A HORRIBLE SIGHT

Terrific Explosion and Fire in Madison, Iowa.

SEVEN PERSONS FOUND DEAD.

Two Others Discovered to be Alive, but Die Shortly Afterward.

The Flames Were Beyond Control Before Water Could be Played Upon Them—The Firemen Had a Desperate Battle With the Fire—Bodies Found Embraced in Death and Charred Beyond Recognition—A Touching Spectacle.

Fort Madison, Iowa, April 7.—Late in the night fire was discovered in the two-story residence of S. V. Kitchen, which is situated on Santa Fe Avenue.

An alarm was at once given, but before the occupants could make their escape a terrific explosion occurred in the building, windows and doors being shattered, and the rocking and swaying structure threatening to topple over in a heap.

When the fire department reached the conflagration the fire had made rapid headway. To their further discomfiture they found that the nearest hydrant was four blocks away, and before the water could be brought to bear upon the burning building, the flames were beyond control.

After a desperate battle the firemen succeeded in controlling the fire and, as soon as they could enter the building, attempted to find the nine missing occupants.

They found their way to the upper stories completely cut off, however, the explosion having totally wrecked the inner stairway leading to them. Ladders were brought, and when the men ascended they were confronted by a ghastly, but touching spectacle.

Embraced in death lay the bodies of Mrs. Kitchen, her baby and sister, Miss Sidney Day, charred almost beyond recognition. Near by lay the body of Mr. S. V. Kitchen and his two other children. August Knemeyer, a boarder, also had met his death in the building, and but two of the occupants of the ill-fated house showed any signs of life.

These were Henry Knemeyer, aged 18, a boarder, and Samuel Kitchen, aged 21, a brother of S. V. Kitchen. They were carried out of the building, but both died a few hours afterward.

STOLE $70,000.

A Firm of New York Bankers Systematically Robbed.

New York, April 7.—A systematic robbery of the banking house of Dix & Pfyfe, 45 Wall street, was unearthed yesterday. The exact amount of the stealings is not yet definitely known, but it is believed they will reach between $60,000 and $70,000. Fifty-three thousand dollars of the amount stolen has been recovered, and the loss of the firm will not, therefore, in any event, be very large.

Oscar Creamer, 19 years old, of 425 Hicks street, Brooklyn, the assistant bookkeeper, was the promoter of the scheme. He had as confederates W. E. Carpenter, aged 35, a clerk of Dix & Pfyfe, and James L. White of Brooklyn, an outsider. Carpenter is under arrest, but Creamer and White have disappeared and are supposed to be somewhere on the ocean on the steamer Oakland, which left this port for Copenhagen on Monday.

Hon. Willard Saulsbury Dead.

Wilmington, Del., April 7.—Willard Saulsbury, aged 73 years, Chancellor of the State of Delaware, and ex-United States Senator, died suddenly at Dover this morning, of heart failure. He was appointed Chancellor in 1879 and was seventh that the State has had. He was in the Senate from 1859 to 1871, and also held the position of Attorney General for Delaware from 1850 to 1855. He was always a Democrat and was a delegate to the convention which nominated Duchannan for President.

Paid His Reward.

Boston, April 7.—Frederick J. Brown, of this city, was paid the reward of $2,500 offered by the Selectmen of Milton for information that would lead to the arrest of the person or persons who shot and killed Edward Cunningham, a wealthy resident of that town, on Nov. 31, 1889. The Italian murderer is now serving a long term in State prison.

Sunday Ball Games.

Cincinnati, April 7.—It is not likely that there will be any more fuss made over Sunday baseball games in this city unless another crusade is made against it. In the Police Court yesterday the cases of the ball players arrested for participating in last Sunday's game, were placed on the open docket. This means that there will be no trial.

Has Not Resigned.

Sing Sing, April 7.—Warden Brown stated to representatives of the National Press that it was untrue that he had handed in his resignation as warden of the prison here. He said there was a great deal of talk going on about his affairs, most of which were false.

Dr. Cannon is Not Dead.

Elizabeth, N. J., April 7.—Dr. Henry R. Cannon, Past Grand Master of the Masonic order of New Jersey, is not dead as was reported. The announcement of his death grew out of the demise of a neighbor. Dr. Cannon's condition, however, is very low.

Hawaiian Fair Commissioners Arrive.

San Francisco, April 7.—E. M. Walsh and son and L. A. Thurston arrived by steamer Australia from Honolulu, en route to Chicago. They are commissioners to the World's Fair from the Hawaiian Islands. They are going on now to arrange for space.

Bridge Burned at Ansonia.

