ONE CENT.

THE EVENING HERALD.

ALL THE NEWS FOR ONE CENT.

Has a larger circulation in Shenandoah than any other paper published. Circulation books open to all.

Who offered you that block of stock, Mr. Lamb?

There are many people anxious that the HERALD shall state the facts that lead it to complain of the Borough Council. If these people will be patient they will have all the HERALD has found out within a short time. We start the ball rolling to day by calling the Council's attention to the ordinance relating to night police.

That latest fake story about the quarrel between President Harrison and Senator Quay was not so greedily swallowed as was intended. In every instance where there is an important primary election in this state and where it is intended to hurt the Senator, a story of this kind is foisted upon the public. In each instance it has proved a boomerang.

Grand Opening of Fine Dress Goods and Cloaks! AT WILKINSON'S.

We are ready in our new location to show our patrons the finest and largest selection of new Dress Goods and Ladies' and Misses' Cloaks ever offered in this county. The additional space of our large second floor permits a more extensive display of our immense stock, and we especially invite the ladies to call during this and next week, without feeling under the slightest obligation to buy.

We mention as special bargains—fifty pieces of 38 inch Serges at 10c, worth 15c; one case of yard wide Cashmeres at 15c; Bedford cords worth 50c, will be sold at 40c; fifty pieces of Henrietta at 85c, worth 95c; Black and Colored Dress Silks 25 inch wide at 40c per yard, worth 45c; Satens in plain colors and English Brocades from 12 1/2 to 15 1/2; Silk warp Floris and Landisettes in all the new and popular shades.

On the second floor we show a grand assortment of Ladies' Caps, Reefers and Blazers, all latest makes and newest colors.

We also display a large stock of fine Lace Window Curtains—more styles than usual at less than usual prices. Our stock of White Goods, Embroideries, Laces, Gloves, Hosiery and Corsets is the largest to be found anywhere and prices are always lower than you expect to pay.

L. J. WILKINSON,
29 S. Main St., Shenandoah.

If Mr. Lamb will tell the truth he will say that he did not pay the HERALD a cent for the communication published for him before the late spring election; that he never offered to pay for it; and no bill for it was presented to him. He left the people at the meeting Friday night under the impression that he paid for it and the HERALD will not give him a chance to vindicate himself without pay. Let him tell the truth.

ENFORCE THEM ALL.

A Reasonable Request of the Borough Council and Solicitor.
Now that "De Aie" and their counsel are turning their energies to the enforcement of ordinances to the very word let them take up section 1 of the night police section of ordinance xvi, which reads as follows: Section 1. To obtain a place on the night police the following qualifications are indispensable: Physical health and vigor, unimpaired sight and hearing, age between twenty-five and fifty-five, ability to read and write, unblemished character and habitual sobriety.

New Council.
Through the efforts of William H. Detroy and several members of the Council of this town, an application has been made, with thirty-eight signers, for the institution of a new Council of the J. O. U. A. M., to be located at Frackville. A preliminary meeting was held yesterday at which officers were elected. This application contains the names of some of the leading men of the above town. The institution will take place on the evening of Friday, April 29th.

Pure and Wholesome Quality.
Commends to public approval the California liquid laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs. It is pleasant to the taste and by acting gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels to cleanse the system effectually, it promotes the health and comfort of all who use it, and with millions it is the best and only remedy.

Mr. Holderman to Sue.
C. F. Holderman, the North Main street jeweler, has instructed his attorney to begin suit against James J. Franey for slander. It is alleged that while in the Ferguson House, Friday night, after the mass meeting, Franey became excited while discussing the electric railway question and called Mr. Holderman a vile name. Mr. Holderman says he will push his suit to a verdict, as Franey is too frequently reckless in the use of language.

AT KEITER'S

THE FIRST PAY DAY AFTER LENT.

OBSERVATIONS MADE BY THE REPORTERS.

MAIN STREET A BUSY AVENUE

The Closing of Lent Falling on Pay Day Brings up Some Old Time Scenes. How Turkey Run Poles Celebrated. Easter—A Cruel Husband.

PAY DAY, when the Lenten season is not at hand, always makes Shenandoah lively and Saturday was no exception to the rule. Pay day and the close of Lent combined made the town exceedingly lively. Main street was crowded from sunset until midnight and looked very much like Eighth street, Philadelphia. The electric cars, brilliantly lighted and crowded, kept arriving and departing at regular intervals during the whole evening and proved conclusively that the electric road is a valuable acquisition. Many of the passengers were people from Wm. Penn, Lost Creek and other points in the valley who had not visited town for several weeks, but who have now concluded to make their visits more frequent, as they can leave their homes at any hour they choose and can remain in town until midnight, if their business require it, and the electric cars have done away with long walks to and from railway stations.

