"STEEPLE JACK" will climb no more. "Have you ever fallen?" an interviewer asked him recently. "No, or I wouldn't be here," was the reply. "If I ever fall it will end my career." And the other day, at South Livermore, his words came true.

A SHEFFIELD, England, boy of eleven has been arrested for slashing with a razor at young women on the street. It is possible that another "Jack the Ripper" has thus been stopped at a promising stage of early development.

THE great military triumvirate that wins battles for the Democratic party General Forcefraud, General Gerry-mander and General Cussedness—would have worthy civilians as commanders-in-chief in the persons of David B. Hill and Isaac P. Gray.

GEORGIA Democrats do not like the idea of General Daniel E. Sickles, of New York, being sent to their state to "Whoo'er up" for Senator Hill for the Presidency. The following from the Atlanta, Georgia, Journal, gives a faint idea of the feelings in that section: "The bringing of Dan Sickles to Atlanta for the purpose of whooping up Democratic enthusiasm for Hill will strike most people as a rather queer proceeding. * * * Sickles is hardly the man to whom they will look for counsel as to their choice as a candidate for President. * * * There was not in the entire Republican party up to 1880, a more venomous Southern hater than this same Sickles. When he declared, in a speech in New York during the Presidential campaign of 1876, that '80,000 Democratic majority in Georgia means 80,000 shot guns,' he uttered a foul slander on a people who were struggling to recover from the devastation of war. * * * In 1890 Sickles bolted the Republican party because his friend and benefactor, Gen. Grant, was not nominated for a third term. He is now taking a very active hand in the movement to make David B. Hill the nominee of the Democratic party. He is very anxious to see the 'shotgun' majority in Georgia cast for the man who made him Sheriff of New York, and he is coming down to plead with our people to nominate his friend. * * * The Democrats of Georgia are not hankering for advice from the man who only a few years ago was denouncing them as assassins and plotters of treason against their country."

FREE wool embodies an extension of free trade which passes the limits of a tariff for revenue only, and involves an almost inevitable resort to direct taxation for the support of the national government.

FREE wool and its concomitants may cheapen the imported fabrics of the rich man's garments a little, but it will not benefit the masses of our people in the least, while it will destroy our wool industries, rob our labor of employment, and take millions of money out of our country.

If the Democrats must have "dirty-cheap" clothing why don't they provide for its manufacture by our convict labor, instead of sending our money abroad to pay foreign pauper labor for the work? The Republican party is opposed to labor competition with either convicts, paupers or slaves.

REPUBLICAN

In 1890, during the month ending November 30, the exports of boards, deals, planks, joists and scantlings from the United States to Cuba amounted in value to $36,633.

In 1891, under Republican reciprocity, during the corresponding month, our exports of such articles to that country amounted in value to $62,490.

This increase of $25,757, or 70.8 per cent., was due to Republican reciprocity.

SUNDAY SERMON IN THE M. E. CHURCH.

AN INTERESTING THEME VERY ABLY PRESENTED

AND LISTENED TO ATTENTIVELY.

Subject of the Discourse by Rev. Powick to the Congregation of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

CONFERENCE having resposited Rev. Wm. Powick pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church he enters upon his second year's work on Sunday. The sermons, which were appropriate to the occasion, were from Isaiah 62:6-7. "I have set watchmen upon thy walls O Jerusalem which shall never hold their peace day nor night: ye that make mention of the Lord keep not silence and give Him no rest until He establish, and till He make Jerusalem a praise in the earth." Ancient cities were surrounded by walls upon which watchmen were placed in order to warn the inhabitants of approaching danger. What watchmen were to such cities ministers are to the church of God. They are God's watchmen. They are divinely commissioned to "watch for souls, for whom the Lord did heavenly bliss forego." Very few of the details of christian worship are explicitly regulated by the word of God. We read nothing there of the several denominations nor of most of their peculiarities. The church was founded by the name by which it shall be called and the mode in which it shall be governed are matters referred to human preference. The ministry was instituted—but just how and when and under what conditions it shall be ordained and appointed to its work down through the ages have been left to the goodly judgment of men. Baptism was made the outward sign of inward grace and the rite of initiation into the christian church, but just what mode of administration shall be employed has not been revealed. The preaching of the cross is God's chosen method of saving men and in order to compass this end he calls men to this work. He might have employed angels but he did not. As the watchmen were chosen from "men of their own coasts," so ministers are chosen from men of like passions with the rest of mankind. Sometimes the people forget this and expect too much of them. Sometimes ministers forget it and "lord it over God's heritage" as though they were a superior order of being. They are responsible to God for their fidelity. The souls of men, and their own souls too, are at stake. This is often sufficient to account for what sometimes seems like undue severity in the denunciation of wrong. In the evening the latter part of the text was dwelt upon and the need of co-operation on the part of both ministry and laity was enforced. If the church is to become a praise—a centre of moral and spiritual influence and power—the whole church—"the Lord's remembrances"—are to be ceaseless in prayer and effort to this end. Sometimes the popularity of a minister is a bar to his highest usefulness, because the people trust more in his efforts than in God's help. Some unacceptable ministers have great revivals of religion because the church is driven to supplement his inefficiency by increased effort and more earnest prayer on their own part. God's promises are conditioned upon the ardent desires and earnest prayers of his people. And where these exist with reference to the prosperity of the church the "windows of heaven are opened." Many of God's obscure and suffering saints doubtless do more by their prayers for the success of his cause than some who are more prominent and active. Who can tell the limit of the good results of prayer that is born of strong desire? While feeling grateful for being appointed to serve a kind and appreciative people he desired most of all their ceaseless prayer to God for the prosperity of His cause. Such prayers lead to action—to increased attendance upon all the services of the church—more personal work among the unchurched and unwarmed masses—they infuse life into prayer meetings and dull prayer meetings and bring down the blessing of God upon the whole community.