Ansonia, Conn., April 7.—The Maple street bridge over the Naugatuck River, between Ansonia and West Ansonia, was burned yesterday. Loss $10,000. It was a wooden structure, built in 1871, and the main connection between the two places.

Talked With Christian Veterans.

Hyden, April 7.—The Queen yesterday received the Christian Veterans' Oath de Ippollito and Simon Bodinier and talked with them several minutes.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

RHODE ISLAND REPUBLICAN.

The Big Democratic Registration Overcome by Stay-at-Home Voters.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 7.—D. Russell Brown, Republican candidate for Governor, has a plurality, and the next Legislature will be Republican.

The vote was as follows: Brown (Rep.), 28,187; Wardwell (Dem.), 22,072; Gilbert (Pro.), 1,411; Burton (People's), 176; Brown's plurality, 1,115.

It requires fifty-four members of the Legislature to elect a joint ballot, and the Republicans have at present fifty-one, with every probability of having elected six more.

The city of Providence went Democratic by about 400 majority. Pawtucket was carried by the Democrats by about 100, and Woonsocket by a little less.

The vote polled was the largest in the State. The town of Lincoln elected six Republican Assemblymen, thus insuring the Republicans at least fifty-seven votes on joint ballot and giving them control.

The Republican State ticket will be chosen by the Legislature, and Nelson W. Aldrich will be returned to the United States Senate.

The Democrats made Legislative gains in several towns, but the result is a surprise to the Democrats.

The ordinary stay-at-home voters came out and overcame the heavy Democratic registration.

A SENSATION NIPPED.

Happy Termination of a Breach of Promise Suit.

KINGSTON, N. Y., April 7.—Miss Eliza Wager, of High Falls, this county, and W. Irving Bray, the principal of the Montrose, Westchester County, high school, have become man and wife, and thus a sensational action for breach of promise has been nipped at the outset.

Miss Wager, who is the daughter of a well-to-do and prominent farmer residing about fifteen miles from this city, retained as counsel Judge A. T. Clearwater, and commenced an action for $25,000 damages.

The judge has been absent from his home since Monday, and on his return was agreeably surprised to find a letter awaiting him from Miss Wager, in which she says that on Saturday evening last Principal Bray, her affianced, and she made up their differences and were happily wedded. The letter stated that they both united in extending the judge sincere thanks for having thus brought them together.

Judge Clearwater says he prefers the happy termination of the action to the recovery of any amount of damages.

SHALL THE FAIR CLOSE SUNDAY.

Arguments by Col. Shepard and Rev. Dr. Knowles of New York.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The House Committee on the World's Fair heard arguments relative to closing the Exposition on Sunday.

Col. Elliott F. Shepard of New York spoke in support of the various petitions for closing on Sunday and requested the committee to shape its legislation relative to the Exposition so that the doors of the Fair should be closed on Sabbath. Dr. Shepard's time expired before he had finished his remarks and he concluded with a request for a future hearing.

Dr. Knowles of New York, a member of the American Sabbath Union followed Mr. Shepard in support of the proposition to close the fair on Sunday. He had received, he said, petitions memorializing closing the fair on Sunday. These contained about 2,000,000 names. Their object, said Dr. Knowles, was to preserve the Sabbath as a day of rest. The State of New York, he said, in making an appropriation for an exhibit at the exposition had attached to it a provision requiring the exhibit to be closed on Sunday.

Mr. Caruth of Kentucky, a member of the Committee, asked if New York was the only State which had made a provision of this kind. Dr. Knowles replied that he understood that it was, but he understood New Jersey, Massachusetts, Kentucky and other States were going to fall into line. The Association he represented desired Congress to attach such a provision to any appropriation they might make, for the fair.

An Attempt to Kill a Bishop.

MADRID, April 7.—Two bombs were exploded in Cordova. One burst near the bishop's palace and the other at the famous stone bridge. No one was injured. The whole city was shaken as if by an earthquake. People ran from their homes half a mile from the scenes of the explosions, and in the near-by districts the streets are crowded with those who fear to retire for the night. Windows were shattered for several hundred yards from the spot where the bomb, evidently intended for the bishop, was placed. No arrests have been made.

A Modus Vivendi Agreed Upon.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Secretary Blaine and Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Minister, called at the White House yesterday morning and had an interview of half an hour with President Harrison upon the Behring Sea matter. It is understood that the interview was a perfectly satisfactory, and resulted in an agreement for a renewal of the modus vivendi over Behring Sea, which, with the exception of a few preliminaries, is completed.

Mrs. Ingram Married.

LONDON, April 7.—Sir Edward William Watkin, Bart., and M. P. for Hythe, East Kent, was married yesterday to Mrs. Ingram, widow of the founder of the "London Illustrated News." Sir Edward is about 73 years old, and Mrs. Ingram, now Lady Watkin, is about ten years older.