For about five minutes at about half past seven o'clock Saturday night there was a brilliant panoramic scene on Main street. As two brilliantly lighted electric cars drew up to the corner of Centre street and the people flocked off and upon their platforms, the National Guard of Warsaw, 150 strong, marching two abreast, with the blades of their sabres glinting in the rays of the electric lights, passed up Main street followed by an immense throng on their way to church to stand guard over the Savior's tomb. Next came the Salvation Army, with drums and hymns. A few minutes later a fakir held forth at the corner of Main and Lloyd streets, while the Salvation Army conducted services on an opposite corner. The army disposed of the War Cry and the fakir kept abreast in the disposal of his wares.

A glimpse into the stores and saloons on Main street, from Centre to Coal streets was a sight that told a story of brisk business, but south of Centre street the scene was quite different. The merchants in the latter section seemed busy, but they were distracted by the business people of the upper section.

Steel Roofing the Best.
Steel roofing is steadily forcing itself before the people as the best, cheapest and most durable kind of roofing that can be placed on buildings and the demand for it is increasing daily. It can be put on quick and without tearing off the old roofing, or otherwise inconveniencing the occupants. Hazleton now has over 300,000 feet of it. P. B. Cummings is the town agent for the roofing. 4-13-eod-3w

A Lively Easter.
Some Police reading at Turkey Run celebrated Easter by getting gloriously full and last night a general fight took place. Two specials brought two of the men to town and put them in the lockup. One of them was released this morning upon paying the borough fine. The other, who was severely out about the hands, is still locked up and is being attended by a physician.

He is Jailed.
A man named George Parker, who deserted his wife several days ago, returned to town Saturday and smashed all the furniture of the household, together with the kitchen stove. He was arrested by Chief of Police Davis and Chief Burgess Smith, and is now in the Pottsville jail. Parker's wife has six children to care for and to-day the Chief Burgess was trying to raise funds to give her another stove.

Another Project.
The HERALD is informed by a thoroughly reliable party that a new project is on foot to materially enhance the borough's interests. As soon as the preliminaries are arranged they will be made public. This much can be said: the electric road will be extended to an entirely new section and the erection of a factory with several residences for the employees will soon follow.

Will Live in Girardville.
It is said that the electric street railway company intends erecting a number of houses in town for the employes of the road. Many of the officials have decided to live here, the first to do so being Judge Sacler's brother, who has rented Mr. Barker's house formerly occupied by Dr. Bronson.—Girardville Gazette.

OBITUARY.

Death of Druggist C. J. McCarthy From Consumption.

Cornelius J. McCarthy, the druggist, died at his residence on East Oak street, Saturday evening. His death was caused by consumption, which followed an attack of the grippe about two years ago. He had been confined to his bed since January last and his death was not unexpected. Mr. McCarthy was very popular both in business and social circles and his death has cast a gloom over the many who shared his acquaintance. Mr. McCarthy would have attained his 29th year had he lived until next July. He was born in New Castle, this county, and lived with his parents, ex-Prothonotary McCarly and Johanna McCarthy, in St. Clair for many years. As a student at the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy he graduated with the class of 1886, and in the same year he came to town and purchased the drug business then conducted by S. G. M. Hollister, Esq. In September, 1888, Mr. McCarthy married Miss Mary B. Mullen, daughter of John Mullen, of Shamokin, and made his home in the house where he died Saturday evening. The wife and a daughter, two and a half years old survive the deceased. The funeral will take place to-morrow morning. High Mass will be celebrated in the Annunciation church at 8:30 o'clock and at 10:15 the funeral will proceed to Shamokin via the Lehigh Valley Railroad. The remains will be interred in St. Edward's cemetery, Shamokin.

JACOB GLOVER.
Jacob Glover, a former resident of this town, died at Dudley, N. J., last evening, in his 70th year. Mr. Glover came to Shenandoah in 1890. He located and sunk the old shaft of the Kohinor colliery and remained in charge of the mine, as a member of the firm of Hecksher & Co., until it was sold to the P. & R. C. & I. Co. After this sale Mr. Glover moved to Washington, D. C., and subsequently to Dudley, N. J. Mr. Glover was born in Scotland and married in Nova Scotia. He is survived by his wife and four sons and three daughters. The sons are Andrew, of New York; George, Michigan; James, Iowa; John R., Wm Penn. The daughters are Mrs. O. A. Keim, of town; and Mary and Rebekah, of Dudley, N. J. The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon, at Dudley.

DEATH OF MRS. BICKERT.
Mrs. Margaret Bickert died at her home on South Jardin street last evening. The deceased was 61 years of age and was the mother of John Bickert, of Shamokin; Joseph Bickert, of Mahanoy City, and Frank Bickert, a resident of Ohio. The funeral arrangements have not been made.

