HOLMAN is treating Uncle Sam's public works about as a stingy landlord treats a house he has a tenant in who he feels pretty sure will have to stay in it.

WHEN the Democrats have to deal with a minority of their own they don't stop with counting a quorum or any mild measures of that sort, but proceed to wipe the floor with the refractory element.

CONVICT labor is less injurious in its competition with our home labor than the free competition in our markets of the products of cheap foreign labor, because convict labor lightens the burden of our home taxation and consumes home products. Yet no free trader will dare to insult our workingmen by openly advocating the competition of convict labor.

It is the motto of a great labor organization that "An injury to one is the concern of all." Free trade invites and expects the competition in our markets of the products of foreign cheaper labor with the products of our better paid home labor, on the plea that the foreign products are cheaper than the home products. But is it not a plain case that home labor is deprived of compensation or employment, or both, to the extent of the use of these foreign products, or to the amount of the reduction of wages compelled by home competition with cheaper labor? The free trade scheme thus becomes an "injury" to all home labor of giant proportions, dwarfing the promised benefits of cheapness into a trifle, with even that trifle uncertain and delusive.

FREE TRADE was always and is now a conspiracy against labor. Under a pretense of getting cheaper food for the people Richard Cobden clamored for the repeal of England's corn laws. He was a manufacturer, and his real purpose was to secure cheaper food for labor so that manufacturers could get the profit of cheaper labor, regardless of the interests of farmers and farm laborers of his own country. The cotton lords of the South, in this country, joined him in this conspiracy, the latter agreeing that the farmers of the North would furnish the cheap food in exchange for high-priced English manufactures, while the slave lords and the British manufacturing lords gained all the wealth. Our history shows that this bargain was imposed upon this country under the rule of the slave lords, and that it kept the North comparatively poor while the slave rule lasted. The free trade successors of the slave rule are asking us to return to the conditions of this wily conspiracy against labor. Not much.

RUSSIA'S APPEAL TO AMERICAN SYMPATHY.

ANOTHER CARGO OF FOOD TO BE SENT.

TOWNS AND CITIES CALLED UPON

The Philadelphia Committee Asks for Contributions to Send the Steamship "Conemaugh" With Food to the Starving People.

THE Citizens' Russian Famine Relief Committee is preparing to send the steamship "Conemaugh" to Russia with a cargo of food for the starving people of that country. To accomplish this task $25,000 additional to the committee's present fund will be required. Circulars of appeal have been sent to the Mayors, of all cities and Chief Burgesses of all towns in Pennsylvania, asking them to urge upon their people the necessity, in the cause of humanity, of co-operation in the plans of the committee.

Edwin S. Stuart, Mayor of Philadelphia, is chairman of the committee. The "Conemaugh" will sail on April 13th, so if the people of Shenandoah intend to participate in the charitable work they must act promptly.

The reasons for the decision of the committee to send the "Conemaugh" are as follows: Russia needs all that can be done. Russia appreciates efforts on behalf of her people. Russia is doing her utmost to relieve existing distress. The committee possesses a cash balance which is enhanced greatly by the liberality of steamship, railway and coal companies. Prominent citizens advise sending another ship. The committee believes this further relief to be a duty from prosperous and well-fed people to poor and starving people. The United States of America owe a debt of gratitude to Russia which is far from liquidated. The committee has confidence that the people will sustain the effort to completion.

Donors of food from the interior of Pennsylvania can deliver contributions to any railroad station marked "For Russian Famine Relief, care of Steamship 'Conemaugh,' Philadelphia." They will be forwarded free of charge.

All shipments to the committee will be noted in the HERALD.

The contributions of foods may be wheat or rye flour, kiln-dried corn-meal; barley, beans, dried green peas, split-peas, rice, hominy, canned roast and corned beef and canned pork and beans, hams, bacon, shoulders (smoked or dry salted), salt bellies, salt pork, corned beef. Flour is the most important. All contributions should be in proper order for ocean transportation.

Who will be the first to step forward and place Shenandoah on the relief list?

REV. JAMES' SERMON.

Synopsis of What He Preached Last Sunday Morning.

