THE ELEVENTH CENSUS.

It Will Require $2,000,000 to Complete the Work.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Messrs. Turner and Evans, the committee recently appointed by Secretary Tracy to make an investigation of the Census Bureau, have completed their report. It is understood that the committee find that it will require $2,000,000 to complete the work of the eleventh census, including the $250,000 lately appropriated by Congress.

They recommend that the finance and appointment divisions be discontinued, and that the work be transferred to the Interior Department proper, also that a large part of the census working force be concentrated upon the manufacturing division, which the committee believe is now the most important branch of the census.

Secretary Noble sent the report to Superintendent Porter, with a request that he express his views upon the recommendations of the committee. He also directed the Superintendent's attention to his (the Superintendent's) last annual report, in which he stated that in his opinion $1,000,000 would be sufficient to complete the entire work.

Superintendent Porter, in reply to the Secretary, commended the report and expressed his approval of the recommendation that the two divisions be abolished, and said that the data now in hand would prove of great service to him in the future management of his work.

GOODMAN ACQUITTED.

Sensational Scenes in the Court Room at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, March 24.—Charles C. Goodman, the ward politician and ex-Harbor Master of Washington, D. C., who has been on trial here for several days past for the murder of John T. Duncan two months ago, was acquitted last evening.

It was shown during the trial that Duncan had hounded Goodman for years and made threats against his life on account of an old grudge.

Two sensations were created in the court yesterday. Goodman, on the witness stand, stated that he had been indicted several times for assault, but that he had always been freed without trial by State's Attorney Kerr and other well-known gentlemen.

The second was caused by the scathing manner in which ex-Governor Whyte, for the defense, arraigned Deputy State's Attorney Campbell for quoting false testimony in his concluding argument.

IS IT MRS. DONNEGAN

The Passaic River Mystery Probably Solved.

IDENTIFIED BY A SALOONKEEPER

He is Positive She is the Woman That Had Done Washing for His Family.

The Wife of a Fireman on an Ocean Steamer—Her Husband Disappeared on Saturday Last—Mrs. Stickle is Alive and Very Indignant at the Publicity Given About Her Past Life—She Wore Diamonds and a Sealskin Sack.

NEWARK, N. J., March 24.—Mr. John Schulte, a saloonkeeper in this city, visited Bruckner's morgue and positively identified the body of the woman found drowned in the Passaic River on Sunday last, and who was declared by Dr. Foster, of Rockaway, to be his sister-in-law, Mrs. Libbie Stickle.

Mr. Schulte described the clothing worn by a Mrs. Donnegan, who lived next door to him, and who disappeared on Saturday. His description of the clothing tallied with that found upon the corpse, and when he was admitted to the morgue he declared himself positive that the body was that of Mrs. Donnegan. He says that she had done the washing for his family for four years and also been employed at house cleaning.

Deceased and her husband frequently visited his place of business.

Mrs. Donnegan's first husband was named Gilroy. By him she had two children, who now live with an aunt in this city. She has many other relatives in this vicinity.

Donnegan was formerly a fireman on an ocean steamer, but has been idle of late. He and his wife are said to have frequently quarreled, and the corpse shows a discoloration under the left eye made by the husband last Friday.

A significant fact is that Donnegan disappeared also on Saturday at the same time his wife did, and has not been heard from since.

NEWARK, N. J., March 24.—That the body of the woman lying in Bruckner's morgue, on Belmont avenue, is not that of Mrs. Libbie Stickle, of Rockaway, N. J., has been established beyond a peradventure by the appearance of Mrs. Stickle herself at the morgue.

She issued a statement to Superintendent Brown and Chief of Police Hopper to the effect that her purpose in visiting Newark was to allay the fears of her death and to show that she was still in the land of the living as well as being in the possession of the jewelry and money that were supposed to have been taken from the body of the dead woman.

She stated also that the girl that had accompanied her from Rockaway, Rosie Stahl, was now employed in New York, but exactly where she was she could not say.
