Bland's Free Coinage Bill Now Being Debated.

BIG ATTENDANCE THE FIRST DAY

Mr. Harter Got Excited During His Speech and Checked Mr. McKaig.

Fire in the Folding Room of the House Enlightened the Evening Proceedings—A Lighted Cigar Throws Among Some Papers the Cause—The Damage Done Will Amount to Over $10,000—Representatives Bowers and Houk Create a Little Amusement.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The debate on the Bland Free Coinage bill was begun in the House yesterday morning. There was a large attendance. Mr. Bland (Mo.) opened the debate in favor of the measure. He was followed by Mr. Williams (Mass.), Democrat, who represented the anti-silver element of the Democratic party.

Mr. Harter caused a sensation during his speech. He is a man of strong convictions and a robust, vigorous speaker, who hits straight out from the shoulder and who doesn't mince his words. He was speaking of the silver barons who come here and take you by the neck and say it is gold and not silver which is depressing the price of the white metal.

Mr. Harter was standing in the center aisle on the Democratic side. Mr. McKaig, with his back to him sat directly in front. As Mr. Harter used the words, "they take you by the neck," he stretched forth his hand and clamping Mr. McKaig tightly around the neck he shook the Maryland Representative so vehemently that the House, which appreciated the situation, broke into screams of merriment.

It was not until then that Mr. Harter realized his contretemps. When Mr. McKaig recovered from his confusion he was furious with anger. He said something in an undertone that was not audible to the galleries, and Harter, who is one of the most amicable and agreeable men in public life, immediately stopped in his remarks and began to apologize.

Mr. McKaig at first was so angry that he refused to accept the apology, but he finally became mollified and soon joined as heartily in the laughter as those who surrounded him.

When the House convened last evening the hall was filled with smoke from a fire in the folding room, caused by a lighted cigar among the documents. This is the third fire this session. The fire was extinguished at 9 o'clock. Several hundred books were destroyed and a few engravings. The damage will probably reach $10,000.

O'Donnell (Michigan), the first speaker of the evening, opposed the Free Coinage bill. Wendock (Michigan), Democrat (Illinois), favored the bill, and said that international monetary conferences had had their day in this session.

pure alcohol to make Wolff's Acme Blacking. Alcohol is good for leather; it is good for the skin. Alcohol is the chief ingredient of Cologne, Florida Water, and Bay Rum the well known face wash.

Acme Blacking retails at 20c. and at that price sells readily. Many people are so accustomed to buying a dressing or blacking at 5c. and 10c. a bottle that they cannot understand that a blacking can be cheap at 20c. We want to meet them with cheapness if we can, and to accomplish this we offer a reward of

for a recipe which will enable us to make Wolff's Acme Blacking at such a price that a retailer can profitably sell it at 10c. a bottle. We hold this offer open until Jan. 1st, 1893.
