THE BICYCLE RACE.

Public.

New York, March 12. - Swiftly the bleycle riders keep moving. They don't seem tired a bit. The race is so close that there's a chance for one of five of the seven riders to pull off first money by a gallant sourt.

Then it was said that a different class of people pa-tronized a bicycle race from that which attended the horse and dog shows, and thatthe admission rates should have been lowered accordingly.