A recent invention is a rubber tube slip to put on umbrellas to catch the drainings when it is wet.

Refuses to Accept His Release.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 7.—Third Base man Arthur Whitney has caused no end of a sensation by refusing to accept his release from the local club and intimating he would stay and report all season and bring suit for his salary. Whitney signed a regular National League contract containing a 10-day clause, and the directors, when notified of his stand, hardly knew what to make of it, unless Whitney had some private agreement with ex-Manager McGinnis, of which they knew nothing.

Women Charged With Incendiarism.

Boston, Mass., April 7.—Catharine McLean and Margaret Shannon, two unmarried women, are held under $2,000 bail charged with setting fire to the building at 40 Kneeland street last Friday. The women kept a tailor shop on the ground floor and occupied a room in the rear as a sleeping apartment. It is claimed that kerosene had been sprinkled about the rooms, and then set on fire.

Eight People Burned to Death.

FORT MADISON, Iowa, April 7.—Shortly before midnight the two-story frame building of S. V. Kitchen, was discovered to be on fire and it, with the dwelling of John Knuck, was entirely consumed. S. V. Kitchen, his wife, three children, his wife's sister, Miss Sidney Day, and August Knemeyer, a boarder, were burned to death. Sam Kitchen and Henry Knemeyer were badly burned.

Fire Bugs Make Threats.

BATH, Me., April 7.—Incendiarist fiends have been at work in this place for some time past. It is said that members of the city government and a number of prominent citizens have received anonymous letters stating that unless the present police force was removed the city would be laid in ashes. A reward of $1,000 has been offered for the detection of the fire bugs.

An ex-Lord Mayor Held for Trial.

LONDON, April 7.—Sir Henry Isaacs, formerly Lord Mayor of London, Horatio Bottomley, Joseph Isaacs and Charles Dollman, have been committed for trial on the charge of having conspired to defraud the Hansard Publishing Company, limited, of upwards of 80,000 pounds.

The Bimetallist League.

LONDON, April 7.—The bankers of this city have decided almost unanimously to form a City Committee of the Bimetallist League for the purpose of urging upon the government the need of co-operation with other nations in the unrestricted coinage of gold and silver.

John Russell Young Appointed.

PHILADELPHIA, April 7.—John Russell Young, the ex-Minister to China, has been appointed fourth vice-president of the consolidated roads of the Philadelphia & Reading system.

Struck by a Cyclone.

OCEAN, N. Y., April 7.—One woman was killed and a number of persons injured in a church here which was struck by a cyclone. Ten houses were wrecked.

Would you rather buy lamp chimneys, one a week the year round, or one that lasts till some accident breaks it?

Common glass may break or not the minute you light your lamp; if not, the first draft may break it; if not, it may break from a mere whim.

Tough glass chimneys, Macbeth's "Pearl-top" or "Pearl-glass," almost never break from heat, not one in a hundred.

Where can you get it? and what does it cost?

Your dealer knows where and how much. It costs more than common glass; and may be, he thinks tough glass isn't good for his business.

Pittsburgh, Pa., GEO. A. MACBETH CO.

How much are you doing to promote the prosperity of this town?

Height of Cruelty.

Nervous women seldom receive the sympathy they deserve. What a poor creature of health, they are constantly afflicted. To withhold sympathy from these unfortunate is not only unchristian, but unkind. They suffer from heart, causing shortness of breath, fluttering, pain in side, weak and hungry spells, and finally sweating of neck, depression, dizziness, and general prostration. Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is just the thing for them. For the many cases, headache, weakness, etc., his best advice, Nov. 10 is inquired. Fine treatise on "Heart and Nervous Disease" and marvelous testimonials free. Sold and guaranteed by C. H. H. Jenckel.

Money is said to be plenty in the banks on good security this spring.

A Mystery Explained.

The papers contain frequent notices of rich, pretty and educated girls sloping with nervous tremor and excitement. The wealthiest specialist, Dr. Franklin Miles, says all such girls are more or less hysterical, nervous, very irritable, unbalanced, usually subject to nervous prostration, hysterical, spasmodic, hysterical or laughing. These show a weak nervous system for which there is no remedy equal to his creative Nervous. Trial bottles and a free book, containing many marvelous cures, (see a D. H. Hagenbach's drug store, who also sell, and guarantee Dr. Miles' celebrated New Heart Cure, the finest of heart tonics. Cures Hysterical, short breath, etc.

DR. WEBSTER'S END

He is Found Dead With His Neck Broken.

DID HE JUMP FROM A WINDOW?