OFFICER JOHN MERGET.

Murdered by Three Desperadoes on Wednesday Last.

P. & R. Policeman John Merget, who was so fully murdered early Wednesday morning last, and whose friends number legions throughout the county, was born in Reading 62 years ago and was the son of John Merget, a well known shoemaker of that city.

He learned the trade of shoemaking with his father, at which he worked until the breaking out of the rebellion, when he enlisted in the Second Pennsylvania Cavalry. He was captured and taken prisoner and spent six months in Libby prison. His record as a soldier was excellent. He also did marsh duty under Captain Durrell. After the war he went to work at the Reading steam forge and continued to do so until 1876, when he was offered and accepted the position at Tamaqua, which he held at the time of his death. He was a man of splendid physique and his many good qualities surrounded him with a host of friends.

PERSONAL.

H. C. Boyer spent today at the county seat. Miss Nellie Evans spent Sunday in St. Clair. Mrs. O. B. Williams spent today at Wilkes-Barre.

Benj. Richards and Tom Hillis visited Potomac today. J. M. Price, of No. 2, is seriously ill and is confined to his bed. J. Harry James, Esq., of Ashland, paid a visit to town this morning.

John H. Evans is confined to his bed by an attack of pneumonia. Thomas Ramage, of Strong, Pa., was a visitor to town yesterday. Oliver Eisenhower, of Wilkes-Barre, was a Sunday visitor to town.

Louis Friedman, commercial traveler, is home from New York state. Frank Handenbach, of North West street, is confined to his bed by illness.

Coal and Iron Policeman Daniels is still troubled with indigestion in the neck. Misses Mame Gerhardt and Mame Ball, of Mahanoy City, spent Sunday in town. Max Reese returned this morning from Wilkes-Barre, where he spent Sunday.

Mrs. Flower Reese left for Steepleton on Saturday, where she will make her future home. F. H. Hopkins has gone to Mountain Home, where he will institute a lodge of J. T. of H. & T. Manager M. S. Riggs, of the Shenandoah Beef Company, is suffering from a boil on his shoulder.

Superintendent John J. Davis and William Saurbrey, of St. Nicholas, were visitors to town yesterday. Misses Emma Eisenhower and Annie L. Williams are home from the Kutstown State Normal school.

Miss Fannie Stelm, who is a student at the Kutstown State Normal school, is spending a vacation with her parents in town. Charles Powell, who had a bone of his left foot broken in the mines about a week ago, will be confined to his house for several weeks.

John Watson, who was injured in the mines some time ago, is on the improve and expects to march in the ranks with veterans of the late rebellion on the 9th of May. Ex-Poor Director Harry H. McGinness, of Hunter Patch, has become totally blind on account of an injury to one of his eyes some time ago. It is feared he will not recover his sight. Mr. McGinness has a wife and nine small children.

Electric Railway Items. The report that electric railway cars would be run between Rappahannock and Wm. Penn to-day was premature. The machinery being new will need a little "warming up" before regular passenger cars can be run. Fires will be put under the boilers at the power house to-morrow morning and it is expected that by Wednesday or Thursday the plant will be in condition to run ballast trains over the road.

CROWDS AT THE COURTS.

SCORES OF OUR TOWN PEOPLE IN ATTENDANCE

THE GOLDMAN CASE STILL ON

The Dead Body of Thomas Miles Found in a Creek at Browns-ville—Notes on the Electric Railway.

CASES in which local parties are interested are occupying almost the entire attention of the courts in Potomac at present. The Goldman-Ring-Lauterstein case is still on and bids fair to last until the latter part of the week. This morning the case of ex-High Constable Robert Fairley against the borough was opened. Many of our townsmen, including several borough officials and ex-officials, are in attendance as witnesses in this case.

Constable Thomas Tosh is also attending court as defendant in a suit arising out of ejectment proceedings.

LAID TO REST.

Funerals in Town and Elsewhere Yesterday.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Lizzie Hardy, a former teacher in the public schools of town, took place at St. Clair yesterday, from the residence of the deceased's brother-in-law, Capt. George W. Johnson. A large number of town people were in attendance.

