WRITES IT.

POLITICAL AND OTHER AFFAIRS.

The County Seat Also Suffers Through Deals—A Talk on the the Judgeship—There are Plenty Candidates.

POTTSVILLE, March 9. ALWAYS had an idea that the coal towns north of the mountain had the muddiest streets, but a visit to this seat of culture will convince the most skeptical that the cake belongs here.

Our Borough Council has also passed through a "deal" and there is plenty of blood on hand for a future encounter.

The "sworn circulation" Shenandoah organ here seems to take delight in helping to down "the gang." I suppose "the gang" can stand it, for I remember that the crowd now basking in the smiles of the organ had little use for it some months ago. The defeat of Lawyer Edwards by Charles Matten has no real political significance. It was the result of a "deal," and that is all there is in it.

Political affairs are unusually quiet. When the subject is broached it relates to the Judgeship. From what I can glean, I believe Judge Pershing will have a successor next fall. Still I would not bet heavy on it. Last year the young Democracy was on top and opposed to Pershing. This year the Democratic organization passed into the hands of the "Wall Paper Syndicate," who helped to re-elect Judge Green, and if the syndicate has the say next fall it will make Pershing the nominee. But the young Democracy declares it will float to the top and make a showing at the next County Convention that will nominate Hon. James B. Reilly for Judge and W. F. Shepherd for Congress. Reilly's friends intimate that he will accept the nomination for Judge. John A. Nash has been repeatedly urged of late to accept the nomination for Senator, but he has declined. Those who are urging him feel confident that he would be elected. Mr. Nash seems to feel adverse to entering the field so soon after the bitter fight in last year's convention.

Unless the Republican factions unite mighty soon they will have a hard fight next fall. This suggestion for harmonizing the factions has been made: Judge, R. H. Koch; Congress, Charles N. Brumm; Senator, Dr. Coze; Representatives, S. A. Louch, Elias Davis and S. C. Cooper; District Attorney, M. M. L. Veile. I am of the opinion that such a ticket should satisfy all factions and would go through with a rush. It would leave out Senator Keefer and Deputy District Attorney Shay, but Keefer has had several terms and Shay—well, he is young yet and can afford to wait a while.

The recent chartered electric railway has shaken up some of the dry bones here. As the new concern seems to have plenty of capital and wide-awake men at the back of it the county seat and adjoining towns will find it of considerable advantage. Our electric railway company is not in high favor. It is looked upon as too much of a family and favorite concern, something like the Lehigh Valley Company. I believe the new company will receive hearty support from our people in all measures they may seek.

There are a number of Shenandoah cases on the criminal calendar for next week. One, in which Goldman, Ring, Lauterstein and others are to be tried for conspiracy, will occupy several days. Jerry Toomey's case will also be heard next week.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Getton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all, eight bottles; it cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at C. H. Hagenbuch's drug store, regular size, 50c. and $1.00.

Of the Right Calibre.

Ashland can point with pride to a number of enterprising citizens, among them E. E. Price, who is untiring in his efforts and most generous with his capital to make the town boom. If Shenandoah had a few citizens of his calibre she, too, would boom. He has purchased the Galland shirt factory building and promises to put into it two lively industries.

If the Liver be inactive, you have a Bilious Look, if your stomach be disordered you have a Dyspeptic look and if your Kidneys be affected you have a pinched look. GLEANINGS BY THE REPORTERS.

ODDS AND ENDS IN INTERESTING FORM

FOR PERUSAL BY HASTY READERS.

Incidents on the Electric Railway. Vice President Sadler's Determined Stand Against a Beligerent Dago.

STORIES of life on the electric railway are multiplying as the road nears completion. If all the incidents could be gathered they would make interesting stories. The following are now going the rounds.

An Italian laborer had occasion to cross the high trestle on the western outskirts of town a few days ago and started over. Getting half way he became dizzy. He called for help, but his cries went unheeded and he was obliged to crawl back to the starting point on his hands and knees.

Vice President Sadler had an exciting experience a few days ago with one of the Italians employed in grading the electric road. A case of picks had been opened and Mr. Sadler was about to distribute them to those who had none when a tall, raw-boned Italian known as "No. 27," and who already had a pick, pushed forward and attempted to help himself. Mr. Sadler ordered him away, but "No. 27" paid no attention.

