SETBACK FOR BLAND

Anti-Silver Men Defeat the Passage of the Bill.

NOW GOES ON THE CALENDAR.

The House Was in Session Until Half an Hour After Midnight.

The Result on the Roll Calls Was a Tie—Everybody Surprised at the Vote—Mr. Bland Expected to Carry His Bill Through With a Rush—After a Hard Fight He Gave It Up and Made the Motion to Adjourn.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The session of the House yesterday was devoted to the discussion of the silver bill, which closed at 5 o'clock. The features of the debate were the speech of Mr. Hatch of Missouri, repudiating the Mugwumps of Massachusetts, (Williams and Hoar) and that of Burke Cockran of New York, who is supposed to represent Senator Hill's views on the question. He opposed the bill. Mr. Burrows moved to lay the bill on the table, and greatly to every one's surprise the motion failed only by a tie vote—143 to 143. A motion to reconsider was made by Mr. Johnson of Ohio, and the House refused—149 to 145 to adopt Mr. Bland's motion to lay Mr. Johnson's motion on the table.

Motions for recesses and adjournment tired out the advocates of free silver after the test vote showed a tie, while the Speaker dissolved by casting his vote with the free silver men.

In despair Bland gave up the fight at twenty-five minutes to one this morning, and consented to the passage of a motion to adjourn.

The bill now goes on the calendar, but it is thought the Committee on Rules will fix an early day for its consideration. If Representatives Campbell and Stahlnecker had been in their seats or paired, and had Mr. Rockwell, of Elmira, voted as the other New Yorkers did, the Free Coinage bill would have been defeated. The motion to lay the bill on the table was carried by a vote of 143 to 147.

The motion was lost, however, through the action of Speaker Crisp, who is himself an ardent silver man and who cast the tie vote. All three of the New Yorkers are roundly abused by their colleagues, and Rockwell is receiving less of this criticism than either of the others. It may be said for Rockwell that he was at least present in the House, but no excuse can be offered for Messrs. Campbell and Stahlnecker being absent without leave.

So far as the latter gentleman is concerned, he is so seldom in the House, his colleagues say, that they have long since ceased to count upon his vote in any crisis.

Everybody and his wife were there. He came early in the morning, brought his luncheon with him and remained until far into the night. Such a crowd has not been in the Capitol at any time during this session. Not only was every seat occupied, but the aisles as well, while in the doorways humanity was packed like an immense bank of flowers far into the corridors beyond.

On the floor there was scarcely space enough for the members to move about, and it seemed as though pretty nearly every one in Washington was admitted to admission to the House. But this was not all. In the corridors there were pushing and surging, but good natured, throngs that went hither and thither looking in vain for some neglected vantage ground from which they could view the wild and turbulent scene on the floor below. And it was no common horde of the great unwashed that could not gain an admittance. Many of the visitors were Senators and Senators' wives, while at least one member of the Cabinet applied in vain for admission to the overcrowded galleries. There were diplomats too among the crowd, but even the small gallery reserved for them was soon filled with outsiders.

Seized for Customs Duties. BOSTON, March 25.—Assistant United States District Attorney Wyman commenced proceedings to forfeit the trucks and clothing brought to this country by Tailor Kendrick of New York, which were seized by the customs authorities at the latter port. The clothing was claimed by Harvard students, although claimed by Kendrick as his personal apparel. The goods were sent here in bond, and Kendrick in the meantime is said to have gone to Canada. The case is being prosecuted by the Tailors' Association here.

Named by the President. WASHINGTON, March 25.—The President has named to the Senate the following nominations: To be United States District Judge—W. E. Townsend, of Connecticut, for the District of Connecticut. Ellery P. Ingram, of Pennsylvania, to be Attorney of the United States for the Eastern District of that State. A. A. P. Colsberry, of Pennsylvania, to be U. S. Marshal for the Eastern District of that State.

Expect to Find Gold. LONDON, March 25.—Dispatches from Perth, Australia, say that the police have begun removing the floor of the house in which Deeming, alias Williams, lived while there. The cement has already been taken up and digging will be begun to-morrow. The police expect to find gold, which Deeming pilfered from his employers while engineer of a mine, and perhaps more bodies.