The funeral of the late William Millward took place yesterday from the family residence on West Coal street. A large number of friends accompanied the remains to the place of interment in St. Clair.

The funeral of Thomas Ralphy, who dropped dead at his home in Ellengowan on St. Patrick's day, after returning from a visit to town, was buried yesterday afternoon. The remains were brought to town and services were held in the Annunciation church. Interment was made in the Annunciation cemetery on the hill. The funeral was a very large one, the sleighs and carriages extending from the east end of Centre street to Main street.

DEAD IN A CREEK.

The Body of a Missing Man Found.

Miners on their way from work found the body of a man in a creek at Browns-ville Saturday. The remains were identified as those of Thomas Miles, of Mahanoy Plains, and were sent to his home in that place. There were no suspicious marks on the body and the man is supposed to have died from exposure. Miles left a wife and two children. He left his home on St. Patrick's day to walk to this town and nothing was heard of him after that until his body was found in the creek.

Avoid all excesses, but be sure and always keep a bottle of Dr. Cox's Wild Cherry and Seneca in the house. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Public Building for Shenandoah.

The post office building bill, which has passed the United States Senate, provides for new post office buildings in all towns where the yearly receipts exceed $9,000. This will give Shenandoah one. The cost of the buildings and site must not be less than $20,000 nor more than $75,000. The advantages of the law would be that it would institute a uniform system of public buildings, treat all sections alike and do away with the vicious log-rolling system which puts public buildings where they are not required and denies them where they are.

Best work done at Brennan's steam laundry. Everything white and spotless. Lace curtains a specialty. All work guaranteed.

Male Party Meeting.

The members of the Shenandoah male party will meet in Robbins' hall to-morrow evening, at 8 o'clock.

Lane's Family Medicine

Moves the bowels each day. Most people need to use it.

Picture Frames.

The largest and finest stock of all sizes of frames ever brought to this town at Keoggy's studio. Call and see him.

"He who steals my purse steals trash," but he who wantonly purloins my bottle of Salvation Oil, steals something that enriches him instead and leaves me bankrupt, a victim to aches and pains, a sorrowing, wretched citizen, until I can slowly creep to the nearest drug store.

LITTLE LOCALS.

Whisperings of the People Caught on the Fly.

Open the gutters and let the streets be drained.

Snow shovels were greatly in demand last week.

Our local painters predict a busy season for themselves.

Two two recruits were taken in Watkin Waters Post, G. A. R., on Friday last.

James Robbins, of South Market alley, has been awarded a pension of $6 per month.

According to the almanac the sun crosses the line to-day. Spring, beautiful spring, is here.

"Backskin Joe" is behind prison bars and will not swindle veterans of the late rebellion, or their widows, any more.

Many building improvements are in contemplation. As soon as the weather permits our local carpenters will have plenty of work to do.

Mrs. T. B. Hughes, of East Coal street, has purchased the vacant lot on South White street, late the property of P. J. Perathon, for $280, and will build a handsome double dwelling thereon.

USED A REVOLVER.

An Italian of Town Gets Into Trouble.

John Gussio, an Italian claiming residence here, shot a man named Terrence Golden in a fight at Mt. Carbon, Saturday. Two 32 calibre balls took effect, one entering the fleshy part of the right arm, three inches from the shoulder, and passed clean through. The other ball entered to the left of the spine. The balls have been extracted and the wounds are not considered dangerous. Gussio escaped and no trace of him can be found.

Points for Business Men.

Noise is not business. Advertise but do it with sense.

Truth is better than a falsehood even in an advertisement.

Work but don't be worked to death—this for the clerk and salesman.

Dishonesty sometimes prospers, but it also bustles and works harder than honesty.

Sell honest goods at honest prices and nobody will ask what church you belong to.

Keep your place of business tidy. Customers have eyes and noses, and they are easily disgusted.

An attractive show window is a good advertisement, provided the same goods at the same prices are on sale inside.

Honest industry and legitimate trade are trunk lines to success.

The world is growing more clever. It can tell the difference between goods in the advertisement and on the counter.

Weigh judgment as you weigh groceries, and balance opinions as you do your cash book, and you will not go wrong.

What Would You Say

If your rent was lowered?

If everybody was happy?

If the miners made full time this year?

If the HERALD should please every one?

If our public streets were paved this year?

If the Electric railway made business better?

If the Baker ballot law should fail to be an improvement?

If the ground hog was abolished as a weather prophet?

If the miners and laborers received their wages without discounts?

If the condemned White street school building was declared safe?

If all the croakers and obstructionists left for green fields and pastures new?

Obituary.

O. A. Keim to-day received a telegram announcing the death of his father at Potomac last night.

Henry M. Luther, of Ashland, died in Philadelphia on Saturday. Mr. Luther had suffered from grip for some time and sought the benefit of the sea air at Atlantic City. On his way home he stopped at the Bingham House in Philadelphia and died there. Deceased left a wife and two children. He was a brother of General Manager R. C. Luther, of the P. & R. C. & I. Co.