He Was a Prominent Methodist Minister and Was Married Two Weeks Ago.

Registered Under an Assumed Name in a Hotel in Charleston, W. Va.—It is Believed That He Was Taken Ill and Sat in a Window to Get Fresh Air—A Message Found in His Room.

BALTIMORE, April 7.—The Rev. Dr. J. J. G. Webster, the prominent Methodist minister who disappeared on Monday night, leaving his bride of two weeks at her mother's house, was found dead in Charleston, W. Va. The news came to the wife in the form of a dispatch from Justice Hall of Charleston.

The clergyman had no relatives or friends in Charleston and was entirely unknown there. It is believed that he went from Camden station, where he was seen by one of his parishioners, to Washington, and there bought a ticket to Charleston on the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad. When he reached Charleston Tuesday afternoon he went to the Hotel Ruffner and was assigned to a room on the third floor. Yesterday morning he was found dead on the sidewalk underneath the window of his room.

There is no doubt that Dr. Webster was insane. The remarkable feature of the case is that he had given no indications of coming aberration. He was quite ill just before his marriage, and the labors incident to the preparations for the conference which was held at his church increased his burdens. He was a hard worker, but was not strong. Dr. W. Marshall Smith, his son-in-law, with whom he had been living, said he had noticed in him no indication of mental depression up to the time when he bade his wife good-by on her mother's steps and asked her to wait for him until his return from the quarterly conference, which he was expected to open.

Dr. Webster was one of the most gifted and most popular clergymen in the city. He was 49 years old, and he had had charge of the largest Methodist churches in the city. His recent appointment as presiding elder gave general satisfaction.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 6.—The Rev. J. J. G. Webster, of Baltimore, arrived here from the East yesterday afternoon and was quartered at the Hotel Ruffner as "J. J. Washington, Washington, D. C."

He was assigned to a room on the third floor, to which he went at once. About 7 p. m. he called for a cup of hot coffee, which was taken to him. He asked the bell boy to light the gas and shut the window-blinds. When he had finished his coffee he had the boy turn out the light, open the blinds and put up a window. At 5:30 this morning he was found dead on the pavement, thirty-five feet below the window. His neck, the back of his head, one arm and several ribs were broken.

In his room was found a scrap of paper, on which the following message was written:

Ruin and gone forever. Stay at home. J. J. G. W.

It is believed here that Dr. Webster was taken ill and rose from the bed and sat in the window to get fresh air.

Why he registered under an assumed name is a mystery. There were no papers or anything to indicate that he had been in any trouble.

Newark M. E. Conference Adjourns.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., April 7.—The Newark M. E. Conference adjourned at noon after a week of zealous labor. The special feature of the last session was the vote of 110 to 37 against the presentation of a memorial to admit women delegates to the General Conference at Omaha. The committee on public morals read a report in which the last New Jersey Legislature was arraigned for its method of procedure, and it was declared that the moral conditions established by it were disgraceful.

Loyal Legion Banquet.

NEW YORK, April 7.—New York Commandery of the Loyal Legion held its monthly dinner at Delmonico's last night. The occasion was of special interest because of the presence of Senator John Sherman, who read a paper on the life of his illustrious brother, the late General W. T. Sherman. Among other present were Generals Swayne, Howard, Porter, Greene, Woodward and Rear Admiral Braine.

Mrs. Montagu Begins Her Sentence.

DUBLIN, April 7.—Mrs. Annie Margaret Montagu, who, on Monday, was sentenced at the Assizes here to one year's imprisonment at hard labor for killing her young daughter Helen, is resigned to her punishment. She adopted the dress and diet of a convict without a murmur.

Another Typhus Case in New York.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The health authorities have discovered another case of typhus fever. The victim was a Russian Hebrew, 31 years old, of 240 Cherry street. Twenty families live in the tenement and much apprehension is felt for their safety from the disease.

New York Fair Bill Signed.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 7.—The World's Fair bill has been signed by the Governor. He filed a memorandum with it endorsing its provisions and saying that it is sufficient money for all purposes. The bill appropriates $300,000.

A Hospital Burned.

MISSOULA, Mont., April 7.—The Northern Pacific Hospital, a building costing about $90,000, was discovered to be on fire shortly before midnight. The patients probably all escaped, but the building is a total loss.

Four Negroes Lynched.

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 7.—News has reached here that Patrick Kelly, aged 53, a peddler, was killed on Sunday last on Little River, near Fishkill, by a gang of eight negroes. Four of them were caught and hanged.

Merchants Petition the Court.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 7.—In Nicholas the merchants have petitioned the Government to allow them to export grain. They say they have 4,000,000 pounds in stock and cannot find buyers.