Delicate Operation.
Dr. J. C. Biddle successfully performed two very delicate operations at the Miners' Hospital on Tuesday afternoon last. William Palvenius, injured at the Trenton colliery by a premature blast two months ago, had his left eye so badly torn that sympathetic inflammation endangered the right eye. The doctor very neatly removed the injured eye. Andrew Wilkoff, burned at Packer No. 2 in 1890, and said to be the worst burned man ever received at the hospital, was disfigured by the drawing down of his lower eye lids during the healing process. This operation necessitated skin grafting to furnish new eye lids and good results are promised.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.
From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all, eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at C. H. Hagenbuch's drug store, regular size, 50c. and $1.00.

Mahanoy City "On to Them."
The citizens of Shenandoah held a mass meeting last evening to protest against the interference of Council with the completion of the electric railroad. Shenandoah has been considerably worked up over the action of Council in a number of matters this spring. Lamb and his gang are making it hot for the old timers as well as the advocates of progress. Finney, Boyer, etc., are receiving a large share of their attention.—Mahanoy City Tribune.

The Board of Health.
The HERALD's suggestion that a Board of Health be organized has been very favorably commented upon by many of the leading physicians and citizens. They argue that a general cleaning up will be the most substantial bar to the germs of disease. Council should act at its next meeting. It is better to spend a few hundred dollars in prevention than thousands in trying to stamp out a disease.

EASTER SERVICES IN TOWN YESTERDAY.

CEREMONIES IN SOME OF THE CHURCHES.

POWICK'S EASTERTIDE SERMON

Holy Communion Celebrated in the Trinity Reformed Church Yesterday. Morning and Evening. Over Two Hundred Members Communing.

THE communion services in Trinity Reformed church yesterday were very largely attended. The services in the morning were conducted by the pastor in the German language. At this service the older members of the congregation communed. The same services in the evening were conducted in English. The church was filled long before the services commenced and many people were unable to procure seats. The class of catechumens, to whom the communion was to be administered for the first time, marched into the church in a body and occupied the pews reserved for them. Forty-seven new members were enrolled as communicant members of the church. The sermon was delivered by Rev. Robert O'Boyle, the pastor, and was based upon the salutation of the Savior to the women, "All Hail!" After the sermon the members stepped forward and surrounded the holy altar to partake of sacred elements. Over two hundred members communed. The services throughout were solemnly and impressively conducted by the pastor. After a few parting words of admonition and encouragement, the congregation was dismissed with the benediction. An informal but hearty reception was given the new members after the conclusion of the services. The decorations of the altar and pulpit deserve special mention. They were the work of ladies of the congregation. Many beautiful lilies and other flowers added greatly to the beauty of the church.

IN THE METHODIST CHURCH.

An Interesting Sermon on Eastertide by the Pastor.

The Methodist Episcopal church was beautifully decorated with flowers on Sunday, and the services were especially appropriate to Eastertide. The morning text was from John II, 25-26: "I am the resurrection and the life, he that believeth in me though he were dead yet shall he live; and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believeth thou this?" Attention was directed to some of the revealed certainties concerning our future life. One of these is that Jesus is the source of our immortality. The natural immortality which was man's in virtue of his creation in the image of God, but was forfeited by the fall of the first Adam, becomes his by second nature in view of his redemption by the second Adam: "For as by the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation, even so by the righteousness of one the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life"—that is, the free gift of pardon, which also restored the life forfeited in Eden, came upon all men—unconditionally and universally. This life contains the prophecy and potency of life eternal upon condition of believing in Jesus. "And this is life eternal, that they might know Thee the only true God and Jesus Christ whom Thou hast sent." Hence He is our life in virtue of His death and our resurrection in virtue of His own. Another certainty is that there is a distinction between soul and body—else the text is nonsense. "Though he were dead—shall never die." So with other passages: "Fear not them that kill the body but are not able to kill the soul. Though our outward man perish yet the inward man is renewed day by day." The text teaches therefore that though the outward man die yet shall he live but that the inward man shall never die. This agrees with other scriptures which declare that "he that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life"—whatever this may mean he has it now. Nor is it inconsistent with the passage that bids us seek for immortality; for the meaning of the word is not immortality in the sense of continued existence, but incorruptibility. Continued existence is assumed and the thought is directed to its quality. It is only the body that must put on immortality—the soul is already immortal else it could not be desirable. Another truth revealed to us is that the pious dead are in a state of blissful felicity. "Blessed"—the word means happy—"Happy are the dead which die in the Lord." To the saint of God the pains of death are but the birth throes of the soul into a larger and diviner sphere of life. Paul had visited Paradise and he came back to tell us that if the earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved he had a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. Another certainty is that even our dust is precious in God's sight and that the part of man that dies shall live again—not until then will the victory be complete—when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written "death is swallowed up in victory"—then the victor shall receive his crown and Electric Running Time.

The electric cars now leave the corner of Main and Centre streets at 5 a. m. and leave at intervals of 45 minutes thereafter until 11 p. m. This schedule will be subject to a change from day to day, as the work of putting in the turnouts progresses. The miners will find the early morning cars convenient.