Put the Wrong Man in the Asylum. PORTLAND, N. Y., March 25.—The dispatch stating that the robbery at the Highland Postoffice occurred under S. G. Carpenter's administration, and that Mr. Carpenter is in an asylum, is incorrect. Mr. Edgar Elmendorf was the postmaster and it is he who is in the asylum.

Increase Public Building Appropriation. WASHINGTON, March 25.—Mr. W. M. Stone of Pennsylvania offered a bill in the House yesterday increasing to $350,000 the limit of cost of the public building at Allegheny, Pa.

NEW JERSEY LAWS. Several Important Bills Approved by Gov. Abbott.

TRENTON, N. J., March 25.—The Governor approved of 25 bills and has sent them to the Secretary of State. Among them are the bills that incorporate trades' unions and labor organizations; the Assembly bill creating three commissioners in first-class cities to assess all benefits and damages; creating first, second and third criminal courts in Newark; creating the office of resident physician in the State prison; creating the State board of arbitration to arbitrate labor troubles at a per diem fee; re-appointing Burlington county; fixing the terms of clerks and receivers of taxes in all towns and boroughs and townships of over 2,000 inhabitants at two years; making it illegal to kill pheasants in the State during the next three years; allowing cities to elect ward assessors, and changing the name of Princeton Charitable Association to the Student's Aid Association.

HIS PRIZE STOLEN. Won $4,000 in a Lottery, but It Never Reached the Winner. MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 25.—R. E. Bynum, the money order clerk of the Pacific Express Company, has been arrested charged with stealing a package last July which contained $4,000.

A St. Louis man, it appears, drew a $4,000 prize in the Louisiana Lottery at that time, and the money was forwarded to him from New Orleans by the Pacific Express. The money never got beyond Memphis.

Bynum, on the day the money reached here, checked off thirty-three packages to the St. Louis messenger, but it is claimed he only gave him thirty-two. Detectives have been working on the case for many months, and their labors ended yesterday with the arrest of Bynum. He denies his guilt.

Commissioner Raum Testifies. WASHINGTON, March 25.—Pension Commissioner Raum, before the Special Pension Investigating Committee, said that he didn't approve Secretary Noble's summary discharge of Raum, Jr. Relative to the seven special examiners discharged for giving information to the newspapers, Commissioner Raum said that General H. V. Boynton gave him information as to where the articles originated.

Mr. Carnegie's Intention. PITTSBURGH, March 25.—Andrew Carnegie returned from California yesterday and gladdened the hearts of his Homestead workmen by announcing his intention to build and present to them a library, public hall and gymnasium at Homestead, after the style of building presented to his Bradford workmen. The building will cost $100,000.

More Indictments of Chicago Poodlers. CHICAGO, March 25.—A number of indictments were prepared yesterday by the grand jury investigating the hoodie aldermen. It is the general impression that Secretary Soule, of the Urban Transit Company, and Alderman John Powers were caught in the jury's drug net.

To Build Pennsylvania's Fair Buildings. HARRISBURG, Pa., March 25.—The Executive Committee of the World's Fair Commission has decided to award the contract for the erection of the State building at Chicago to Nesbit & Coder at their bid of $67,900, provided they furnished a bond for $50,000.

No Statement From Drayton. NEW YORK, March 25.—John Nash, counsel for J. Coleman Drayton, said that no statement regarding the Drayton-Borrower affair had been prepared, was being prepared or would be prepared. He said that no statement would be made at all.

Bayard and Cleveland to Confer. WILMINGTON, Del., March 25.—Secretary of State Bayard will visit ex-President Cleveland in New York in a few days. It is understood that their conference will be of a political nature.

BEHRING SEA CRISIS

The Correspondence Given to the Public.

OUR PRESIDENT'S FIRM STAND.

The Rights of the United States Will be Protected.

The Question is Now One of Self-Respect—The Least the Government Can Accept is the Modus of Last Year, and He Hopes That Salisbury Will Give Prompt Assent to Its Renewal, Otherwise This Country Will Use Every Means to Preserve Its Property.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The Senate has made public the late correspondence between England and the United States respecting the Behring Sea controversy. Sir Julian Pauncefote, March 19, communicated to Assistant Secretary Wharton the substance of Lord Salisbury's reply to the note of the 8th, to this effect: His Lordship does not believe that another year's suspension of sealing is necessary to prevent undue diminution of the herds.