The text of the sermon preached in the English Baptist church Sunday morning by Rev. H. G. James was taken from John 1, 18. The theme was "Grace for Grace." Jesus said, "I am the way, the truth and the life." These words set forth that Christ and christianity are essentially of the same nature. If any one asks me what it is to be a christian, I dare not answer that it is to believe a certain set of doctrines and follow a certain rule of conduct. Those are the outward fruits of the christian—just as the tree is known by the fruit it bears. To be a christian is to partake of the nature, and spirit of Christ by faith. Jesus is full of love, mercy, grace, truth, wisdom, manliness, strength, peace, joy and boldness. He possesses all the qualities that are necessary to a perfect character. But Christ does not only possess these qualities. He is the source of them wherever they exist. He can, and does more than maintain his own life. As the sun not only maintains its own light and heat, but gives out of itself all the light and heat of nature, so does Christ, the Son of Lighteousness in the spiritual world. He is a like a constant spring of water that not only keeps its own basin full, but overflows in a living stream with capacity to fill to the brim a thousand reservoirs. We have more than we can do to sustain our own lives and virtues, to say nothing of giving grace, virtue and life to our fellow beings, but Jesus gives life, grace and glory to every believer, and at the same time His store of them gets no less. He gives us grace. Yes! grace after grace. He is God as well as man, so in Him the Divine and human meet. By His teaching life and death, Christ has given every man opportunities to escape the consequences of sin, and to gain fitness for Heaven, which he otherwise would not have had. In these privileges, in these provisions of mercy for our salvation, we all receive of His fulness. To us who believe, he imparts Spiritual Life from his own fulness of life. He creates in us the attributes of His own Holy Nature. Christ is formed in the believer, so that the christian of today can say with Paul, "I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me." Many seem to think that they are saved simply by the instructions Christ gives and by their own efforts to imitate his example. And those who admit that they are saved by the power of Christ alone seem to think that the process is a mechanical one, that He saves them somewhat as a strong man saves a drowning child from the waves, by pulling them out of a position of danger. But this is a very important misconception. True salvation means an entire change wrought in the inner man, or in the soul. It is a deliverance from pollution, sin and guilt, and the impartation of a desire and ability to live a holy life. The means by which we receive that power is faith. "And Grace for Grace." This is a most singular expression and few have tried to understand it. These words reveal to us God's method of giving. The effects of one grace prepares us to ask and appreciate another. The reception of a small measure of grace from God makes us feel the need of more. "Whosoever hunger and thirst after righteousness is certain to be filled." One grace gives capacity for the reception of another. The soul of an impenitent man or of an undeveloped christian is like a shrivelled skin bottle and can hold but very little of God's grace, but as soon as a little finds its way in, it will prepare the way for more, and there is more to be had. As God bestows grace wherever there is room for it, we can easily see how He gives "Grace for Grace."

THE ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM SYSTEM.

IT HAS BEEN ACCEPTED BY THE BOROUGH COUNCIL.

OTHER ITEMS OF LOCAL NEWS

Goldman and King Have Furnished Bail and Will Apply to Court for a New Trial—L. Robbins Becomes Their Bondsman.

HEREAFTER alarms of fire in the borough will be sounded by the Gamewell electric system. The plant put in last week is now the property of the borough. Members of Council met Mr. Oehmer, the electrician in charge of the work, last night and carefully inspected and tested the plant. Mr. Devers was not quite satisfied that the system was a non-interfering one and for his benefit boxes 25 and 42 were operated. This point having been satisfactorily settled the machinery in the tower was carefully examined and fully explained and tested. The batteries were next visited and Mr. Oehmer gave full instructions for keeping them in working order.

Mr. Oehmer then turned over all the keys to Mr. Coakley, chairman of the fire apparatus committee, who at once prepared a list of the parties who will hold them.

Before Mr. Oehmer turned over the plant the Councilmen present were asked if everything was perfectly satisfactory. Mr. Lamb raised the only objection. He said the original plan called for the placing of a box at the corner of Jardin and Main streets, and not at the corner of Main and Poplar, where a box was placed. Mr. Oehmer said he followed all instructions given him and the matter dropped.

Deserving Praise.
We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. C. H. Hagenbuch, Druggist.

Robbins, of Pottsville, has become the bondsman and as soon as the bonds are executed by the defendants a new trial will be asked for.
