

WOMEN AT TRIALS.

WHY LADIES FLOCK TO COURT
A Clear Definition of Causes
Which Make Women so Susceptible to Emotion.

The New York Sun has an able editorial in which it seeks to show why some women love to attend sensational or murder trials. It says: "Women are not stirred at all by many of the occurrences which agitate men, but when a case involving life and death comes up, a tragic case, and more especially when it has about it a mystery in which a woman is concerned, and a woman of the more refined society, they follow its course with an intensity of interest greater than men feel. It is akin to the fascination which a fictitious tragedy on the stage has for women, and for women more than men. It is a luxury for many good women to have their tenderest feelings aroused. They enjoy going to funerals and wiping away tears shed in unison with those of sorrowing relatives. The plays that wring the heart are more attractive for them than the comedies which provoke merriment. They delight in having their feelings roused to the highest pitch."

This is all undoubtedly true, but there is a cause far back of all this. It is a cause which has its origin in the life and condition of the women themselves. Most women are weak and not in good health. When a woman is sickly, her feelings are quickly aroused and she suffers keenly. Thus is the real actual cause of it all. Women should not suffer. They are designed by nature for happiness, not misery. And yet, too often, it is continual suffering, when there is a certain relief. Read the experience of a New York lady.

Mrs. J. F. Beale, residing at 393 L. J. Kingston avenue, says: "About six years ago I suffered from a severe attack of peritonitis and general kidney troubles. Despite the attendance of skilled physicians my ailments increased. I finally decided to try Warner's Safe Cure and purchased a bottle. This step was taken upon the advice of several friends who had been benefited by its use. At this time the physicians stated that another attack of my malady would most assuredly prove fatal. I took four bottles of the Safe Cure, which entirely cured me. Whenever I feel as though any of the symptoms were returning I take a dose and immediately feel better. I now feel as well as in my girlhood—and it is entirely due to this remedy." Is this an isolated experience? By no means. It is precisely what hundreds of other ladies have found true in their experience. It shows that if women continue to suffer, if the trials of life weigh them down when they should be joyful, they have themselves only to blame. There is a means of relief, of restoration. It is pure, it is safe, it is a woman's best friend. By its use she can be enabled to withstand the ills of life and secure both health and happiness.

Henry George as a Juror.

New York, March 22.—Henry George's appearance as a juror came to a sudden end yesterday. The author of "Progress and Poverty" was foreman in a case which Judge Freeman decided to settle himself. The judge directed a verdict dismissing the case, and the clerk read to the jury the usual formula, "by direction of the court you find for the defendant, etc.," when Mr. George arose and said: "I don't. No, I don't." "Yes, you do, Mr. George," said the judge, who at once directed the discharge of Mr. George as juror for the term.

MARRIED ON A TUG

Lucky Baldwin's Daughter Eloped With Her Cousin.

YOUNG, PRETTY AND ONLY 17.

The Millionaire Detests the Groom, Who is Handsome and Clever.

The Young Lady Would Have Received Property Worth $10,000,000 if She Had Married to Suit Her Father—Now She Will Probably be Cut Off With a Few Thousands—It Was a Bad Blow for the Old Man, for He Was Proud of His Daughter.

SA FRANCISCO, March 22.—Millionaire Lucky Baldwin's pretty 17-year-old daughter Anita figures as the heroine in a sensational elopement, the news of which leaked out yesterday.

The fortunate man is George W. Baldwin, who is a cousin to his bride. The marriage took place on a tug, just outside the Golden Gate, as the girl was not of age.

A fact that makes the elopement all the more noteworthy is that the girl was heiress to $10,000,000 if she hadn't married her cousin, whom her father detests. As it is, it is probable that she will be cut off with a few thousands.

Anita is a very accomplished girl, and is about the only human being that the old millionaire really cares for. He was proud of her beauty and intelligence, and is quoted as saying that if she married to suit him he would give her the Santa Anita Ranch, which is worth fully $10,000,000.

George Baldwin was brought from Maryland five years ago and installed as clerk in Baldwin's Hotel. He was then 20 years old and handsome and clever. Anita was only 12 years old then, but a strong affection sprang up between the couple which ripened into love as they grew older.

Recently young Baldwin broached his suit upon the older Baldwin, who when he learned how affairs stood, stormed and fumed, and wound up by sending Anita off to a girl's seminary. The lovers, however, managed to carry on a correspondence, and finally George induced Anita to marry him clandestinely. The marriage was kept secret until yesterday, when a dispatch was sent to the girl's father announcing the marriage.

Lucky Baldwin, it is said, will be very savage when he receives it, and persons who know him well say he will never forgive his daughter for acting contrary to his will.

SHE IS A BIGAMIST.

Mrs. Colles' Divorce Suit Dismissed in Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 22.—Mrs. Imogene B. Colles divorce suit against her husband, George R. Colles, was dismissed yesterday for want of equity. Judge Shepard so declared in the Superior Court Monday just before taking his seat on the appellate bench.

Mrs. Colles is, by this finding, placed in the position of a bigamist. Mrs. Colles applied for a divorce several months ago. Before granting a decree the court said he would like to hear more evidence, but ordered the testimony written up.

Mrs. Colles went to Newark, N. J. Before appearing again and without further representation to the judge, Mrs. Colles married a wealthy brewer named Lyons. The marriage created a great sensation in society circles in that city.

THEIR WIVES SUED

Order of the Annual Friend Officers Said to Have Given Them the Funds.
BOSTON, March 22.—A large number of certificate holders in the Order of the Annual Friend who live in Lowell have brought suit in the Superior Court in which not only are the officers made defendants, but the wives of the latter are summoned in, it being alleged that they have received from their husbands large sums of money which belong to the certificate holders.

The case came up yesterday, and counsel for plaintiffs asked that the defendants be ordered to file an answer. He also asked for judgment by default against F. R. Whitworth, formerly an officer of the Order, who has gone either to France or Mexico. It is alleged that Whitworth just before going, drew out $30,000 of the funds of the Order, and that they disappeared at the same time that he did.

The court declined to give judgment against Whitworth, as no service of the summons had been made.