In view of the probably long duration of the arbitration, serious damage would result from a suspension of sealing until it should be ended. He suggests that sealing be permitted to proceed, the vessel owners giving indemnity for damages that may accrue. On March 23, Mr. Wharton replied to Mr. Pauncefote. The note points out the loss of female life by pelagic sealing, and says that Salisbury's contention that another year's suspension of such sealing is not necessary to prevent "undue diminution of seal herds" is as surprising as it is disappointing.

For either nation to proceed in disregard of the claims of the other pending arbitration, adds but another sense of injury and injustice. And if the English Government proceeds upon the basis of its contention, no choice is left the United States but to proceed upon the basis of its confident contention that pelagic sealing in the Behring Sea is an infraction of its jurisdiction and property rights. "The President is not willing," the note proceeds, "to be found in any degree responsible for the results that may follow the insistence of either Government during this season upon the extreme rights claimed by it."

The President declines to discuss the proposition to make separate bonds from sealing vessels for damages, and as the pending treaty gives no power to the arbitrators to adjudicate damages there would be no risk to the obligors and the bonds of no value to the United States.

As to Salisbury's suggestion that Canadian sealers may have claim for compensation if Great Britain restrains pelagic sealing, the President says he does not see how citizens of treaty powers can have any claim growing out of necessary treaty restraints which may be lawfully imposed.

The further suggestion that arbitration may not be ended in time to govern the season of 1893 is provided against by the treaty itself, and the President calls Salisbury's attention to the fact that his Lordship's statement that four years have elapsed since arbitration of Delagoa dispute with Portugal began, that treaty was not signed until June 13, 1891.

In conclusion, the President says the least this Government can accept in modus of last year, and he hopes that Salisbury will give prompt and friendly assent to its renewal. Otherwise, "this Government, as has already been pointed out, will be compelled to use every means in its power to protect from destruction or serious injury, property and jurisdictional rights which it has long claimed and enjoyed."

A MOTHER'S CRIME. Kills Her Daughter Because She Received Attention from the Man She Loved.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 25.—Marion S. Moore, a beautiful woman, 30 years of age, is under arrest for one of the most horrible crimes on record. Mrs. Moore was married when she was 16. Her eldest child was a handsome girl of 13. Two weeks ago the child was found murdered in the house, her throat cut from ear to ear. Evidence has been secured showing the mother was madly infatuated with James Semple, a hired man in her husband's employ. The man apparently paid no attention to her advances, but had repeatedly asked Moore to be allowed to marry the daughter, Bettie, and paid her assiduous attention.

All the evidence tends to show that Mrs. Moore in her furious jealousy took the opportunity to kill her child in the most horrible manner possible.

Dishonest City Officials. PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 25.—The investigation of the accounts of the city officials of Allegheny, Pa., shows a deficiency in the accounts of the Mayor's office, Market Clerk, Superintendent of Water Works and Health Clerk of $359,197.50. The Auditing Committee characterizes the disclosures a shameless record of dishonesty, inefficiency and disregard of public duty. Mayor Wyman and Market Clerk Hastings have been arrested for embezzlement.

Anarchists Sentenced. ROME, March 25.—The trials of Signor Cipriani and sixty-one anarchists for their share in the disorder and violence of last May Day were concluded yesterday. Cipriani and Palla were sentenced to prison for thirty-two months and to pay a fine of 1,500 francs each. Fifty other prisoners were sentenced to various terms and to pay fines. Ten were acquitted.

pure alcohol to make WOLFF'S ACME BLACKING. Alcohol is good for leather; it is good for the skin. Alcohol is the chief ingredient of Cologne, Florida Water, and Bay Rum the well known face washes. We think there is nothing so costly to use in a good leather preservative.

Acme Blacking retails at 20c. and at that price sells readily. Many people are accustomed to buying a dressing or blacking at 5c, and 10c, a bottle that they cannot understand that a blacking can be cheap at 20c. We want to meet them with cheapness if we can, and to accomplish this we offer a reward of for a recipe which will enable us to make WOLFF'S ACME BLACKING at such a price that a retailer can profitably sell it at 10c a bottle. We hold this offer open until Jan. 1st, 1893.