Mr. Sadler is tall, slender and of very youthful appearance. "No. 27" sized him up accordingly and paid no attention to the order. Again he was warned off, but he persisted in his efforts to secure a pick, whereupon Mr. Sadler let drive his right and knocked "No. 27" to the ground. The Italian arose muttering threats and oaths. Mr. Sadler again knocked him to the ground. In getting up the third time "No. 27" picked up a heavy stick and advanced in a rage.

Mr. Sadler was prepared for the issue and drew his revolver, whereupon the Italian skipped off and was stricken from the pay roll. He has since been reinstated on the force. On Wednesday Mr. Sadler and a HERALD reporter passed a gang with which the Italian was working. "How are you?" exclaimed the Vice President. "No. 27" smiled, lifted his cap and answered most pleasantly, "Bully, Mr. Boss."

"People who have these fellows working for them frequently find it necessary to show their authority by force, and they enforce respect by doing it." It is true—in "No. 27's" case especially.

All work on the electric railway, with the exception of that going on in the power house, was stopped to-day on account of the storm.

The removal of the electric cars from the P. & R. freight depot was commenced this afternoon. The cars will be taken to Lost Creek.

Acknowledgment Corrected.

To the officers of the Home Friendly Society of Baltimore, Md.

GENTLEMEN—We hereby return our thanks this day for the promptness with which we were protected in the face of misfortune, caused by the death of our beloved mother, Harriet Yarnall, for which we received in full this day, through your officers and agent, David T. Williams, the sum of seventy dollars ($70.). We cannot speak as highly as we wish to recommend this company before the public for its promptness in assisting the needy in time of distress. Therefore, we advise all families to have protection by enrolling their names with this company.

Accepted as Compliments.

We feel complimented on finding that three of our original articles on topics of the times have been found worthy of space in the columns of the Shamokin Dispatch without a line of credit, that paper evidently appreciating them to an extent warranting their adoption as original. But we are more flattered upon finding the Shamokin Herald using one of the leading articles as an original editorial.

POLITICAL HUMOR.

GREATER THAN HIS PARTY. I am a Democrat. That's true. I say it with a will. But something more than that I am.—I'm David Bennett Hill.

Another title for the McKinley production: "A Bill to Encourage Basculity and Other Criminality."—Louisville Courier-Journal. And still you Democrats don't seem to be much encouraged by it.

The Democratic party seems to be small potatoes and few in a Hill.

The silver lining to the Democratic cloud appears to be ripped off in places.

DEMOCRATIC HARMONY.

Cleveland Man—"Five hundred Cleveland men have secured quarters in Chicago for the convention."

Hill Man—"That's all right. Five hundred Hill men have secured half dollars to knock them out with."

"I notice," remarked a young politician, "that a veteran Democrat says the Democrats in Congress are an organized mob."

"He's wrong," put in an old politician; "that is to say, he is wrong as far as the organization is concerned."

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S POLITICS.

Johnny's father is a Democrat, but Johnny is beginning to have an occasional doubt. On the last twenty second the lad became inquisitive.

"Pop," he asked, "was George Washington a Democrat?"

"He was, my son," replied the father, without a blu in.

The boy r. flected for a full minute.

"Well," he said at last, "I don't see just how that can be, Pop. He never told a lie, did he?"

A Warning to Crooks.

The members of the new police force have conducted themselves in a manner since the organization that gives the people assurance of excellent service. They have shown themselves active and wide-awake men and are devoting special attention to the movements of strangers. Whenever there is a change in a police force of a town there are scores of crooks who pounce upon the place with the idea that a field protected by "greenies" can be easily worked, but the crooks who may come to Shenandoah under that impression will be begged before they are here long. If this meets the eyes of any such they should clip it out and paste it in some convenient place for reference.

To-night's Assembly.

Elaborate arrangements have been made for the assembly of the R. and Y. Carnation Club to be held in Robbins' opera house this evening. The affair will be the social event of the season and it has excited interest throughout the county. The hall has been beautifully draped with lace curtains and flags of every description and the balcony has been carpeted and otherwise specially prepared for the comfort of spectators. The famous Schoppe orchestra will furnish the dancing music.

Lane's Family Medicine

Moves the bowels each day. Most people need to use it.

He Means Business.

Chief Burgess Smith and High Constable Flynn made a tour of the town yesterday in spite of the snow storm and noted improvements required in pavements and other parts of properties. Mr. Smith says it is his intention to enforce all the borough ordinances to the best of his judgment and treat all people alike. He expects that his efforts in this direction will be respected and hoped that he will not be met by claims of favoritism.
