ONE CENT.

THE EVENING HERALD.

ALL THE NEWS FOR ONE CENT.
Has a larger circulation in Shenandoah than any other paper published. Circulation books open to all.

The crowded condition of the HERALD is ample evidence of the paper's value as an advertising medium, and the demand for advertising space is conclusive evidence of the paper's popularity.

The ringsters, bribers and dealers in false promises have been driven to their holes in Shenandoah. We trust they will stay there.—Sunday News. The changing of the oath of office gives the above some color of truth.

The Pottsville papers and the Mahanoy City Tri-Weekly Record maintain that the new county agitators in Shenandoah are "off" and that they are prompted by jealousy; but they fail to show wherein the ground for their views lie. No arguments have been advanced against the facts and figures published in the HERALD last week. Let us have a discussion of the subject. It is an interesting one.

The gloomy news from Europe continues. Famines stalk abroad, with disease, desperation and death in its hideous wake. Reports from Wien show a great increase in crime, which is attributed to the general industrial prostration in Europe. Numerous deaths from starvation are reported in Hungary, a country which seems to deserve its name just now. Meanwhile the famine in Russia continues in all its horror, and the coal miners' strike started in England has spread to Belgium. No wonder the wretched and wasted wage-earners of the old world look to the United States as the land of promise and plenty.

The Democratic New Orleans Picayune, which bitterly opposed the McKinley bill and the sugar bounty it proposed, now admits that the measure has been a wonderful help to the sugar planters of Louisiana. It says that while it is true that the people of the country are taxed to pay the sugar bounty, this tax is trifling compared to the saving secured by the removal of the sugar duty, and that the bounty is building up an American industry that saves to this country many millions of dollars, which have heretofore gone abroad to pay for foreign sugar. The Picayune, consciously or unconsciously, admits the force of the arguments used by the advocates of the McKinley bill, and which constitute the very foundation of the protective policy.

MINERS TO BE PROSECUTED.

ELEVEN MEN OF BEAR RUN COLLIERY DEFENDANTS.

INSPECTOR STEIN PROSECUTES.

Too Many Men Got on a Cage and R. refused to Get Off, Whereupon the Mine Foreman Complained.

OW HEN the court at Pottsville is relieved of some of the cases now occupying its attention it will be called upon to consider an important one involving the obedience of the mine law by miners and laborers.

It seems that on Tuesday last eleven men got upon the cage in the slope of Bear Run and refused to get off when told to do so by the top man. The eleventh man refused to step forward, and the men on the cage declined to say who he was.

Mine Foreman R. B. Platt noted the names of the eleven men and reported them to Mine Inspector Stein, who has placed the case in the hands of his advisory counsel, S. H. Karacher, Esq., of Pottsville, and prosecutions will be entered.

Mr. Karacher will have warrants issued and the accused will be taken before the Judges of the Pottsville court to answer for the violation of Rule 17 of the General Rules embraced in the laws of 1891.

The accused men are Thomas Daley, George Beck, M. Malone, William Knoffman, John Soakavage, John Goodrich, F. Pascevsge, W. Mack, Edward Williams and M. Monaghan, N. I. Malone resides at Bear Run and the others in town.

The law under which the prosecutions are made is as follows:

"Rule 17. Not more than ten (10) persons shall be hoisted or lowered at any one time in any shaft or slope, and whenever five persons shall arrive at the bottom of any shaft or slope in which persons are regularly hoisted or lowered they shall be furnished with an empty car or cage and be hoisted, except however, in mines where there is provided a traveling way having an average pitch of fifteen degrees or less and not more than one thousand (1,000) feet in length. This, however, shall not prohibit the hoisting or lowering of twenty (20) persons at one time on slopes where two (2) or more loaded cars are regularly hoisted. Provided, That not less than thirty (30) workmen working therein, make such a request in writing, to the inspector of the district, and if, in his judgment, the hoisting appliances in every respect are of sufficient strength, he may comply with the request of the workmen. Provided, That in any coal mine or colliery where the hoisting appliances are not of sufficient strength to hoist or lower the number of persons named, he shall have the power to reduce the number of persons to be hoisted or lowered."

The article of the Act setting forth the penalty for violation of the law provides that any judge of the Court of Quarter Sessions of the peace of the county in which the mine or colliery, at which the offense, act or omission as hereinafter stated has occurred, is situated, is authorized and required, upon the presentation to him of the affidavit of any citizen of the Commonwealth setting forth that the owner, operator or superintendent, or any other person employed in or about such mine or colliery had been negligently guilty of an offense against the provisions of the Act, whereby a dangerous accident had resulted or might have resulted to any person, to issue a warrant to the Sheriff directing him to cause such person to be arrested and brought before the judge, who shall hear and determine the guilt or innocence of the person; and if he be convicted he shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or an imprisonment in the county jail for a period not exceeding three months, or both.

The law also provides that the accused may waive such a trial before a judge and demand a trial by jury upon furnishing bail to await such trial in the Court of Quarter Sessions. Or the accused may elect to remain in jail until such a trial can be had.

This case will be the first brought in this district under the present law. Mine Inspector Stein says that he intends to push all cases for violations of the mine law that come under his notice, whether they be against laborer, miner or operator, as he determined to have the ratio of accidents and deaths in his district reduced. He says the cases in which miners violate the law passed for the protection of their own lives and limbs are becoming too numerous and examples must be made.

The witnesses in the case are Hon. James Brennan, Wiggins; Charles Rabb, and Joseph Pinard, of town.

"McKenna's Flirtation."

The only regrettable feature at the performance of "McKenna's Flirtation," in the Academy of Music, last night, was the size of the audience. It was miserably small for the high character of the entertainment, but it is ever thus when a first-class company appears here. For nearly three hours the audience was kept in a roar of laughter by the droleries of William Barry, as "Timothy McKenna, a contractor." His support was excellent, the cast being made up of a bevy of pretty girls who appeared in a number of choruses and dances.—Saturday's Miner's Journal. "McKenna's Flirtation" will be produced at Ferguson's theatre to-night.

AN IMMENSE BUSINESS.

Splendid Sh wing of the Shenandoah Beef Company.

The business of the Shenandoah Beef Company, to which reference has so frequently been made, continues to make gigantic strides. One and twenty cattle a week, in addition to thousands of pounds of pork, smoked goods, veal, lamb, etc. Average M. S. Riggs and his able corps of assistants are kept busy day and night keeping up with the orders. The car loads of beef are always sold in advance, and frequently purchasers await the arrival of extra cars. The business has grown to such proportions the Swift company has the erection of a beef house at Mahanoy City. The building will be built and fitted out on the plan as the one in town. The meats handled by the Shenandoah Beef Company has secured a hold upon the people of this town and surrounding country that puts to flight all doubts about its cleanliness and wholesomeness. Every butcher in this section is now a patron of the establishment. The popularity of this place has greatly increased since visits by residents to the mammoth abattoirs of the Swift Company in Chicago. The visitors found that the same system of cleanliness and care exercised at the local house is observed at headquarters and that the beef and other meats are equal in grade and all respects to home killed, and in many cases superior.

The Ashland Record says it confidently believes "Judge Sadler is coming to the front as an inevitable candidate. The people of the Mahanoy Valley are learning to know the Judge through personal acquaintance and in a business way through his relations with railway interest now building. It is hardly necessary to say that he measures up to the full standard of requirements for the exalted position of Supreme Judge. He does all this, and it is gratifying to know that the public is coming to recognize the fact more forcibly every day."
