A Surgean Who Conducted the Pest Mortem Examinations at Rainbill Adds Strength to the Theory-He Says it Was the Work of an Expert-A Letter From Melbourne Seows that Deeming Was Skilled in the Use of Medicine.

London, April 8 .- The evidence point ing to the identity of Deeming with Jack the Ripper is growing stronger Deeming's appearance is found to here. tally almost exactly with the authentic description of the Ripper recorded at Scotland Yard.

This description was given by a man who left the Duke Street Club House on the night of September 30, 1888, shortly before the murder of Mrs. Eddowes, the Ripper's sixth victim.

Shortly before reaching Mitre square he noticed a man and woman in the Mitre passage. The woman was Mrs. Eddowes. The man was about 35 years oid, square shouldered and had a heavy moustache. It is certain, moreover, that Deeming was in London at the

The only statement to the contrary is The only statement to the contrary is made by Detective Brandt, who says that to the best of his recollection, Deeming was then in the Transvaal. This statement, however, is discredited by reports from the Cape.

surgeons who conducted the post mor-tem examinations at Bainhill, in an in-terview, sids strength to the Jack the Ripper theory.

He says that the work was that of an expert; in only one case was the stroke which caused death more than sufficient for the purpose. It severed the vital organ and no more, and might have been accomplished by a surgeon or a butcher who knew his business well.

The last letter sent by Deeming's Melbourne victim to her mother showed that Deeming was skilled in the use of medicine, and it is believed by many that if occasion arose he would have shown that he was equally skilled in the use of surgical instruments.

Every day evidence comes to light to show the character of Deeming, and it is a matter of surprise, cunning though he was, that he should have pursued his

A man who worked with Deeming ten years ago stated that he was then known. among his fellow workers as a vindictive and treacherous character, and that he went by the nickname of "The Demon." At the inquest Thursday the name of the wife of the murderer, whose body, together with those of her four children, was found under the floor at Dinham Wills, at Rainhill, near Liverpool, was mentioned at the hearing for the first time, and was identified by witnesses by means of a photograph.

END ARRESTED

The Lawrence, Mass., Wife Murderer Tells Different Stories.

LAWRENCE, Mass., April 8 .- Peter Eno. the wife murderer for whom the police have vainly searched since Tuesday night, the eve of his crime, has been captured. The arrest was made under strange cir cumstances.

Eno, it appears, has been wandering simlessly about town since the commission of the murder, and he presented himself at the police station as a vagrant, giving the name of Charles Little.

In appearance he has greatly changed since last Tuesday, having grown emaciated, seedy and dusty, and it is ne great wonder that under these circumstances the police in the station failed to recognize the man they were so actively engaged in searching for.

Yesterday, however, when seen by the light of day, he pas recognized as he was above to leave the station and locked up. When the arrest was made he confessed his identify, and said: "I killed the woman and I should do it again. I am the man you want, look me up."

A little later he told a different story. He said that he met the woman Tuesday evening and she attempted to shoot him with a pistol she had. He wrested the weapon from her, and during the struggle it exploded and she was shot.

He says that he never married his victim and that she knew he had a wife before they began living together.
